(i) The Commission shall have jurisdiction over the holders of voting capital stock of all public utility companies under the jurisdiction of the Commission to such extent as may be necessary to enable the Commission to require the disclosure of the identity and respective interests of every owner of any substantial interest in such voting stocks One per centum or more is a substantial interest within the meaning of this sub-division

(j) The Commission shall have jurisdiction over affiliated interests having transactions other than ownership of stock and receipt of dividends thereon with public service companies under the jurisdiction of the Commission to the extent of access to all accounts and records of such affiliated interests relating to such transactions including access to accounts and records of joint or general expenses any portion of which may be applicable to such transactions and shall have authority to require such reports to be submitted to the Commission by such affiliated interestes as the Commission may prescribe For the purposes of this section only "affiliated interests" include the following

1 Every corporation and person owning or holding directly or indirectly ten per centum or more of the voting capital stock of any such public service company

2 Every corporation and person in any chain of successive ownership of ten per centum or more of such voting capital stock

3 Every corporation ten per centum or more of whose voting capital stock is owned by any person or corporation owning ten per centum or more of the voting capital stock of such public service company or is owned by any person or corporation in any such chain of successive ownership of ten per centum or more of such voting capital stock

4 Every person who is an officer or director of such public service company or of any corporation in any chain of successive ownership of ten per centum or more of such voting capital stock

5 Every corporation which has one or more officers or one or more directors in common with such public service corporation

6 Every corporation or person which the Commission may determine as a matter of fact after investigation and hearing is actually exercising any substantial influence over the policies and actions of such public service company even though such influence is not based upon stockholding stockholders directors or officers to the extent specified in this sub-section (j)

7 Every person or corporation who or which the Commission may determine as a matter of fact after investigation and hearing is actually exercising such substantial influence over the policies and actions of such public service company in conjunction with one or more other corporation and/or persons with which or whom they are related by stock ownership and/or blood relationship or by action in concert that together they are affiliated with such public service company within the meaning of this section even though no one of them alone is so affiliated

Provided however That no such person or corporation shall be considered as affiliated within the meaning of this section if such person or corporation is otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission or such person or corporation shall not have had transactions or dealings other than the holding of stock and the receipt of dividends thereon with such public service company during the two-year period next preceeding

(k) No management construction engineering or similar contract hereafter made with any affiliated interest as hereinbefore defined shall be effective unless it shall first have been filed with the Commission If it be found that any such contract is not in the public interest or reasonably prudent as to terms and cost the Commission after investigattion and hearing is hereby empowered to disapprove such contract Contracts thus disapproved shall be void and it shall be unlawful for any public service company subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission and involved in such disapproved contract to proceed with the execution of the contract

Section 5 Upon the approval of the Commission evidenced by its Certificate of Public Convenience first had and obtained and not otherwise it shall be lawful

(a) For any municipality or public service company to extend its public service of any kind whatever into or sell its product used for public service in or for such territory adjacent to the municipality or to the area covered by the franchise of the public service company as may be definitely provided in said certificate of public convenience

(b) For any railroad corporation or street railway corporation to construct its tracks or other facilities across the tracks or other facilities of any other railroad corporation or street railway corporation or across any public highway at grade or above or below or for any public highway to be constructed across the tracks or other facilities of any railroad corporation or street railway corporation at grade or above or below grade or for any public service company to construct any of its facilities across the facilities of any other public service company at the same or different levels And it shall be lawful upon like approval first had and obtainde and not otherwise for any public service company to alter relocate remove or abolish any such crossing Provided however That in all cases in which the tracks or other facilities of a railroad corporation or street railway corporation cross the tracks or other facilities of another railroad corporation or street railway corporation or a public highway at grade and such crossing [is at the time this Act becomes effective] was on January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen in process of abolition under and in accordance with an agreement or contract entered into with any municipality providing for such abolition it shall be lawful to proceed with the consummation of such abolition as provided in such agreement or contract without the aforesaid approval of the Commission first being obtained

Section 7 It shall be unlawful for any public service company after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and fourteen to render or furnish or to offer to render or furnish within this Commonwealth any service of the kind or character rendered or furnished by it until it shall have filed and posted its tariffs and schedules in accordance with the provisions of subsection (d) of section one of article two hereof nor until its tariffs and schedules shall have been approved by the Commission

Section 8 It shall be unlawful for any public serivec company

(a) To charge demand collect or receive directly or indirectly by any special rate rebate drawback abatement or other device whatsoever from any person or corporation for any service rendered or to be rendered a greater or less compensation or sum than it shall demand charge collect or receive from any other person or corporation for a like and contemporaneous service under substantially similar circumstances and conditions

Provided however That where as the result of a bona fide mistake or error of a common carrier the full tariff charges are not collected in the first instance and the balance is subsequently found to be due and outstanding the collection of such balance may be waived by the carrier [provided the mater is submitted to the Commission and its approval of such waiver is first had and obtained]

(b) To make or give away any undue unreasonable preference or advantage in favor of or to any person or corporation or any locality or any particular kind or description of traffic or service in any respect whatsoever or to subject any particular person or corporation or locality or any particular kind or description of traffic or service to any undue or unreasonable perjudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever

(c) To make tariff charges or rates for those upon whose application extensions of service beyond the theretofore established facilities of any public service company have been made which are not based only on the actual legitimate and prudent cost of such extensions of facilities and actual increased cost of operation due to the extended service or to refuse to make extensions of service within areas covered by the franchise rights of the public service company if and when applying consumers will agree to pay charges minimum charges and rates thus determined

(d) To make any tariff schedules or rate structures including fixed charges of all kinds and spreads of charges more complicated than necessary to obtain without discrimination when the fair rate is to be computed on the basis of prudent investment of a fair return to the public service company on its actual legitimate capital investment as affected by depreciation and other allowable reserve or to obtain when the fair rate is to be computed on present fair value of the property and facilities of the public service company a fair return on said present fair value and further to make any greater spread of charges between the individuals served in any one class of service or between the individuals served in different classes of service than is reasonably represented by differences in cost of the service involved it being the intent of this subsection to require that the fair return to the public service company shall be obtained without discrimination not only between individuals deemed to be in the same class but also between different classes of the same kind of service

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page 25, line 6, by striking out the words "nor until its tariffs and"

Amend section 4, page 25, line 7, by striking out the words "schedules shall have been approved by the Commission" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Provided however that unless written protests be filed to such tariffs and schedules within a period of thirty days from the filing and posting thereof such tariffs and schedules shall at the end of such thirty day period forthwith become effectice without further approval by the Commission Should written protest as to such tariffs and schedules be filed with the Commission within thirty days from the filing and posting thereof the Commission shall hold public hearing thereon and shall make written determination therein within a period of one hundred twenty days from the filing of such said protest with the Commission"

The intent and purpose of this amendment is to amplify the section of House Bill No. 1632 in order to make the necessary distinction between proper and improper tariffs and schedules.

We feel that any tariff or schedule properly posted and filed, and against which no protest has been filed within thirty days, should be considered proper, fair and just, and should become effective forthwith. That in the event there is complaint as to such tariff or schedule, such complaint should be evidenced by a protest filed thereto within thirty days, and that in such event the decision of the Board should not be delayed more than one hundred twenty days from the date of such protest. We consider that the business of public service companies, the income derived from its tariffs and schedules should not be unreasonably delayed nor the harmful effect of such delay imposed upon the securities affected thereby and held by the public.

And this we seek to do by this amendment, not limiting the power of the commission as to their regulation of tariffs and schedules, but providing a practical working method for the enforcement of such a right.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this amendment be laid upon the table.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am rather surprised at the motion that was just made by that fair and very amiable gentleman of the House, Mr. Moore. His sense of fairness in this House has never until this moment been questioned by me, but the situation before the House is now this: here is a bill that was introduced into this House April 13, two weeks ago. It contains 37 pages of printed matter. It is not a bill that is new in form. It is an amendment to the Public Service—

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that it is incumbent on it to state that a motion to lay upon the table is not debatable. The Chair does this for the purpose only of saving time.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my only purpose in addressing the House at this time is to point out that these amendments are made under an honest attempt to point out to this House wherein there are defects in the act, not of strength but of weakness. If the members of this House had listened to the amendments, he would have seen that this amendment was offered not to limit or restrict the fair rate board, but as a matter of fact to increase its power. If any one will take the trouble to look at this section he will see that in the sale of securities the proceeds thereof can only be used for one purpose and that the fair rate board would be hedged in by that one purpose. My amendment, if allowed, will permit the fair rate board to dictate at all times the exact use of every dollar that will come from the sale of securities. I want to impress upon the House that the amendment is made in good faith and will strengthen the bill.

This bill has not had consideration by this House. It could not have had by its very nature. It came out of committee last week. It was amended. It is an amendatory act. I think the members of this House are entitled to know, even though the hour is late, if we are not to recommit these bills for amendment, in committee, that at least they will have an opportunity, honestly and fairly, to consider these amendments on the floor of the House.

Mr. Speaker, may I ask as a question of personal priviledge, that my amendments be again read for the information of the House?

The amendments were again read by the Clerk.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Blumberg and Mr. Witkin.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, before we proceed with the roll call, I have not on my file the bill that is now before us, printer's number 632. My page is 593, the next is 647, and I have looked all over this file and I have not been able to find it. I ask whether the bill is on file?

The SPEAKER. Are there any other members that do not have this bill on file? The printer's number is 632. The bill seems to be on the file of most of the members, and a copy will be furnished to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, may I have an opportunity to read it? It is not here.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO AMEND

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion be amended.

The SPEAKER. There is a motion before the House and the Clerk has been directed to call the roll. There is nothing in order but the calling of the roll.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker. The roll call has not started.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk has been directed to call the roll.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page 13, lines 15 and 16, by striking out the words "actual legitimate capital prudently invested in" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "the value of"

Amend section 4, page 13, line 17, by inserting after the word "involved" and before the word "also" the following: "determined in accord with the provisions of the public service company law and accepted business practices"

Amend section 4, page 15, line 7, by striking out the words "Such acquisi-"

Amend section 4, page 15, lines 8 to 24, all inclusive, by striking out entire said lines.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the amendments be laid on the table.

Mr. LEIDICH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sowers and Mr. Schwartz.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. There is a motion before the House and the calling of the roll is in order.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I arose to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, before the call for the roll. I was up in time.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Hermansen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, having made the motion to table these amendments, does the gentleman know what they are and can he explain them?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes, I know what they are. They are a trick to delay this legislation.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I refuse to be further interrogated.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mrs. KIRKBRIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

Amend Section4, page 16, line 15, by striking out the word "sixty" and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: "thirty".

This amendment is proposed to House Bill No. 1632, and the Section thereof dealing with the time permitted the Commission to disapprove of all or any part of the program for the issuance of securities. Under the wording of the proposed Bill, it is declared lawful for public service companies to do certain things unless the Commission shall have disapproved of all or any part of the program within sixty days after filing of Certificate of Notification. Our amendment seeks to strike out sixty days and place in lieu thereof 30 days. We believe that this proposed change permits the Commission a sufficient length of time to voice their disapproval of any program as to the issuance of securities. We feel that the sixty days as proposed in House Bill No. 1632 is too lengthy a period and the additional thirty days will accomplish or make possible no additional power or authority to the Commission.

For that reason this amendment is submitted so as to make this provision in accordance with the present established practice and law.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the amendments be laid upon the table.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, what on?

Mr. TURNER. I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I will answer an interrogation if I can.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne whether he knows what section four of House Bill No. 1634 is?

Mr. HERMANSEN. If I look at it I do.

Mr. TURNER. The gentleman does not know now.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Just give me five minutes to look it over and I will explain it to you.

On the question recurring,

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that all the amendments to this bill still unread be read at one time and be considered at one time.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. E. P. BROWN offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 4, page 26, lines 15 to 29, all inclusive by striking out the entire said lines.

Amend section 4, page 27, lines 1 to 5, all inclusive, by striking out the entire said lines.

Amend section 4, page 23, line 12, by inserting after the word "commission" and before the word "if" the following: "Upon protest being filed with the Commission as to such contract being opposed to public interest and not reasonably prudent as to the terms and costs thereof the Commission may hold hearing on such protest and"

Amend section 4, page 23, line 15, by striking out the words: "empowered to disapprove"

Amend section 4, page 23, line 16 to 20, all inclusive by striking out entire said lines and by inserting in lieu thereof, the following: "directed to file written determination thereof and in the same proceeding make order therein as to what portion of and in what amount such said contract is opposed to public interest and unreasonable as to the terms and costs thereof and shall order that any amount of said contract in excess as to what is reasonable as to terms and costs thereof shall be included as an item in the making of any valuation on revaluation or as an element in the fixing of any rate of return"

It is not intended by this amendment to deprive nor limit the Commission of any power or right of supervision and regulation over management, construction, engineering or similar contracts. It is intended, however, to re-vamp and re-write the provision of the present House Bill No. 1632 in relation thereto, so as to furnish a practical, common business method of exercising such right and power.

Under the provision of the Bill as it is now worded, no management, construction, engineering or similar contract made with any affiliated interests as defined in the Bill itself shall be effective unless first filed with the Commission. Then "if it be found that any such contract is not in public interest or reasonably prudent as to the terms and cost," the Commission, after hearing and investigation is empowered to disapprove such contract and the contract so disapproved shall be void.

Apparently the intent of this Bill is to grant unto the Commission the right to supervise, regulate and pass upon all such contracts.

The makers of this amendment are in hearty accord with that intent and hold no brief against the granting of such right to the Commission. The amendors seek to make no change as to such right, this amendment being confined only to the manner of exercising such a right.

This amendment seeks to remedy certain evils that will result from adherence to this section under the present wording thereof. It likewise seeks to suggest the manner in which such evils may be avoided, and right so granted, exercised in accordance with accepted business methods.

Except by change of constitution, this Body cannot deprive an individual or corporation of his or its inherent right to make and enter into contracts necessary and incidental to the conduct of its business. It can and does, by this Bill, exercise the right of supervision and regulation over the exercise of such a right, in so far as it is hostile to public interests. But such supervision and regulation must not and dare not be unreasonable, lest it be directly or indirectly a deprivation of private rights of individuals.

We feel that despite the possible intent of the present proposed House Bill No. 1632, to be reasonable, it is and will be an affect most unreasonable and indirectly will deprive all public service companies of their inherent rights to conduct their own business.

First, this act deals with contracts made with affiliated interests. The same Bill interprets affiliated interests to include any individual or corporation having transactions with such a company, who or shall in the opinion of the Board exercise either directly or through another any substantial influence upon the policies or actions of the company. Such interest to be affiliated, need not be based on stock ownership. The Commission, or as called by the Bill "the executive agency" is constituted and empowered to act as the sole judge of who or what is an affiliated interest. No restriction, no guidance, no rule has been set for them to follow. By logical inference, therefore, this Bill in its present form would include every average individual or corporation throughout the state, and perhaps nation, who transacts any business with a public service company. Therefore, with rare exception this section will apply to any and every management, construction, engineering or similar contract into which the company can and will enter.

For, by the very wording of the proposed Bill, the mere entering into of such a contract would make of such other party a suspected affiliated interest in as much as entering into a contract is most certainly having "transactions with."

With such an application, then in mind, this Bill requires such contract to be filed. With this, we are in hearty accord.

But House Bill No. 1632 goes further. It provides "if it be found, etc. after investigation and hearing," then the Commission may disapprove and the contract be void." "After investigation and hearing" means a long period of time. A contract of immediate necessity to the improvement of service or the lowering of costs may be entered into by a public service company, partically enforced, but its approval await many months of investigation and hearing. Possibly the very delay of such investigation and hearing may make performance of that contract of necessity either impossible or impractical. A short time ago, Virgin Islands was offered to the Federal government for five million dollars, but the matter was investigated and delayed, until not so long ago, the United States government bought the same island for twenty-five million dollars. And so it will be as to contracts by public service companies and whether the reasons causing such delay be justified or unjustified, whether the motives back of that delay is just or unjust, is immaterial. The delay will be disasterous despite the justification or motive. And this evil will apply to all such contracts despite their worthiness or merit, for the proposed House Bill provides no method of differentiation between good and bad contracts. Considering the Bill, therefore, all in all, we feel that the result of this section will be to impose upon the executive agency the power and duty of company operation, not supervision. And this, we believe, is not the intent of this Body.

Therefore, we present this amendment to correct those evils. By it, we permit meritorious contracts to be freed of the danger of such delay by requiring that complaint shall be filed thereto. As to contracts found to be opposed to public interest or not reasonably prudent as to terms and costs, we suggest what appears to us as a fair and just method of consideration thereof. Father than demand that the contract so entered into must be held in abeyance for the final disapproval or approval thereof, we suggest that the Board shall determine this matter and make an award as to what portion and amount thereof is in excess of prudent terms and cost. And when such excess is so found that the Board shall surcharge such excess amount to the parties justly liable for the same, namely the investors and owners of such public service company, and this will be obtained by the ultimate reducing of his or their return to such extent.

Mr. ADAMS offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 4, page 17, line 3 by inserting therein after the heading "(c)" the following: "application as hereinafter provided may be made by such public service companies to the Commission for a Certificate of Valuation to the effect that"

Amend section 4, page 17, line 10 by striking out the words: "the Commission"

Amend section 4, page 17, line 11 by striking out the words: "shall if convinced that"

Amend section 4, page 17, line 14 by striking out the words: "issued after"

Amend section 4, page 17, lines 15 and 17, all inclusive, by striking out entire said lines.

Amend section 4, page 17, line 18 by striking out the partial word: "tion"

Amend section 4, page 17, line 27 by inserting after the word "company" the following: "Provided however that the sole purpose and intent of this section is to grant unto any public service company the right to have pre-determined by the Commission the validity and compliance with existing laws of any proposed issue of securities and/or proposed increase of issue of securities and for no other purpose whatever"

Mr. STRICKLER offered an amendment which was read as follows:

Amend section 4, page 14, line 16 by striking out the words: "unlawful" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "lawful"

Mr. EMHARDT offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 4, page 11, line 23, by striking out the words: "absorbed and credited in and"

Amend section 4, page 11, line 24, by striking out the words "toward the payment of any" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "included and embraced in the total".

Amend section 4, page 11, line 25, by striking out the words: "for the period of time for which any such charge".

Amend section 4, page 11, line 26, by striking out the words: "shall be made".

The amendment herewith proposed to House Bill No. 1632 is to amend the sub-section thereof relating to the absorption and credit of fixed charges for service rendered. It is not the purpose of this amendment to limit the power of the Commission over the fixing of ready-to-serve charges, etc., by companies, but rather to clarify and make practical the exercise of this right by the Commission. Under the wording of the present bill, it is impossible to ascertain or determine the meaning or scope of the right or limitation, thereby granted and imposed.

Under the section of House Bill No. 1632, to which this amendment is offered, the company is permitted the right to make advance, minimum, stand-by, ready-to-serve, and other fixed charges. But after granting such right, the sub-sections of the proposed bill then requires such charges to be "absorbed and credited in and toward the payment of any charge for service actually rendered for the period of time for which any such charge shall be made".

Many companies, under the right granted by the present public service company law, are making monthly advanced fixed charges. It is impossible to determine just how such a charge can be absorbed and credited to service actually rendered during the period for which such charge (namely the month) has been made. The intent of this body is to grant the Commission the power of supervision and regulation over the fairness of such fixed charges, and to prescribe the reasonableness of such charge. To this we agree and the intent of this amendment is not to destroy this control, but rather to so change the wording of the bill as to permit a practical working plan thereof. By this amendment the company would retain the right of making such fixed charge, but be required to include and embrace any such charge in the total charge for service rendered the public. That is to say, that the service charge so made will be embraced in the bills rendered the public for service actually received. Thus the true intent of the section can be easily construed and thereby avoid the necessity of much litigation in the interpretation thereof.

Mr. HUTTON offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 4, page 17, line 1, by striking out the words: "or issued".

Amend section 4, page 17, line 2, by striking out entire said line.

Amend section 4, page 17, line 3, by striking out the words: "tions of this law".

Amend section 4, page 17, line 5, by striking out the words: "issues or increase of issues of securities for".

Amend section 4, page 17, line 6, by striking out entire said line.

Amend section 4, page 17, line 7, by striking out the words: "value thereof or cash" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "fictitious increase of stock trust certificates bonds notes or other indebtedness or securities".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, I move that all the amendments just read be laid upon the table.

Mr. CAUFFIEL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I was prompted to make the motion I did because I realized that the "invisible government" had crushed us.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Section 5 If after hearing upon complaint or upon its own motion the Commission shall determine that any rates which have been collected or any acts which have been done or omitted to be done or any regulations classifications or practices which have been enforced for or in relation to any service rendered after this act becomes effective by any public service company complained of were in violation of any order of the Commission or were unjust and unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory or unduly or unreasonably preferential or in like manner shall find that the rates so collected are in excess of the rates contained in the tariffs or schedules of any such public service company on file or posted and in effect and applicable at any time the said service was rendered the Commission shall upon petition or its own motion have the power and authority to make an order for reparation applicable to persons or groups of persons having the right to such reparation awarding and directing the payment to any such [complainant petitioner] person or persons within a reasonable time specified in the order of the amount of damages sustained in consequence of said unjust unreasonable or unlawful collections acts or [commissions] omissions regulations classifications or practices of such public service company Provided That such damages have been actually sustained by such [complainant petitioner] person or persons

The commission shall state in said order the exact amount to be paid to such person or persons as well as its findings upon pertinent questions of fact

If the public service company does not comply with the aforesaid order for the payment of money within the time fixed therein the person or persons named therein or identifiable under any such order to whom such payment is directed to be made may sue therefor in any court of common pleas of this Commonwealth and said order made by the Commission shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated and that the amount awarded is justly due the plaintiff in such suit and the defendant public company shall not be permitted to avail itself of the defense that the service was in fact rendered to the plaintiff at the rate contained in its tariffs or schedules in force at the time payment was made and received Provided That no such reparation order shall take final effect until the time for appeal if taken is finally decided against such company

No reparation as herein provided shall be awarded by the commission except on its own motion or unless the complaint or petition shall have been filed with it within two years from the time when the cause of action accrued A suit for the enforcement of an order directing such payment shall be filed in the said court of common pleas within one year from the date of the order and not after

[No action shall be brought in any court on account of the wrongs or injuries referred to in this section unless and until the Commission shall have determined that the rate regulation classification practice act or omission in question was unjust unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory or unduly or unreasonably preferential or in excess of the rates contained in the said tariffs or schedules and then only to recover such damages as may have been awarded and directed to be paid by the commission in said order]

Section 7 The commission shall have power to require railroad corporations and street railway corporations to construct and maintain such switch or other connections with or between the lines of other companies of the same character as are reasonably practicable and as the commission shall deem necessary and proper for the service accommodation and convenience of the public and shall also have power to establish through routes and joint rates and classifications for the conveyance of persons and property between any two or more points within this Commonwealth whenever the railroad or street railway corporations concerned shall have refused or neglected voluntarily to establish such through routes and joint rates and classifications and to prescribe the just terms and conditions under which said through routes shall be operated Provided That in establishing such through route the commission shall not require any railroad company without its consent to embrace in such route substantially less than the entire length of its railroad and of any intermediate railroad operated in conjunction and under a common management or control therewith which lies between the termini of such proposed through route unless to do so would make such through route unreasonably long as compared with other practicable through route which would otherwise be established

The commission shall in case of failure of the railroad corporations or street railway corporations concerned to agree among themselves upon the division of the cost of construction maintenance and operation of the connections thus provided for or the allowance to be made for the interchange of service or the apportionment of any joint rates ascertain and by order prescribe and fix the equiable and just apportionment and division of the same

[Provided That nothing in this section shall confer upon the Public Service Commission the power to establish through routes or joint rates for the transportation of passengers over street railways elevated railways or subways]

Section 27 In addition to the foregoing expressly enumerated powers the commission shall have full power and authority and it shall be its duty to enforce execute and carry out by its orders rulings regulations or otherwise all and singular the provisions of articles two and three of this act relating respectively to the duties and limitations and to the creation and the powers and limitations of the powers of public service companies and all and singular the other provisions of this act and the full intent thereof and shall have the power to rescind or modify any such orders or regulations

The Fair Rate Board and each member thereof is hereby ordered and directed to carry out diligently not only the letter of this act but also the intent and spirit thereof which is hereby declared to be the protection of the public with the minimum of trouble and expense to it against unfair rates and charges discriminations of any kind (including any discriminating effect of fixed charges and of wide spreads between classes of service and between blocks of service consumed by individual customers when such effect is not actually reflected in cost to the public service company) poor service and inflated issues of securities and equally to protect public service companies when and to the extent that (but only when and to the extent that) they conduct their business openly fairly and in compliance with this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. J. F. M. BALDI offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 5, page 35, lines 8 to 22, all inclusive, by striking out the entire said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The Fair Rate Board and each member thereof is hereby ordered and directed to carry out diligently not only the letter of this Act but also the intent and spirit thereof which is hereby declared to be a fair just and equitable supervision and regulation of public service companies by a fair impartial and unbiased Board so as to protect both public and public service companies as to rates charges service and issue of securities with a minimum of trouble and expense to either and by such supervision and regulation better promote the economies and efficiencies thereof for the benefit of both"

Mr. FISH offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 5, page 29, line 16, by inserting after the word "commission" and before the word "At" the following: "Provided that unless written protest be filed to such change in tariff or schedules within thirty days from the date the Commission receives notice of any such change at the end of such 30-day period such change to tariff and schedules shall forthwith become effective. Should written protest be filed or the Commission upon its own motion within such said period require investigations and hearing thereon the Commission shall make written determination thereof within a period of one hundred fifty days from the time the Commission received notice of such proposed change."

Mr. E. P. BROWN offered amendments which were read as follows:

Amend section 5, page 27, line 12 by striking out the words "and control"

Amend section 5, page 27, line 12 by inserting after the words "supervise" and before the word "regulate," the following: "and"

This amendment proposes to eliminate from the wording of of the House Bill No. 1632, a word which is fraught with danger and menace to the entire system of government regulation. It permits the Commission"——as provided in this Act upon application from interest parties or on its own motion in any case to supervise regulate and control all public service companies——with respect to any and all the powers and duties of such public service companies." Up to the present time the laws of this State and the laws of the nation have granted to the government only powers of supervision and regulation over private matters. There still remains certain inherent and fundamental rights of individuals which should be and are inviolate and among these is the inherent right of of an individual (and by the laws of the State, a corporation is an individual) to exercise the control and operation of his or its business, subject only to the supervision and regulation of the government. That is a fundamental and basic principle upon which this or any representative government must be based. An examination of this section, especially in view of its relation to other sections of House Bill No. 1632, discloses an open, apparent desire to destroy that fundamental principle of government. Although it is true that no definition of the word, "control," is used in this act, yet a fair interpretation of these sections construe the word, "control" as meaning the right and authority of operation. To prove this assertion, examine the section of this Bill.

1. This section specifically mentions the power to the ComCommission, upon its own motion in any case, to control public service companies with respect to any and all the powers and duties of such companies.

2. Page 9 of this Bill grants the Board the right to confiscate the earnings of any company in excess of 7½ per cent of its capital value and places in the Board the authority and power to determine the basis upon which such earnings are to be computed.

3. Page 21 of this Bill grants to the Board jurisdiction not only over stockholders, but over any person or corporation who in the opinion of the Board exercises a substantial influence upon the policies or actions of the company, and by the broadness of its terms would include the average citizens of the State. It classifies such individuals as affiliated interests and grants unto the Commission the right of jurisdiction over such persons and the power to be the exclusive judge of any construction, engineering or similar contract made with such an interest.

4. Page 5 of this Bill grants to the Commission the right of control over the receipts and expenditures of a public service company. It limits a public service company to the manner and the purposes for which it may expend its earnings or incur its operating expense. Without a question, the same right would vest in the Board the right to establish the rate of wages, the right of hiring and firing employees, the rate of services for individuals, the rate of compensation for the services of individuals, the expenditure of income or the earnings or incurrence of any operating expense, as well as any expenditure for construction, maintenance or operation.

5. Page 16 of this Bill places in that same Board the right of determination of what shall be the actual, legitimate value of ny service, labor or property for which an issue or increase of issue in any securities may be made.

These and other similar provisions of House Bill No. 1632 convinces us that a fair interpretation of the word, "control," as used in this act means to operate, and by their terms of this act and with this inference in mind, the power of operation of the public service company business in the State of Pennsylvania would then in a Fair Rate Board of seven members created by House Bill No. 1631. This becomes a danger for that body is designated as an executive agency and we infer from the term "agency" the right of the principal to dictate the policies and actions and control the decisions of an agent.

This a danger for no body of seven men can operate efficiently and properly all the business of the public service companies of the State of Pennsylvania. And this is especially true when such an individual or such a group of individuals are appointed "as an agency" and handicapped by the vagaries of political fortune.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that all the amendments be considered at once.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that all the amendments to Section 5 be laid upon the table.

Mr. CAUFFIEL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appear to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for and one hundred and sixteen members, or more than a majority voting in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The sixth section and title were read and agreed to as follows:

Section 6 That Article six sections twenty-two twenty-three and twenty-four of the said act be and the same are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 22 At the hearing of the appeal the said court shall upon the record certified to it by the commission determine whether or not the order appealed from is reasonable and in conformity with law Provided That when a complainant takes an appeal involving the fixing of rates of such extent and nature that the public service company would have been entitled to have the court make its own findings thereon based on an independent judgment of the law and the facts if said company had been the appellant in said appeal the appellant complainant shall have the right to have the court make its own findings based on the law and the facts the intent of this proviso being that complainants and public service companies shall have the same standing and rights at all times before the courts but not that their status before the courts shall be enlarged or changed in any other way

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 28, 1931.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the providential, protecting care Thou art ever exercising on our behalf. We are not worthy of these favors Thou art so freely bestowing upon us.

We pray that Thou mayest impart unto us such generosity of soul that we may manifest true benevolence in our dealings with our fellow men. And thus may Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

We pray thy blessing upon those who are in a needy condition, from whatever cause. Wilt Thou supply their needs out of Thine infinite resources.

Pardon us of all our offenses, we ask in our Redeemer's Name. Amen.

REPORT OF THE ELECTION LAW COMMISSION.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, on request of the Honorable Horace W. Schantz, who was voted Chairman of the Election Law Commission created by an Act of Assembly passed in 1927, and subsequently continued by Act of Assembly in 1929, I ask permission to present the report of that Commission, in order that it may be transcribed in the Legislative Journal.

The PRESIDENT. The report of the Election Law Commission is received, and will be printed in the Journal.

REPORT OF THE ELECTION LAW COMMISSION

To the General Assembly, Session of 1931:

We have the privilege of making the following report and recommendations to your honorable bodies. The Election Law Commission was created by Joint Resolution No. 395, approved the fourth day of May, A. D. 1927, of which the following is a copy:

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Creating an Election Law Commission to codify, amend, and revise the election and primary election laws; defining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation.

Whereas, the existing election laws are contained in numerous separate acts of Assembly, and are spread over a great number of years, some being in force since one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine, and since there has never been a complete codification or revision of these laws, whereby overlapping, inconsistent, and obsolete provisions could be eliminated, confusion avoided, and the certainty of the law be established; therefore,

Section 1. Be it resolved, &c., That there is hereby created an official commission to be known as "The Election Law Commission." Said commission shall consist of five citizens, to be appointed by the Governor, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the chairman of the standing committees on elections of the Senate and House of Representatives of the session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, ex officio.

Section 2. The commission shall, as soon as possible after the appointment of the five members by the Governor, organize by the election of a chairman. The committee shall have power to appoint a secretary who need not be a member of the commission, and may employ stenographers and fix their compensation payable from the appropriation hereinafter made. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation, but shall be allowed all traveling and hotel expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the said commission to study the election laws of this Commonwealth, and of other States, including laws relating to the conduct of general, municipal, and primary elections, the assessment, registration, and enrollment of voters, election returns, the use of voting machines, and, generally, all laws properly classified under the subject of election; to prepare and submit to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine a complete codification and revision of the election laws; to eliminate and exclude from such codification and revision all overlapping, inconsistent, and obsolete provisions in the present laws, and to include therein such revision, change, amendment, and restatement of particular features of the present election laws as may be deemed of benefit by the commission to the practical operation of the election laws and to aid in their enforcement.

Section 4. The Commission shall make a report of its proceedings and work to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine. For the benefit and information of the General Assembly and the public, the commission shall, in its said report, set further fully and clearly all changes from the existing law which it has suggested in the legislation submitted for consideration.

Section 5 The commission shall have power to hold such meetings and hearings at different places within the Commonwealth and other States as to it may appear necessary to accomplish the purposes for which it was created. It shall hear the evidence of all citizens appearing before it. It shall have power to issue subpoenas, under the name and seal of the chairman, to require the attendance of witnesses and their testimony and the production of books and papers relating to matters which it is authorized to consider.

Section 6. The sum of twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby specifically appropriated for the payment of the compensation and expenses of the secretary and stenographers, the expenses of the members of the commission, and all other charges and expenses incurred by the commission in the performance of its duties.

Section 7. The Legislative Reference Bureau shall, upon request, give such legal advice, aid, and assistance in the preparation and drafting of such codification and revision of the election laws as the commission may require.

APPROVED—The 4th day of May, A. D. 1927.

JOHN S. FISHER.

CHARLES JOHNSON,

In December, 1927, Governor Fisher appointed the following five members of the Commission: Mrs. Mabel W. Mack, Indiana; Samuel E. Shull, Stroudsburg; Francis Shunk Brown, Philadelphia; Edwin W. Smith, Pittsburgh, and Guy W. Moore, Wilkes-Barre. In addition to the foregoing, those who became members of the Commission by the terms of the Act creating it, were: Horace W. Schantz, President Pro Tempore of the Senate; Thomas Bluett, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Albert Davis, chairman of the Elections Committee of the Senate; and Joseph C. Marcus, chairman of the Elections Committee of the House of Representatives, session of 1927. It is with regret that we record the subsequent death of Representative Marcus, and the resignation of Francis Shunk Brown from the Commission under date of November 17th, 1930.

Formal organization of the Commission was effected at Harrisburg, December 14th, 1927, at which time the members elected Horace W. Schantz as chairman, and Warren F. Doane, of Philadelphia, secretary.

In order that the Commission might procure all shades of individual and public opinion relating to the election laws and proposed changes therein, public hearings were held at such places as it was felt would fairly cover the Commonwealth, namely, Harrisburg, Scranton, Williamsport, Erie, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Advance public notices of such hearings were carried in the newspapers, in addition to which every civic or other interested organization, all county commissioners, election officers, judges, district attorneys and other public officials of each section were individually invited to appear and make recommendations. Every person who did appear was given full opportunity to express his or her ideas, and several hundred such witnesses were heard. A complete transcript of the testimony taken at each such public hearing accompanies this report.

Upon the basis of that study, but with its work not yet completed, the Commission made a partial or preliminary report to the General Assembly of 1929, said report containing the following recommendations:

A Constitutional amendment eliminating the existing tax requirement as a qualification to vote.

Enabling legislation to make the voting machine amendment effective.

Permanent registration for all cities.

Days and hours of registration to be made uniform throughout the State.

All election returns to be made to the prothonotary.

In view of the fact that codification of the election laws had not been completed, the Commission asked that it be continued for another biennium, which was done under an Act approved the 8th day of May, A. D. 1929, of which the following is a copy:

Supplementing the joint resolution approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws, seven hundred fifty-six), entitled "A joint resolution creating an Election Law Commission to codify, amend, and revise the election and primary election laws; defining its powers and duties, and making an appropriation," continuing the commission created thereunder, and reappropriating the unexpended balance of the appropriation made thereby to said commission.

Section 1 Be it enacted, etc., That the commission created to codify, amend, and revise the election and primary election laws of the Commonwealth, appointed under the provisions of a joint resolution, approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws, seven hundred fifty-six), entitled "A joint resolution creating an Election Law Commission to codify, amend, and revise the election and primary election laws; defining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation," is hereby continued until the close of the session of the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one. The commission shall continue its work, as specified in said resolution, and shall make a report, and submit to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one a complete codification and revision of the election laws, as authorized in said resolution.

Section 2. The commission shall have power to hold such meetings and hearings, at different places within the Commonwealth and other States, as to it may appear necessary, to accomplish the purposes for which it was created. It shall hear the evidence of all citizens appearing before it. It shall have power to issue subpoenas, under the name and seal of the chairman, to require the attendance of witnesses and their testimony, and the production of books and papers relating to matters which it is authorized to consider.

Section 3. The Legislative Reference Bureau shall, upon request, give such legal advice, aid and assistance in the preparation and drafting of such codification and revision of the election laws as the commission may require.

Section 4. That the unexpended balance of the appropriation made by section six of the said resolution, approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws, seven hundred fifty-six), is hereby specifically reappropriated to the said commission for the payment of the compensation and expenses of the secretary and stenographers, the expenses of the members of the commission, and all other charges and expenses incurred by the commission in the performance of its duties.

Approved—The 8th day of May, A. D. 1929.

JOHN S. FISHER.

The foregoing is a true and a correct copy of Act of General Assembly No. 530.

ROBERT R. LEWIS,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In accord therewith, the work of the Commission was continued. Meetings were held in various parts of the State.

At the request of the Commission, the Legislative Reference Bureau prepared a Code of the existing election laws, systematically arranged and harmonized, with obsolete and inconsistent matter eliminated. This Code has been introduced as Senate Bill No. 6.

In making this report, the Election Law Commission makes the following recommendations, each of which is in the form of a bill submitted herewith:

1. An amendment to Section 1, Article 8, of the Constitution, so as to eliminate the present requirement that a voter shall have paid a State or county tax, which shall have been before the election.

(This proposed amendment passed at the Legislative session of 1929, and, if re-passed at the session of 1931, will be submitted to the voters at the election in November, 1933.)

2. A bill to provide watchers may be appointed from anywhere in the State, and with powers and duties like those of overseers, except that they may not make decisions for the election board or sign election returns.

3. A bill requiring all election returns at general, municipal and primary elections to be made to the prothonotary, and to be computed by the court sitting as a return board. This bill would eliminate the sittings of the county commissioners as return boards at primary elections, and would bring about uniformity in all election returns.

4. A bill amending the Uniform Primaries Law so as to prohibit a person from filing nomination petitions on more than one party.

5. A supplement to the party enrollment act, prohibiting any person who changes his party enrollment from voting any party ballot at the primary next succeeding such change of enrollment.

6. A bill providing a uniform system for the permanent registration of electors in cities, and to discontinue the system of annual registration now in force in all cities.

7. A bill to make uniform the days and hours for the personal registration of electors in all cities. The days chosen in even-numbered years are the ninth Thursday, the seventh Tuesday and the fifth Saturday preceding the November election, which are to be known as the Fall registration; and the third Wednesday preceding the Spring primary, which is to be known as the Spring registration. In odd-numbered years the Fall registration days chosen are the tenth Tuesday, the ninth Tuesday and the eighth Saturday preceding the election. These Fall registration days in the odd-numbered years also take care of the registration for the Fall primary.

While these suggestions are offered as the recommendations of the Election Law Commission, Judge Samuel E. Shull and Edwin W. Smith, Esq., desire it to be recorded that they do not approve, but vigorously disapprove, of Nos. 1 and 4, namely, the proposed amendment to the Constitution which would eliminate the present tax requirement as a qualification to vote, and the proposed amendment of the Uniform Primaries Law so as to prohibit a person from filing nomination petitions on more than one party ticket.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the Election Law Commission.

HORACE W. SCHANTZ, Chairman
THOMAS BLUETT
ALBERT DAVIS
MABEL W. MACK
GUY W. MOORE
SAMUEL E. SHULL
EDWIN W. SMITH.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideraiton of Senate Bill No. 338, as follows:

An Act providing for the dissolution of corporations organized for the support of public worship and for the preservation allocation and distribution of the property and assets of such corporations

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same Tnat whenever any organization or body incorporated for the support of public worship has by reason of the shifting of population withdrawal of membership or other cause whatsoever ceased to support public worship within the intent and meaning of its charter or act of incorporation such corporation may be dissolved as hereinafter provided

Section 2 The Diocesan Convention Presbytery Synod Conference Council or other supervising and controlling organization of which such corporation is a member or with which it is in allegiance and subordinate thereto may petition the equity side of the court of common pleas of the county wherein such subordinate corporation is located setting forth the facts of the case and praying for a decree of dissolution Such petition shall be attested by the proper officers of such petitioning organization under the seal thereof

The said court shall after notice and hearing as hereinafter provided enter a decree of dissolution together with such other orders as it deems necessary if satisfied that the prayer of the petitioners may be granted without prejudice to the public welfare or the interests of the corporators

Section 3 All proceedings under this act shall be under the equity jurisdiction vested in said court by the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth

Section 4 Upon the presentation of such petition the court shall make such order as it may deem fit as to the manner in which notice shall be given to the surviving resident members of said corporation and the congregation thereof which notice shall be given by publication in such manner as the court may determine but of sufficient time as to enable all of the members of said corporation to be heard in relation thereto if they so desire By the said notice all creditors and lienors shall be notified and required to present their respective claims to said court on the day set in said notice

Section 5 Before entering a final decree of dissolution the court shall cause the assets of said corporation to be marshaled and the property rights adjudicated either by proceedings before the court or by hearing before a special master appointed for that purpose

Section 6 In entering the final decree upon any such petition the court shall provide for and order the vesting of the title to any real estate theretofore held by such corporation in such corporation as may by its charter be organized for the purpose of holding title to the real estate held for public worship according to the formularies of the church to which said corporation was in allegiance or for the sale thereof by a master appointed for that purpose and the vesting of the proceeds upon the confirmation of such sale in such body as may be directed by the court to be held in trust for carrying out the intent and purpose of public worship and such decree and sale shall vest in the purchaser a title in fee simple discharged of any trust under which the property has been heretofore held but which trust shall be impinged upon the proceeds of such sale in the hands of the holder thereof

Section 7 The court of common pleas in its discretion may instead of decreeing a sale of the property of the dissolved corporation by proper order and decree vest the title to all of the real estate owned by said corporation in any body of incorporated trustees or other holding corporation or body designated by the petitioners either incorporated or a voluntary organization under the same uses and trusts as the same was theretofore held by the said dissolved corporation

Section 8 A decree of dissolution by any court under the provisions of this act shall not go into effect until a certified copy of the record and of such decree shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of such county and in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 539, as follows:

An Act Authorizing the merger and consolidation of corporations organized and formed for the support of public worship

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be lawful for any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the provisions of any general or special act of assembly whether through letters patent or proceedings in the Supreme Court or court of common pleas for the support of public worship to merge its corporate rights franchises powers and privileges with and into those of any other corporation or corporations formed for the support of public worship so that by virtue of this act such corporations may consolidate and so that all the property rights franchises and privileges then by law vested in either of such corporations so merged shall be transferred to and vested into such merged corporation

Section 2 Said merger or consolidation shall be effected in the following manner

First The trustees directors vestrymen or other official board of each corporation shall enter into a joint agreement under the corporate seals of each of them for the merger and consolidation of said corporations prescribing the terms and conditions thereof the mode of carrying the same into effect the name of the new corporation the number and names of the trustees directors and vestrymen and other officers thereof and how and when such officers shall be chosen with such officers shall be chosen with such other details as shall be deemed necessary to perfect the said consolidation and merger but such agreement shall not become effective unless the same shall be approved by the members of each of said corporations as hereinafter provided and by the Ecclesiastical authority or other organization of which the said merging corporations are subordinate members or with which they are in union or of which they form a part

Second Said agreement shall be submitted to the membership of each of said corporations at separate special meetings or regular meetings the time place and object of which respective meetings due notice shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks before said respective meetings in at least one newspaper in the county or in each of the respective counties in which the said congregations maintain public worship At said meetings the said agreement shall be considered and a vote of the membership in person shall be taken. by ballot for the adoption or rejection of the same and if a majority in number of those present shall vote in favor of said agreement merger and consolidation then that fact shall be certified by the secretary or clerk of each of said corporations under the corporate seal thereof

Section 3 The said certificates together with the said agreement or a copy thereof shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the proper county or counties and in the offices of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and when so recorded the said agreements shall be deemed and taken to be the act and consolidation of said corporation and said merger shall be deemed to have taken place and the said corporations to be one corporation under the name adopted by said agreement possessing all the rights franchises and privileges theretofore vested in each of them

All the estate and property real and personal and all rights of action of each of said corporations shall be deemed and taken to be transferred to and vested in the said new corporation without any further act or deed

Section 4 All rights of creditors and all liens upon the property of each of said corporations shall continue unimpaired and the respective constituent corporations shall be deemed to be in existence to preserve the same and all debts duties and liabilties each of said constituent corporations shall thence forth attach to the said new corporation and may be enforced against it to the same extent and the same process as though said debts duties and liabilities had been contracted by it

Section 5 A certified copy of said certificate and agreement or copy of agreement so filed in the office of the recorder of deeds and in the offices of the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall be the evidence of the lawful holding and action of such meetings and of the merger and consolidation of said corporations

Section 6 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 787, on final passage, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of article sixteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of the Commonwealth" by providing for the election of city councilmen in such cities from Senatorial Districts and at large

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. Presdent, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 787, as follows:

An Act to further amend section two of article sixteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" by providing for the election of city councilmen in such cities from Senatorial Districts and at large

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of article sixteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred fifty-six) entitled "An act to amend section two of Article VI of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled 'An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth' by providing for the election of city councilmen in such cities in proportion to the population thereof" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 At the municipal election held in such city in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven thirty-one and in every fourth year thereafter two city councilmen shall be elected in each of the various state senatorial districts in such city and nine city councilmen shall be elected in the city at large The number of councilmen to be elected in the various State senatorial districts in such cities shall be twenty-two They shall be elected in the various State senatorial districts of such cities in proportion to the population thereof as determined by the last United States census and each succeeding United States census The councilmanic ratio for the election of councilman as aforesaid shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of all the State Senatorial districts of such cities by the number twenty-two One councilman shall be elected for each such ratio and and additional councilman shall be elected for any fractional portion of such ratio in excess of fifty per cent thereof Every State senatorial district in such cities shall be entitled to elect as many city councilmen as it has councilmanic ratios of population as aforesaid and an additional councilman for any fractional portion of such ratio in excess of fifty per cent. thereof The number of councilmen to be elected for each such district shall be determined and announced by the county commissioners on August first of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven and of every fourth year thereafter on the basis of population as aforesaid Councilmen shall be nominated and elected according to law and those receiving the highest votes shall be declared elected to the number to which each such district is entitled Councilmen shall serve for the period of four years from the first Monday in January following their election If any vacancy shall happen in the office of councilman the vacancy may be filled at the next general municipal or special election occurring not less than thirty days thereafter to be held in the city at large if the vacancy is in the office of a councilman elected at large or from a senatorial district if the vacancy is in the office of a councilman elected therefrom but the councilman thus elected shall serve only for the unexpired term The provisions of this act shall not affect present members of council in such cities they shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I simply want to get it on the record that no matter how perfect I think this bill is, I want to explain the necessity I have to vote against it. It is simply that in my own district I have one ward that has more voters in it than the entire State of Delaware. In this ward every man, woman and child votes.

We now have three councilmen from our district, and this bill cuts it down to two. If this bill were not put in we would have four from the district.

This particular ward is so ambitious to have a councilman that I would never get a vote in the world if I voted "aye" on this bill; and, therefore, I have to vote "no," I am very sorry.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and members of the Senate, this bill gives nine additional councilmen-at-large, and those nine extra ones are for the independent element that Senator Woodward represents. They have been crying for represntation, and not only want the representation for the independent councilmen but if we leave the present bill as it is that district would have all the councilmen; and between Senator Woodward's district and West Philadelphia they would run the entire City of Philadelphia. South Philadelphia, Central Philadelphia and the eastern portion of Philadelphia would virtually have no representation.

Senator Woodward need not worry much about what is going to happen with the extra councilmen in his district, because there will be extra councilmen, under this bill, appointed from that district to get rid of just such annoyances as Senator Woodward and his constituents.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I merely want to say that if the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will amend his bill so all nine of the councilmen-at-large may be elected from this Forty-second Ward, I will vote for it.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, they will get them anyhow.

Mr. FRAZER. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, is always kind and very gracious, and I am sure the Senate will accept the apology he has made for voting against the bill.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

And the question recurring,

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

To Thee, O God of our Fathers, we lift our hearts in prayer. Help us to yield to Thee the right of sovereignty in Thy world and in our lives. We bless Thee that the law of the Lord is perfect. May we be willing always to accept it as the rule of our lives.

Enlarge our sense of charity one toward another, and keep us free from all prejudice. We would be men and women of good will,—scattering sunshine in Thy dear name. Bless us in our labors here, and watch over the loved ones from whom we are separated.

When perplexing problems of the day confront us, give us of Thy patience and help us to put away from us all useless and hurtful things. May we each live Thy law,—that teaches us to do unto others as we would have others do unto us. We ask it in Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Memolo, seconded by Mr. Gicking, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Provided [further] That each voter may have the opportunity of designating his choice for all the candidates as nominated by one political party there shall be printed on the extreme left of the ballot and separated from the rest of the ballot by a space of at least one-half inch a list of the names of all the political parties or groups of nominees represented on such ballot and presenting candidates to be voted for at such election Such names shall be arranged in the order of the votes obtained at the last Presidential election by the candidate at the head of the respective tickets of the parties or bodies nominating beginning with the party that received the highest vote cast Following the names of such political parties shall be the names of the parties or principles not presented on the ballot at the last Presidential election arranged alphabetically according to the party name or political appellation A square of sufficient size for the convenient insertion of a cross-mark shall be placed at the right of each party name or appellation Every mark within such square shall be equivalent to a mark against every name designated by that political appellation or party name including candidates nominated by more than one party or group of citizens except as otherwise provided in section twenty-two of this act

At the head of every ballot shall be printed the following instructions

To vote a straight party ticket mark a cross (X) in the square opposite the name of the party of your choice in the first column A cross-mark in the square opposite the name of any candidate indicates a vote for that candidate

Section 2 That Section twenty-two of the said act as amended by Section one of an act approved the ninth day of July nineteen hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred twenty-nine) entitled "An act to further amend the twenty-second section of an act entitled 'An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections' approved the tenth day of June eighteen hundred and ninety-three as amended by an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April nineteen hundred and three by providing a manner in which voters may designate their choice of candidates and repealing acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 22 On receipt of his ballot the voter shall forthwith and without leaving the space enclosed by the guard-rail retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments and draw a curtain or shut the screen or door and shall then prepare his ballot as follows

If he desires to vote for every candidate of a political party he may make a cross-mark in the appropriate square opposite the name of the party of his choice in the straight party column on the left of the ballot and every such cross-mark shall be equivalent to a vote for every candidate for the party so marked Provided That the voter may make a cross-mark in the appropriate square opposite the name of the party of his choice in the straight party column on the left of the ballot and may also make a cross-mark in the square to the right of any individual candidate whom he favors In such case his vote shall be counted for all the candidates of the party in whose straight party column on the left of the ballot he placed such cross-mark except for those offices for which he has indicated his choice by marking in the squares to the right of individual candidates and his vote shall be counted for such individual candidates which he has thus particularly marked notwithstanding the fact that he made a mark in the straight party column on the left of the ballot Provided further That in any case where more than one candidate is to be elected to any office the voter shall if he desires to divide his vote among candidates of different parties make a cross (X) mark in the appropriate square to the right of each candidate for whom he desires to vote not exceeding the total number to be elected for such office and no vote shall be counted for any candidate in such group not individually marked notwithstanding the mark in the party square

If he desires to vote for an entire group of Presidential electors he may place a cross-mark in the appropriate square at the right of the name of the candidates for President and Vice-President of the party of his choice If he desires to divide his vote among candidates [from different groups of] of different parties for Presidential electors [he shall make a cross-mark in the appropriate square to the right of the name of each candidate for Presidential elector for whom he desires to vote] or to vote for candidates not nominated by any party he may insert their names in the blank spaces provided therefor in accordance with section fourteen of this act Provided That a mark in the straight party column opposite the name of the party of his choice shall also be counted as a mark for each Presidential elector nominated by such party

He may vote according to the above provisions for the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office or he may insert in the blank space provided therefor in accordance with section fourteen of this act any name not already on the ballot and such insertion shall count as a vote without the cross mark as herein mentioned And in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people he may mark in the appropriate margin or space a cross (X) opposite the answer which he desires to give In all cases where by existing laws a voter is entitled to cast more than one vote for a single candidate he shall place in the appropriate square instead of a cross (X) a number which shall indicate the number of votes to be counted for the candidate whose name is so marked

Before leaving the voting shelf or compartment the voter shall fold his ballot without displaying the markings thereon in the same way it was folded when received by him and he shall keep the same so folded and deposit it in the ballot-box without undue delay and shall quit the enclosed space immediately thereafter

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. GEORGE L. REED. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. Willingly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the purpose of the motion. I was not clear just exactly what was said.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this motion to recommit is for the purpose of a hearing. I had a request from some people who were interested in the bill. Personally I do not know much about the bill, the request came at the last moment and I merely made the motion in order to afford them a hearing.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether the sponsor of the bill has consented that it be recommitted.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor of this bill is Senator Pethick. I have had no conversation with him about it.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I see no reason in the world for the recommitment of this bill. This bill simply codifies several acts affecting the undertaking business and I think it would be a mistake to send this bill back for a hearing. There is nothing new involved in the bill. I am going to ask the members of the House to vote no on that motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Batchelor and Mr. Chester H. Rhodes and were as follows:

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 16, 1931.

Whereas, It is of vital importance that channel approaches to any port shall be free from obstructions which delay and are a hazard to navigation and which will be reflected in freight and insurance rates and

Whereas Experience has shown that the erection of the Philadelphia-Camden bridge has prevented a number of vessels from passing beneath it causing additional expense and loss in the discharge of cargo the dispatch of vessels and has occasioned unfavorable comment with respect to the port of Philadelphia and

Whereas There has been introduced in Congress of the United States House Bill number ten thousand eight hundred eighty-seven and Senate Bill number one thousand four hundred ninety-eight to grant the consent of Congress for the construction of a bridge across the Delaware River from Wilmington Delaware to the New Jersey side of the River and

Whereas The building of such bridge will tend to obstruct the navigation of the Delaware River the course of which is now being improved by the Federal Government will handicap the shipyards located thereon and prevent them from competing for the building and repair of the largest types of vessels will prevent the fullest utilization of the Philadelphia Navy Yard will be a menace in foggy weather to air navigation and will be an object of easy destruction in event of war and

Whereas The desire for this bridge is local while the need for an unobstructed channel in the Delaware River with safe egress and ingress to and from the port of Philadelphia and the Philadelphia Navy Yard is National both from the standpoint of commerce and defense therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in Session assembled do hereby protest against the enactment into law of any bills providing for bridges across the Delaware River between Allegheny Avenue Philadelphia and the sea

Resolved That in place of a bridge the construction of a tunnel under the river is recommended as entirely feasible and as furnishing a practical and safe means of transit between the shores of navigable streams

Resolved That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Members of Congress from Pennsylvania to the Secretary of War the Secretary of the Navy and any others interested in the mater

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to take but two minutes of your time to explain this bill and especially to a few members who have been under the impression that if the bill were enacted into law it would be against labor. If this bill were enacted into law, it would be a benefit to the men in the mills, mines and factories. I may say that the bill has been presented to me by the members of the State Federation of Labor, and if it meets with your approval, I hope you will support it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The secretary shall at the same time give written or printed notice to all creditors other than depositors so far as known to him to make proof of their claims in the manner hereinafter set forth within four months from the date of such notice or be debarred from coming in upon the fund

He shall also advertise such notices to depositors and other creditors in a newspaper and in the legal newspaper is any designated by rules of a court for publication of legal notices in said county once a week for four consecutive weeks

Provided That in the case of a corporation or person having five thousand or more depositors and creditors the secretary may instead of giving the written or printed notice to all depositors and to all creditors as above provided adopt such other plan as he may deem expedient to secure the verification by depositors and creditors of the amount of their claims and provided further that in such case the time within which said depositors and creditors shall make proof of their deposits as stated by the secretary may in the discretion of the secretary be such period as he may prescribe less than four months but not less than thirty days

Section 5 That section forty-two of said act as amended by section eighteen of the said act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-two) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 42 Proof of Claims of Creditors No claim other than the claim of a depositor shall be allowed unless the claimant or some one for him if he cannot do so shall within two months from the date of such notice furnish to the secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto or any note or other writing evidencing the same verified by an affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of corporation or person) that there are no credits or allowances against the same as herein set forth that I have not directly or indirectly made or entered into any bargain arrangement or agreement express or implied to take or receive directly or indirectly any money property or consideration whatever to or for myself or to or for any other person firm or corporation whatever other than my dividend as a creditor and that there is nocollateral security for said indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or anyone else than as above set forth"

In case the claimant shall be a partnership or corporation such affidavit shall be made by a member of the partnership or by the treasurer or assistant treasurer of the corporation claimant and the form thereof shall be modified accordingly Provided that in the case of a corporation or person having five thousand or more depositors and creditors the time within which creditors shall make proof of their claims may be in the discretion of the secretary be such period as he may prescribe less than four months but not less than thirty days

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of cestuis que trust or others to or against trust funds or roperty in the custody or possession or control of a corporation or person possession of whose business and property is taken by the secretary under the provisions of this act

Section 6 That section forty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 45 Partial or Final Account Objections At the expiration of the time fixed by the notice and advertisement for the presentation of claims prescribed in section forty-one of this act the secretary may file a partial or final account consisting of a statement of receipts and expenditures together with a list of the claims which have been allowed and separately a list of the claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all claimants the names addresses and amounts

If no account is filed within a year from the time when the secretary takes possession any party interested may petition the court for an order on the secretary requiring the filing of an account

Any account filed by the secretary shall be duly verified by him under oath or affirmation Upon the filing thereof he shall give written or printed notice to all the depositors and other creditors known to him of such filing and that unless objections shall be filed within thirty days from the date thereof the same will be confirmed absolutely He shall also at the same time advertise such notice in two newspapers once a week for four successive weeks

Provided that in the case of a corporation or person having five thousand or more depositors and creditors the secretary instead of mailing written or printed notices to all depositors and other creditors of the filing of his account may adopt such plan for giving such notice as the court upon application of the secretary may direct

During such period of thirty days any depositor other creditor or stockholder or anyone having any interest may file in the court objections in writing to said account or to the allowance of any of said claims a copy of which objections shall forthwith be served upon the claimant whose claim is objected to or his counsel and upon the secretary or his counsel or the special deputy appointed by him in such proceeding In the case of the liquidation of buliding and loan associations wherever in this act the word "creditors" is used it shall mean shareholders and/or creditors and in all other cases the word "creditors" wherever used in this act shall mean depositors and/or creditors.

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 3, by striking out the words "forty-five" and insert in lieu thereof "forty-one"

Amend title, page 1, line 7, by striking out the word "orgnization" and insert in lieu thereof "organization"

Amend section 1, page 6, line 9, by inserting after the word "court" the following: "excepting in cases of building and loan associations as to which the assent of fifty-one per centum in amount and not in number of the total claims so certified by the secretary shall be sufficient"

Amend section 1, page 7, line 23, by striking out the words "depositor and/or other"

Amend section 1, page 8, line 9, by striking out the word "judgement" and insert in lieu thereof "judgment"

Amend section 1, page 9, line 24, by inserting after the word "tees" the following: "for liquidation and distribution in accordance with law"

Amend section 5, page 16, line 28, by inserting quotation marks after the word "forth"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1518, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to acquire all real property comprising the Cornwall Charcoal Furnace at Cornwall in Lebanon County from the owner thereof and a trust fund for the maintenance of the same providing for the control management supervision restoration and improvement thereof authorizing the commission to make and enforce rules and regulations for the preservation and visitation thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I think I should be lacking in courtesy to the donor mentioned in this bill were I not to call your attention to what it provides, especially as the title is rather deceptive.

We Americans make much of war heroes, but pay very little attention to patriots in times of peace. After what happened last night, I think—and I say it with no boastfulness—we should all be regarded as patriots. I think we ought to get two medals like the fellow that went into Mexico: One for getting into the House and the other for getting out.

There are other kinds of patriots, and Mrs. Buckingham the donor mentioned in this bill, I should class as one. This old charcoal furnace was erected in 1749 for the manufacture of iron. During the Revolutionary War, shot, shell and cannon were manufactured for the Continental Army. When and by whom iron was first used is a mere matter of conjecture, but there are records in the Fourth Book of Genesis that Tubal Cain was the instructor of every artisan in brass and iron. As you know, they used it throughout Judea and those countries. In the Far East, in India, for instance, there are iron beams 24 feet by 8 inches, and at a mosque near Delhi there is a cylindrical pillar 60 feet in height 16½ inches at the base and 12 inches at the top. It is a mystery how that pillar was ever manufactured, for it would tax the capacity of the present day monster furnaces.

A charcoal furnace was established in this particular locality due to the fact that shortly before that time they found tremendous quantities of iron ore at Cornwall, which is five miles from Lebanon and about twenty miles from Harrisburg. One does not very often get the opportunity to boast about one's county, and so, if you do not mind, I will give you a little bit of the history of those iron mines at Cornwall. The title of the land covering the ore was first vested in one Thomas Turner in about 1726. Now, Thomas could not have been an ancestor, I do not think, of our friend Mr. Ellwood Turner, because he was sitting over "acres of diamonds" and did not know it. He sold about 300 acres of the land, covering the ore mines, to the Grubbs, an illustrious name of Lancaster County and of New Jersey, General Byrd Grubb being a native of New Jersey. The Colemans and the Freemans acquired an interest in the ore lands. I may say that our distinguished friend from the other side of the House, Senator Freeman, is a nephew of the donor, Mrs. Buckingham, named in this bill.

If you will observe the provisions of this bill, the title shows that the Commonwealth shall acquire this land. It is really a gift on the part of Mrs. Buckingham. It covers quite a few acres, which are to be maintained by a trust fund held by the Governor, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. I assure you that Mrs. Buckingham is not only willing but very able to furnish whatever amount the Historical Commission and these gentlemen on this commission named should require for this purpose.

I think it should be a matter of gratification to all of us that we have this opportunity to accept this gift. I am sure, if you ever come to Cornwall, you will find it not only very illustrative, but most interesting, and if you ever do come to Cornwall, I hope you will not forget your old friend Adams at Lebanon, which is five miles away. You will always have a hearty welcome.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1552 (Senate Bill No. 334), entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-four of an act, approved the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred and twenty), entitled "A further supplement to an act, entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation,' approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy nine," as amended, by excepting life insurance companies from the operation of said section twenty-four.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 8 of the title, by inserting after the word "excepting" the following: "domestic".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1178 (Senate Bill No. 177), entitled:

An Act authorizing building and loan associations to permit borrowers to have the dues on the stock credited on account of the principal of the loan and providing for the reduction of the stock in certain cases and defining the duties of the secretary of the association in respect thereto and providing also for the increase of the subsequent dues on the stock in certain cases and providing further that the stock shall not be subject to losses except for the profits in certain cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STANDTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have never, as long as I can remember, opposed a Senator's bill, but I must in this case, because I am vitally interested in this way: that my experience with building and loan associations in the past has taught me that this bill would not be an equitable bill.

This bill provides that where a mortgagor pays in his weekly or monthly payments to the association, that those monthly or weekly payments are credited to the loan itself, and when they are credited to the loan itself he is not a stockholder, because he does not make any payments whatever on the stock. The question arises in this case that whenever he makes those payments on account of the mortgage loan, he is not liable or does not suffer the loss which may or might be sustained by the association. In other words, the depositor who makes it possible for the mortgagor to raise his money is the one who suffers the loss, or to put it another way, the man who saves his money is the one who is charged with the loss. Under the present law the mortgagor, as well as the depositor, suffer equally the losses sustained by the association. We must get at the proposition as it was originally intended in a building and loan association. The thought was mutuality. That mutuality is entirely destroyed by allowing payments to be made on account of the loan itself, rather than payments on account of the stock.

I therefore ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. McALEE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1362, as follows:

An Act relating to insurance making all fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance with the exception of fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance issued by domestic mutual fire insurance companies null and void and terminating all liability of the insurance company thereunder unless the premium thereunder is paid within a certain period and requiring policies and contracts to contain stipulations to that effect

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter all fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance with the exception of fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance issued by domestic mutual fire insurance companies shall be null and void and all liability of the insurance company issuing said fire insurance policy or contract of insurance shall be terminated at the end of forty-five days from the effective date thereof unless the premium under said policy or contract of insurance has been paid by the insured to the said insurance company issuing said policy or contract of insurance or its agent within forty-five days from the effective date of said policy or contract of insurance

Section 2 Hereafter all written fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance with the exception of fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance issued by domestic mutual fire insurance companies shall stipulate in writing as a condition thereof that said fire insurance policy or contract of insurance be null and void and all liability thereunder of the insurance company issuing said policy or contract of insurance shall be terminated at the end of forty-five days from the effective date thereof unless the premium thereunder is paid to the insurance company or its agent forty-five days from the effective date thereof Provided however That when policies have been written to protect a mortgagee or trustee fifteen days' notice shall be given said mortgagee or trustee in advance of such cancellation

Section 3 All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you will recognize this bill No. 1362 as the bill which failed of final passage about a week ago. Due to the kindness of two members of the House, who opposed the bill at that time, the vote by which it passed finally was reconsidered. The bill has since gone back to the Committee on Insurance and has been amended. The bill originally provided that the premium for a fire insurance policy must be paid within forty-five days by the insured. But the words "by the insured" have been stricken out. It also provided that the holder of a mortgage be given fifteen days' notice before the insurance is cancelled by its provisions. On one glance at the bill you might take it for granted that the bill is introduced in the interests of the agents or the company. That is true, but it protects also the interests of the insured in questions of doubt as to whether the insurance is in force during the forty-five day period. Also if the provisions of the policy are carried out there never will be any question as to whether or not the fire insurance policies are in force. I sincerely hope you will give your favorable vote on this bill.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I originally opposed this bill. I now argee with the gentleman from Cumberland County that the bill is in good shape, and I ask that the members vote aye.

Mr. NEELY. There is one condition in the bill with which I do not agree, which provides that premiums shall be paid to the fire insurance company or agent within forty-five days; the premium being paid to the agent, not to the insurance company, and your policy might be cancelled, and you would not know it.

Mr. WADE. May I say to the gentleman, most of the fire insurance companies bond their representatives, and they are, therefore, responsible for whatever their agents do, and the insurance would be in force in a case of that kind.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. WADE, is it not the fact that the standard mortgagee clause requires ten days' notice to the mortgagees?

Mr. WADE. That is true.

Mr. STERLING. Would not your bill be made uniform with the standard mortgagee clause, if your fifteen days' provision was reduced to ten?

Mr. WADE. Yes; that would be true.

Mr. STERLING. Wouldn't that be an improvement to your measure?

Mr. WADE. I will agree to have that amendment made in the Senate.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am quite tired of hearing offers to have the Senate think for me, and I think that this is the place where these amendments should be made.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will declare a recess until 3.30 o'clock P. M. The Chair hears none and the House will take a recess until 3.30 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 3.30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

BILL ON SECOND READING (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this hour, consideration of House Bill No. 817, Printer's No. 333, on page 1 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill 817, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four (Three Smith Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act for the prevention of vice and immorality and of unlawful gaming and to restrain disorderly sports and dissipation"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to dispense with the Committee of the Whole?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I object to dispensing with the Committee of the Whole.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hearing objection, the House will resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole for the purpose of additional amendments to House Bill No. 817.

The Chair requests the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, to act as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

(For authority for inclusion of proceedings in Committee of the Whole, see page 2652 of today's proceedings.)

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

MR. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS PRESIDING

The CHAIRMAN. We are now in Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering additional amendments to House Bill No. 817.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, may I first make the request that the Election Committee be notified that the House is in session and that it be requested to attend the House session.

The CHAIRMAN. The Committee will be so notified. The sergeant-at-arms will notify the Committees that are in session that the Committee of the Whole is now in session to consider the bill for amendment.

RECESS

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, I ask that a recess be declared for four or five minutes awaiting the arrival of the members who are now in committee.

The CHAIRMAN. If there are no objections, the Committee of the Whole will recess for five minutes. The Chair hears none and a recess of five minutes is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The CHAIRMAN. The time of the recess having expired and the members of the Committees being present the Committee will be in order.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four (Three Smith Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act for the prevention of vice and immorality and of unlawful gaming and to restrain disorderly sports and dissipation is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assmbly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the first day of August next if any person shall do or perform any worldly employment or business whatsoever on the Lord's Day commonly called Sunday works of necessity and charity only excepted or shall use or practice any unlawful game hunting shooting sport or diversion whatsoever on the same day and be convicted thereof every such person so offending shall for every such offense forfeit and pay four dollars to be levied by distress or in case he or she shall refuse or neglect to pay the said sum or goods and chattels cannot be found whereof to levy the same by distress he or she shall suffer six days imprisonment in the house of correction of the proper county Provided always That nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the dressing of victuals in private families bake-houses lodging-houses inns and other houses of entertainment for the use of sojourners travellers or strangers or to hinder watermen from landing their passengers or ferrymen from carrying over the water travellers or persons removing with their families on the Lord's Day commonly called Sunday nor to the delivery of milk or the necessaries of life before [nine] ten of the clock in the forenoon nor after five of the clock in the afternoon of the same day

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer an amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section one, page two, line twenty-four by adding after the word "day" on line twenty-four the following: "nor to prohibit playing baseball games in an orderly and well-conducted manner and before audiences orderly and well behaved, with or without admission charges or voluntary collections taken, during the months of April, May, June, July, August, September and October, on Sunday between the hours of two and five-thirty by the clerk, post meridian, and provided nevertheless and it is hereby further and separately enacted that every municipality, city, borough, town and township of this Commonwealth for the prevention of vice and immorality and to restrain and suppress the same and disorder, is and are hereby given full power and authority to enact, adopt, amend or repeal an ordinance or ordinances relating to the playing or prohibiting the playing of baseball on Sunday in such manner during and between the hours of two and five-thirty o'clock post meridian as to them the said municipality, city, borough, town and township shall deem proper and to specify and provide therein penalties for the violation of such ordinance or ordinances and which penalties shall be enforced as now provided by existing law."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, it may surprise you to know that I am a blue, but not, however, an indigo blue. Nobody more than myself desires the suppression of vice and immorality. This amendment I have offered has for its purpose the prevention of vice and immorality.

Idleness, you all know, creates vice. Idleness breeds immorality. The Bible has stated that the devil finds plenty of work for idle hands to do. Idleness lures many to places of vice and crime. An honest, helpful and clean recreation like base ball will employ the idle minds and keep them from places of sin.

This amendment is a local option bill. It is a local option bill in that it gives to every community in this State, whether it be a city, a borough, a township, or what not, the full power to suppress the playing of baseball on Sunday, should that community at any time in its own judgment see fit to suppress the playing of baseball.

Today I am reliably informed, all over this Commonwealth on Sunday, games are playing and voluntary contributions are taken, programs are sold. And that in effect is the charging of an admission. If that is going on all over the State, then why should the large cities of the Commonwealth be deprived of having professional base ball and taking their inhabitants from the streets on Sunday, to a place where they will receive helpful entertainment and be diverted from places where they should not go?

You will note that the amendment is so drawn as to take care of every situation. The amendments have in mind one thought, rounding and perfecting the Blue Law.

Members of this Committee, it may surprise you to know that the blue law is not all perfect. Why, the very Blue Law itself provides that persons may move from one house to another on Sunday. The Blue Law was written at a time landlordism and employer were ruling the Commonwealth and they were so active to prevent vice, that people would be prepared on Monday for work, and so anxious to have them at work on Monday, that they themselves provided in that Blue Law that tenants might move from one house to another.

That is out of spirit with the Blue Law. This amendment is in spirit with the Blue Law. If the Blue Law as it stands today, would permit tenants to move on Sunday, certainly this amendment cannot harm it but can only improve; and I ask for your aye vote on this amendment.

Mr. HIMES. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I ask you to vote against the insertion of this amendment in this bill. A few weeks ago when an effort was made to send this bill back to the Committee on Law and Order, the statement was made on the floor of the House that this was a perfectly harmless bill, that this number 817; that all that was intended to be done by it was to change the hour for delivery and sale of milk from nine to ten o'clock, in order to conform to daylight saving. I therefore ask that the members of this House vote the amendment down and let the bill go before the House on its own merits.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee of the Whole, irrespective of any statements that might have been made before this House at the time the motion was made to recommit this bill, it is a fact that the amendment presented here this afternoon is germane and entirely relevant to the title and therefore proper business before this House.

This morning as I was leaving this capitol after three o'clock, just about the time the milkman began to deliver the milk that my friend from Armstrong County refers to, one of the members who favors this amendment was lamenting the fact that on account of the skirmishes that occurred here last night on the Public Service Commission matter, they thought that certain antagonisms had been aroused that would alienate the support of many members who had originally intended to vote for this amendment. I told him I didn't think so. I said to him as I will say to the House this afternoon, that every issue here is determined on its merits and not on personalities; that every issue here is to be determined according to the effect it will have on the people of the Commonwealth and not to be passd on the principle of retaliation or reprisal. This morning however, in this morning's session, an unfortunate incident occurred which seemed to repudiate that argument when a member objected to giving unanimous consent when it was asked for by another member. I was pleased to see, however, that that objection was then withdrawn and the bill was presented. I am, therefore, absolutely convinced that there is no member of this House who holds a personal grudge or a personal animosity against any other member because he has voted this way or because he has voted that way on a certain bill. If there is anything in this House that outshines everything else, it is the good fellowship of its membership. The generosity and the friendship that has been manifested towards me, even by those whom I have had to legislatively oppose, is something I will cherish for all time. We contest here as adversaries when we may have honest differences on a subject, but we are friends.

That is an American trait and we are proud of it. We are proud of everything that is American and we ought to be proud of the game of baseball which is purely and genuinely American. We ought to encourage this game of baseball which is natively American. Every nation has its sport. We don't care for the bull fights of Spain; we don't care for the cock fights of England; we don't care for the Apache dances of France; the vodka drinking orgies of Russia, nor the opium dreams of the orientals. But give us baseball. Baseball, where thousands of red-blooded Americans gather out in that horse-space, out under the open skies, and cheer for the home team. Gather there, where in good-natured rivalry they forget all personal animosities. A country that can interest its inhabitants in pure, open-air, competitive sport to the point where that interest drowns all thoughts of political, commercial and private rivalry and animosity is a country whose free and democratic institutions are perennially safe. God bless America!

There is another principle in this amendment, Mr. Chairman, and members of the committee, which is also American, a principle which I am certain will bring to the support of this amendment many who last week were unfriendly and voted against it; that is, the principle of local option. As late as April 14th and on the floor of this House there was made a statement by a member whom we all respect and admire and whom I sincerely consider a friend, that local option is purely an American principle. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Moore, who is opposed to Sunday sports, as evidenced in his activities in this House and in the committee meetings, nevertheless, declared himself in favor of local option where municipalities are privileged to determine for themselves their own problems. And on that date, on April 14th, in the debate on the city manager plan, which included the local option feature, this colloquy occurred between the gentleman from Washington and myself as you will find it on page 2018 of the Legislative record. I ask the gentleman, "Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman said in his original argument that there was an American principle involved in this plan. Did he mean by that the local option feature?"

"Mr. D. Glenn Moore. I meant by that, of course, the local option feature."

And then I asked him, "Mr. Speaker, am I to take from that that the gentleman approves the local option feature?"

"Mr. D. Glenn Moore. Mr. Speaker, I do."

Now, members of the House, if the gentleman from Washington who perhaps has been more consistently opposed to Sunday sports than any other person here in this House, has gone on record as favoring a local option feature, then every member here who voted for the city manager plan with the local option feature included, should vote for this amendment which includes the local option feature. Our own chief executive on April 1st in approving Senate Bill No. 92, also declared himself for home rule and local option. That bill permitted the councils of second class cities to determine for themselves the salaries of their cabinet officials. The Governor approved that, and by so doing declared that he was in favor of home rule and of local option.

Mr. Chairman, let me say respectfully to the members of this House, that we should approve this amendment, we should approve it because of fair play; we should approve it because of a sense of tolerance; we should approve it because of the principle of live and let live; we should approve it because of the principle of true representative government; we should approve of it and accept this amendment and let the municipalities of this Commonwealth determine for themselves if they desire whether they want this great, pure, clean, healthful American game of baseball. I thank you.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I do not think there is a man in this House that thinks any more of organized baseball than what I do. I played baseball all my life, until I grew a little too old, like some of the rest of you who used to play the game, and could not play.

You would think, from some of the remarks, some of the gentlemen have made this afternoon, that the Sabbath day was the only day on which men are permitted to play baseball. There are six days in the week in which boys and men can engage in this pastime and sport, if they care to.

Purely it is an American game, in every sense of the word, but the Sabbath day, about which I would like to speak to you for a few moments, is also purely an American institution, as applied to our nation and country. I think we owe more to this day, in some respects, than we do to any other day. It is a day that has meant a great deal in the life of nations, and their observance of it and their attitude toward it has gone a long way in determining their destiny, particularly in our own land. The dreams of our fathers, the institutions under which we live, were largely built on the Sabbath day and its teachings.

I would like to say a word about this bill. I am not opposed to baseball in any sense of the word. But I feel this afternoon, ladies and gentlemen of the Committee, that if this bill were to become a law, it would be the entering wedge to the ultimate and utter desecration of the Sabbath day. I feel that when the Sabbath day is broken down, so that it is not used as the day to instruct the youth of our land, to instruct the boys and girls concerning ideals of right and righteousness, we are taking a long step towards where it will mean our youth is ruined.

I happen to live on the border line of a sister state where they have what they call an open Sabbath. If our state was to become, in some respects similar to what is there known as an open Sabbath, I would not want to see it. So far as personal rights and freedom on the Sabbath are concerned, we have as many liberties today as we can well take care of on that day. I think this afternoon when I speak these words I am not only expressing my own sentiments to you, but I think I am expressing the sentiments of the parents in our land, a large number of them. I think I am expressing the sentiment of the organizations who have in their hearts the welfare of the youth of today, who are instilling in the minds and hearts of the young people ideals that are worth while, something they will remember when we are gone. I do not want my boys and girls, and your children, to look me in the face and say "your influence and your conduct have been responsible for a breaking-down of these ideals," by anything that I was unable to overcome. I do not want that, and neither do you.

I ask the members of this committee this afternoon to safeguard a day that has meant a good deal to us. I am not arguing for a Blue Law or a Blue Sunday. I don't think we have that. I don't think we can legislate any more freedom than we have. I don't think we can do it. There are some laws on the statute books that are referred to as Blue Laws that I admit should be repealed. Why do they not ask for the repeal of them? We would gladly agree to their repeal. I am not an attorney, not familiar with all the laws on the statute books; but they tell me that one of the colonial laws, that I have heard referred to and made light of, provides that a man could not even kiss his wife on the Sabbath day. That might work a hardship on some young fellows that are newly married, but some of us who have been married a few years, it would work no hardship on us whatsoever.

I cannot but say that there are a few laws that should be repealed; but the thing I am afraid of is, as I said a moment ago, it may become an entering wedge in the breaking down of the Sabbath day and the ideals most dear to us as American people.

I ask you, ladies and gentlemen, to vote against this amendment.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, in the past I have been opposed to any change of the so-called Blue Laws; but I am more or less converted to the belief that something must be done to relieve the present situation, as to our coming youth. We have reached the stage where the youth of this land must be protected and must be encouraged. There is that spirit, that energetic spirit, which rests with every young man and young woman. Those are the coming people, the coming voters of our race.

I can recall that when the boys went to the front, we went to the stations and saw mothers, and sisters, sweethearts, bidding them goodbye and wishing them a safe return; I can recall that in the city of Pittsburgh, right within my own legislative district, some public spirited boys thought that they would rally about and get up some innocent sports for the purpose of raising money to send a kit or two to these boys at the front. The Public Safety Director immediately notified them that that could not take place. However, your mills were working seven days a week making that which made it possible to kill human life on the other side. Yet, when these boys stood ready to do their bit to send a kit to these boys on the other side they were stopped, and I tell you that in certain instances right in my own district, the police patrol was run up there and the boys were loaded and the next morning brought before the sitting magistrate and fined for playing football on Sunday for the purpose of raising money for the boys whom we had promised when they crossed the pond we would take care of, and further that we would take care of them when they came back.

Have you done that? I have read with a great deal of interest the lives of Calvin and Knox. Calvin was a Presbyterian by conversion; he is the founder of the Presbyterian Church, originally a Catholic, born in France, about fifty-eight miles north of Paris. He spent most of his time with his good friend Knox in Switzerland and I tell you today that if any one has not been there it is worth your while to make a trip to Switzerland and see the true religion which those people profess and which they practice. Even their challets, which are erected along the roads, built as ordinary frame structures, have burned in the wood such biblical inscriptions as "God dwells here", "God's love prevails here." On Sunday morning going to church at the early hour of, say, ten or ten thirty, you will find the streets lined with people going to church. You find the churches packed, you find them energetically serving God.

I went to their homes and I took the trouble to find out what those people did on Sunday. I went out to the outskirts, to the public playgrounds, and I found that they had congregated there; they had their innocent sports. The men in certain instances would sit about the stables playing cards. The children would romp about on the field. Those privileges are not granted you, I am merely pointing out that Knox and Calvin had a tremendous influence on the people, and that I have yet to find in the life, or in the biography of either one of them, that they spoke a word or breathed an iota against a Sunday sport of any kind. All they did was to teach the people pure morals, which was worth more than trying to curb something on the Sabbath Day.

I have always opposed the commercialized Sunday, and I always will oppose the commercialized Sunday; but I am for the young folks of today, whom we must take out of the dives, the low dives of our cities where they drink that poison booze which is beclouding their minds, and in many instances sending them out to commit depradations that you and I would have never thought of at the early age of sixteen or seventeen years of age. Bear that in mind. You have something to look to in the future. If you do not take care of this situation, you will find you will have a situation much worse than you ever expected. I ask you to be reasonable in this matter, be careful in your deliberations. Don't fear what the people say at home. Be courageous. I haven't any fear, whether I am elected or whether I shall come back here next time. I am doing something which meets with my convictions; something that I feel I am looking into the future, and say that I am helping to preserve the youth of our land.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I have no desire at this time to prolong the discussion. I have had my say on this question one week ago today. But it seems to me that it is extremely unfortunate that this question cannot be discussed as a question of government. Every time this question comes up, the question of religion is injected into the discussion. This is not a question of religion. The matter of religion is a matter between you and your God. The question of government is a question between you and your fellow man. This is not a religious convention. It is a legislature, elected to legislate for civil purposes; and the questions that we have to consider here is the welfare of the young men of Pennsylvania.

I submit to you that in practically three-fourths of the counties of this State our young men are playing baseball today, but they are playing it in spite of the law. I contend that it is unfair for this legislature to permit our young people made criminals every Sunday, when they go out on that lot to play baseball.

Why can we not, if we want them to play baseball, permit them to do so lawfully? Every member of this House believes in law observance. Every member of this House believes that the law should be enforced. Why should we continue to hold on to this old, old statute, which is not adapted to our present mode of life and to our present civilization?

I say, let us relieve the young men. Let us not make criminals out of them every Sunday afternoon. They will pay baseball anyhow, whether this amendment is passed or whether it is not passed. The only difference is that now they do so unlawfully and we make criminals out of them. We encourage them to break the law and to become criminals. Public opinion has given its consent to Sunday baseball in three-fourths of the counties of this State.

Why should we not face the music? Why should we not be men enough to stand up and say to these young men, "You may play baseball and you may do so lawfully."

There is another feature of it. This law makes an autocrat out of every prosecuting official in Pennsylvania. We ask the prosecuting officials of Pennsylvania, the law enforcement officials, to enforce the law, and yet not one of us expects them to enforce the law as a whole and in its entirely. Why are we not strong enough; why are we not men enough to stand up and say what the law shall be, and what the law shall not be? As it is now every prosecuting attorney, every prosecuting official, enforces only such parts of the law as he feels like enforcing. We in America have boasted for more than a hundred years that ours is a government of law rather than a government of men, that ours is a democracy rather than an autocracy. And yet here we sit afraid to come out and say what the law shall be or what the law shall not be.

Public opinion has sanctioned the playing of baseball. Let us be men. Let us face the music, and let us say to the boys and girls, and the boys especially of Pennsylvania, "You may go to baseball games and you may play baseball, and you may do so lawfully without incriminating yourself."

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I find the Bible, like my friend, Mr. Sowers from Philadelphia, a verse which seems to cover this subject, in Proverbs 22:28: "Remove not the ancient land marks which Thy Fathers before thee have set."

These old Blue Laws of ours are ancient land marks of this Commonwealth and I feel that they should not be removed without good reason, especially for no better reason than to afford the professional baseball clubs in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh an opportunity to make a holiday out of the Sabbath.

Mr. CARMANY. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I am sure that the Scriptures which the brother has referred to is in the Bible, and I am also sure that the other portion to which the brother from Philadelphia referred is not in the Bible.

There has been a great deal said, Mr. Chairman among these agitators for a commercialized Sunday, about the Blue Law being antiquated, because it is one hundred and thirty-seven years old, and does not apply to this present age. However, before we had the so-called Blue Laws, there was given unto us the fourth commandment, "Remember the Sabbath to keep it Holy." Whatever we may say as to our religious influences in this matter, this act strikes not so much at the Blue Law. The Blue Laws are working no hardship at present. This act will strike directly at the fourth commandment. This fourth commandment dates from creation. God rested on the Sabbath day and sanctified it, that is he set it apart, he separated it from all of the rest of the days for man. That commandment was written thousands of years before Socrates was born. In fact it had its origin before the Romans, the masters of jurisprudence, for it antedates the foundation of Rome by 750 years. It was given to man in the world's infancy and it embodies the great septenary law which runs through nature.

The question is this: have we outgrown this fourth commandment, and does it belong to another time, and is it governed by different conditions, because of its age? I am sure if we reflect just a moment, we shall understand that it applies to us today.

A commercialized Sunday does not strike so much at the Blue Laws as at the fourth commandmant, which God gave to us. It has a three-fold nature, body, mind and soul, that they all might be benefited. You cannot think of Sunday without thinking of law, without thinking of regulations, and there is no law more wise and merciful than this law of regulating the Sabbath. When we presume to be wiser than the law of nature and break that law by making the Lord's Day a holiday and commercializing it and robbing our bodies and minds of their required rest, we have to pay the penalty. We are the losers, whether we legislate for it to be so or not. Nature always squares accounts with broken laws.

I have discovered that men who spend the Sunday in seeking recreation at baseball games on Sunday afternoons and at picture shows on Sunday evenings, are more tired than on any other night of the week. Their pleasure seeking on Sunday unfits them for work on Monday and employers in states that do not have the Sunday observance that we have in this good old Keystone State, tell us that thousands of their employes are incapacitated for work on Monday by reason of the improper use of Sunday.

I wonder if there is a member of this Legislature who can conscientiously say that it is necessary in these times of depression to have baseball and other amusements on Sunday, in order to have recreation? Shall we legislate from our American life the Christian Sunday with its rich contribution to our well being, by making it a big commercial sport holiday?

Then I also desire to remind you that the laws for the protection of Sunday are laws for the protection of this great Commonwealth. A great jurist recently said something like this: "In this strenuous age, our republic, instead of making light of one Sabbath, out to have two each week, not only to repair its jaded nerves, but to tone up its moral sense." So great a man and writer as William Blackstone, the commentator of law, says this: "Corruption of morals usually follows a profanation of the Sabbath."

To conserve our Sunday law is an absolute moral necessity. About ninety per cent of all the criminals in our country today were habitual Sabbath breakers before they became criminals. If we pass legislation that permits baseball and every other amusement on Sunday, we will debauch the children and young people and wean them from everything that is spiritual, and Pennsylvania will pay a fearful price some day in immorality.

Don't you think for one moment that it is going to take the people out of the dens of vice. It will take them out of the Sunday Schools and Church and it will help to fill the dens of vice. Don't you think for a moment that you have to go to a baseball game to get sunshine, to get fresh air and to get out under the open skies. That is smoke screen and I want to say that I am a baseball sport myself. I like to take my family occasionally to Pittsburgh to see a game. I enjoy it. It is a clean sport. But why should we have it on Sunday. Even the bluest of the Blue Laws are preferable to a liberalized Sunday where every man is a law unto himself, and will do as he pleases.

If you go back to the Puritan Sabbath,—I would not, if I could go back there at all,—but I would to God that we had a new birth of Puritan conscience. When the Puritans came to our shores, you recall the incident, in history, how they halted at Clarke's Island rather than disturb the impressiveness of the Sabbath Day by the toil and bustle of making a landing on the mainland.

Mr. Chairman and members of this Committee, it would be a thousand pities if through our legislation, this Holy day, so sacred to our fathers, became a holiday for us, their children, setting our faces toward indulgence and dissipation and all selfish pleasures rather than the service of God and the growing of a soul.

There has been much said in this agitation about selfishness. What is it but selfishness to maintain that in order that one may enjoy the Sabbath he must sit at a baseball game on Sunday afternoon when there are so many opportunities at this time of depression to do good and to help someone? There is no agitation here for men who are employed. It is rather for athletic sports. I have heard what has been said about golf and other things, and those who are agitating for the breaking down of our Sunday forget that if these things are wrong it does not make them right if you legislate another wrong. And what is wrong in one part of the State is wrong in every part of the State.

I am not pleading for a Puritan Sunday. It was extreme, intolerant, I admit. But in our day I fear the pendulum is swinging too far in the direction of a liberalized Sunday. This is the only commandment of the ten that has the word "Remember" before it. There is danger of us as American citizens and legislators forgetting God's day. Remember the Sabbath, to keep it holy. I am fearful, we are allowing the pendulum to swing too far toward a liberalized Sunday.

We are talking baseball now, but you know what it means, finally all restrictions off, all traditions at an end, nothing binding because of the past. Are we among those who are ready to cast Sunday away as a thing outgrown. Let us not forget that in our agitation against anything which seems to limit personal choice and desire we are in danger of casting aside the great essentials of a noble life.

Reference was made here on the floor to another State that had an open Sunday. That state is preparing now to pass legislation at its next legislature to have stringent laws passed to govern the Sabbath. I am not pleading for a Blue Sunday. I am pleading for a sane and safe observance of Sunday. Not in the interest of the church or religion, but in the interests of all the people of this Commonwealth, believers and unbelievers, on purely humanitarian grounds, because the Sabbath was made for mankind.

Now I know there are those who say, "If the Sabbath was made for man, why may he not do as he pleases with it?" Here is the answer. Because it was made for man's liberty, not for man's license, and the highest liberty is always found in conformity to law.

When I reached my home last week, and picked up the Church paper, this was the first item I caught:

"Wisconsin Senate kills bill to repeal Sunday Law."

"On March 30 the Wisconsin Senate voted 22 to 11 against repeal of the state's 75-year-old 'blue law,' prohibiting Sunday amusements."

We have a law that is much older, and I say we do well to follow in their steps.

Members of the Committee, let us sustain our present Sunday Law by refusing absolutely to pass this amendment.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Chairman, may I interrogate the gentleman from Venango, Mr. Carmany?

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Venango, Mr. Carmany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARMANY. Certainly, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman from Venango has quoted copiously from the Bible and made a very lengthy, strong argument on the fact that this amendment would in some way break down the moral principle of religious teachings of the Bible. Is he acquainted with the passage in the Bible which is to be found in Chapter 12 of Saint Matthew, which is entitled "The nature of the Sabbath"?

Mr. CARMANY. Yes, sir.

Mr. MUSMANNO. And does the gentleman know, and I presume of course he does, that in that passage the incident is related where the Pharisees wanted to destroy Christ because he healed people on the Sabbath?

Mr. CARMANY. Yes, sir.

Mr. MUSMANNO. And does the gentleman approve of the argument used by the Pharisees at that time?

Mr. CARMANY. Mr. Chairman, I can answer that if you give me the time.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Yes, sir, all the time you wish, as far as I am concerned.

Mr. CARMANY. I don't know how many commentaries the gentleman may have read on that, or what his experience is, but everyone who is a Bible student knows that that was the contention between the Master and the Pharisees who would not allow any help to be given on the Sabbath, but they would allow an ox to be taken out of the ditch. It is right to do good on Sunday; it is always right to do good on Sunday.

Mr. MUSMANNO. May I interrogate the gentleman further?

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair hardly thinks that is necessary.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I have listened carefully to the gentleman who recited the Scripture about removing the old landmarks. I can recall that there was a time when our forefathers took their little toddy at different times, and if the opponents of this bill will vote to restore that old landmark, I will vote against this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, I just simply want to say a few words, the old conservative nation of England a few days ago in its House of Parliament passed a similar bill to this. One of the most conservative men that America has ever produced, when he was the Governor of Massachusetts, signed a repeal of the Blue Law, and permitted Sunday baseball, and that man was President Coolidge.

My friend remarks about an age that is long since past. He speaks of an age when labor worked twelve hours a day, from the very sunrise to the sunset, and the master wanted to get all the labor out of them he could and forthwith assumed it must be done with a Sunday rest. Now, you are in the midst of a great machine age where I am told one machine in the Pittsburgh district turns out and produces what it took 256 hands to turn out, and turns it out better than human labor turned it out. My friend hit the keynote when he mentioned that men did not return to work on Monday well repaired and well able to labor. That is the secret of much of this Blue Law, that it was passed so that labor on Sunday rested to work for the man that employed him.

My friend hit the keynote when he said he enjoyed baseball and frequently took his family to Pittsburgh to see a baseball game, but he thinks nothing of the man who is at home, who is struggling from sunrise to sunset for a living and only has Sunday off. I submit, Mr. Chairman, and members of this committee, that the man that labors every day is certainly entitled to have the same opportunity that my good Christian friend has every day of the week.

I have read in the public press the arguments of one of the highest officers of the Episcopalian Church, that is nearby where my friend lives, and I would imagine, members of the committee, that gentleman knows more of the Bible than our fellow lawmaker does, and that is the Right Reverend Alexander Mann, Bishop of the Presbyterian Episcopal Diocese of Pittsburgh. He tells us that he plays golf on Sunday regularly, and that he can see no harm in letting the public witness a baseball game on Sunday.

Members of the Committee, I cannot compare the lawmaker with that great religious leader. If that great religious leader thinks baseball is good on Sunday, I would rather take his view of religion than that of my friend who has just spoken.

Now, Mr. Chairman, how many states in this Union have baseball on Sunday? And are these states going to the dogs as my friend would predict? Why, Mr. Chairman, Pennsylvania, by reason of the diminishing of our population, is losing two congressmen, and these states that have Sunday baseball have not been losing in population. Have they been losing in wealth? Have they been losing in influence? To the contrary, they have been advancing and we have been going back. If you were to visit Philadelphia on a Sunday, you would find all the wealthy men like my friend, the lawmaker, in the air at Atlantic City, and all of those that struggle hard to produce the wealth that we consume to live on, are standing around the corners tempting everyone to do wrong. And I submit, Mr. Chairman, that my friend is mistaken; this amendment is in the right direction and is intended to save the Blue Law, preserve the spirit of the Blue Law, and keep alive the landmarks of our ancestors.

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, in November, last, the Philadelphia Record sent out a questionnaire and I presume each member of this House received one. I want to read my answer to them at that time because it is my attitude today:

"Gentlemen: Answering your letter of the 14th inst., I beg to say that I do not favor any change in the law for Sabbath observance. The law establishing such day is much older than the Blue Laws of 1794, and was accompanied by nine others of equal importance. Although all of these are being violated, I have heard of the repeal of none. I had nothing to do with their enactment; neither have I been authorized to assist in their repeal. Therefore I favor letting them alone."

The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, advocated the repeal of this Sunday law because it is being violated. Every one of the ten commandments is being violated. Should we repeal them all because they are being violated? And if we are to repeal all the laws today that are being violated, I think that we could burn our statute books and all go home. The gentleman who has just spoken referred to a minister of the gospel who played golf on Sunday. And I have no doubt that there are many such. We have ministers and ministers. I recall, as perhaps many of you do, a bishop of the church of which he spoke, who opened a saloon in New York City thinking he would solve the drink problem. I know it to be a fact because I entered the saloon to see how it was conducted. I favor voting down this amendment.

Mr. BRAHAM. Mr. Chairman, I didn't intend to rise as I did a week ago, and I sat here and let them besmear Knox and Calvin; but when they dragged in old Matthew I could not stand it any longer. I think that both teams have been very well warmed up. We are ready for the game. I have the same confidence in this House that I had a week ago. Let's call the game; let's face the pitcher. Let's play this game and play it fair. Do not deceive yourselves, gentlemen, there have been things said here this afternoon we will long remember. There have been things said here that I wish had not been said, but don't forget that as we play this game we must play it fair, for their is an Umpire that we all must face. Play the game right.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Chairman and ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is safe to go on the principle of every man to his trade or profession. We have listened to a great many speeches on this problem before us. I bow in humble deference to the gentleman of the cloth, from Venango, who, I believe, is perfectly competent to advise us on the spiritual part of this problem. In like manner I turn now for the clarification of the legal point to a gentleman learned in the law, and to bring this point to the fore, I ask if the sponsor of the amendment, the gentleman from Philadelphia, will be interrogated?

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, I will.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Sowers, are there any business enterprises or commercial businesses organized and operated for profit, permitted under the law today to operate in the State of Pennsylvania on the Sabbath Day?

Mr. SOWERS. You have asked a question which would require quite a long time to answer. Today the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit the running of an automobile; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit the operation of a railroad; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit the broadcasting of services from a church; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit the telegraph and telephone; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit the purchase and distribution of gasoline; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit the rich from playing golf on Sunday instead of attending the churches they endow; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit all other kinds of businesses which are being run on Sundays; even the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit taking the minister home from church in a taxicab; the Blue Laws may or may not prohibit—oh, well it would take me an hour to tell you. The Blue Law does not prohibit a laborer who has worked all week from moving from one house to another. I never played golf on Sunday and never play baseball on Sunday; I never play cards any day in the week. I can even say more than my religious friend in the rear of this House, I haven't done on Sunday or weekday half of the things that he has done. I may not be the most religious man in the world, but in my obedience to the Christian philosophy, I bow to none.

Mr. STEWART. The second question I want to ask is whether or not, in the opinion of Mr. Sowers, who is a lawyer, the enactment of this law would not confer a favor, a privilege and special right on organized baseball to the exclusion and in prejudice of every other legitimate business operating in Pennsylvania today?

Mr. SOWERS. The adoption of this amendment would confer no more right on organized baseball than what President Coolidge did when he signed the bill approving baseball in Massachusetts; and I submit to my friend that I have a very high regard for that Republican president.

Mr. STEWART. A week ago this House experienced what I called in my own mind at the time a legislative traffic accident. A so-called milk bill was reported out of committee. It was brought in here and went up and down the aisles of this House to the accompaniment of most heart-rending appeals, and the wails of babes in arms, who must have their milk on the Sabbath Day. And then there was loaded on to that milk wagon a Sunday baseball bill, and I think it is about as illogical to tie on to a milk wagon the interests of organized commercial baseball as it would be to try to graft a lemon on a milkweed.

This bill, as I see it, is entirely and solely in the interest of those wealthy owners of baseball franchises in the large centers of population. Organized baseball is a highly organized, highly commercialized business, not only in this State but in the entire nation today, and I am surprised that so far no one has raised this point, and that is why we are here today, and last week devoted so much time in an effort to give a special right and privilege to one of the greatest trusts that we have in this country today.

I am surprised to receive in my mail a plea from certain leaders, professing to be representative of organized labor, who make a plea for this bill in behalf of these baseball owners. May I ask these leaders whether or not the contract that is forced upon organized baseball players falls within the approval of organized labor? Do they not know that the organized baseball player works under a contract, the provisions and the terms of which are lily white when contrasted with that so-called yellow-dog contract? Do they not know that organized baseball owners deal in human flesh, and in the talents and skill of that human flesh, and that they meet annually to deal in those human beings whom they consider their chattels, and that they buy and sell these men and their services one to the other? Not with the idea of having a winning team, but in order to establish that parity between the teams that will, in the words of the well known night club hostess, Texas Guinan, lure the suckers to the box office.

You all know it. Here we have some of the most important legislation affecting this State before this House, and we have so far lost our sense of perspective that we waste a lot of time on bills like this, which can have no other purpose than to legalize organized baseball.

Will it add to employment? Yes, perhaps it may mean that some more men will be employed on the seventh day of the week. But I want to again ask these leaders of organized labor whether they have looked into this proposition and are satisfied that those who work by the season, those who work by the week or month, will be paid for that extra day's labor, or will that be expected to be thrown in? I venture to say that that has not been thought of.

Another thing, it seems to me we are extremely selfish in demanding this type of amusement and relaxation on the Sabbath Day, because these amusements cannot be offered to us without the employment and without the thousands of men and boys having to be employed, in order to amuse us, and we are asking for ourselves the very things that we deny to the man who is compelled to labor as a player, a gatekeeper, a guard, a policeman, or an usher.

In conclusion, I want you to weigh well the fact that this bill confers upon a highly organized and commercialized business, a favor, a privilege and a right denied to every railroad operator, to every bus operator, to every trolley operator, to every seller of gasoline or accessories, or to any one else who is making it possible for us to buy the things on Sunday which in a modern and more or less complex civilization we have found it necessary to have.

Mr. MUSMANNO. May I interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield County, Mr. Stewart?

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Stewart, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. STEWART. Yes.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Is the gentleman from Clearfield County an editor, as the legislative directory indicates?

Mr. STEWART. He is supposed to be.

Mr. MUSMANNO. And is he not interested in the publishing business?

Mr. STEWART. Yes.

Mr. MUSMANNO. And is not the publishing business a highly commercialized business?

Mr. STEWART. Yes.

Mr. MUSMANNO. And is it not a fact that the publishing houses throughout the State, especially the publishing companies which print newspapers, operate on Sunday?

Mr. STEWART. I think a bill to legalize the publication of newspapers would be more logical than the one to legalize Sunday baseball.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Do they not at the present time operate on Sunday?

Mr. STEWART. They do, in defiance of the law.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BENJAMIN JONES. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BENJAMIN JONES. Mr. Chairman and ladies and gentlemen of the House, as a member of this House for three years, I have never lifted my voice against any legislation on the floor, and I am not going to do it at this time. But very nearly every day I pick up the papers and see blazoned on the front pages about the Law and Order Committee of the House, that they are narrow, they are prejudiced, they are bigoted. My associations with that committee are that I find the Law and Order Committee, the men that compose it, of the highest type that I have ever associated with.

Now, I also want to prove to this House that the law and Order Committee is the best friend that the members of this House have. They are not your false friends, and they have not tried to get you in a hole, they have not tried to send you back where you cannot face your friends.

The members of this House know that about two months ago, at a banquet at the Penn-Harris, for the friends of Sunday observance, His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, made the remark that he was against any liberalizing of the Sunday law, and he was resolved to down anything in that respect.

Now, the gentleman from Philadelphia, whom I have the highest respect for, has convinced me that Barnum was right when he said, "There is a sucker born every minute." Two weeks ago, or a week ago, we had a battle here, with a city slicker in one corner and a country rube in the other. Now, I am not saying this in disrespect to either. The one that I call a city slicker is Philadelphia and a part of Allegheny. And I don't mean that with any disrespect when I call them city slickers, because Mr. Hoopes stated that a city slicker is a gentleman from the city that knows a whole lot.

The country rube is the man in the rest of the counties, outside of those two counties. The gentlemen from Philadelphia know that this legislation cannot get by Governor Pinchot. They knew that when they introduced it, and they know it when they are trying to put it down to us. They also know that they are not only kidding themselves, but they are kidding Connie Mack, the greatest manager that ever was in the United States. They are kidding Charlie Shibe, whom we have the highest regard for. They are kidding the people of this State, that they are going to put a bill over to legalize Sunday baseball, and they know that they are not going to do it, because Governor Pinchot stands in the way. That is a fact.

Now, the gentleman whom I class as the country rube last week, you must all agree, the country rube was made a sucker out of. And how were we made a sucker?

Because when they knew that this bill could not pass, they insisted on putting you and me on the griddle. Now I am not talking about the actual toasting primarily, but I am saying putting you on the griddle, in that you could not go home and face some of your friends, they put you on the griddle, so that some of the ladies of this House begged them not to do it, that they had to go home and hang their heads in shame, because they are church people. Those are the things that I am resenting. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, you were made a sucker out of once. Are you still going to be a country rube and let the same thing happen again?

Now I heard different ones quoting Scripture. You can take the Scripture and twist it any way. A fellow asked me the other day, where necking was invented. I said I didn't know. He said it was invented in the Bible. He said that part of the Scripture where it says "Solomon took the Queen of Sheba to the banquet hall and fed her wine and nectar."

Then another proof is that somebody says, why doesn't a baby talk the first time it is born? Well, the fellow says they never talk the first day. Now we can prove by the Bible that it is not so. Because it says in the Bible that Job cursed the day he was born.

Now Mr. Chairman, I am just obeying my constituents here, I don't feel like being made a sucker out of any longer. I am content.

The CHAIRMAN. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, may I interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne?

Mr. JONES. Mr. Chairman, on advice of my counsel, and for fear I might incriminate myself I refuse to be interrogated.

Mr. SOWERS. I did not want to ask a question that might incriminate my friend. He incriminated the Queen of Sheba, and he incriminated everybody, but who would want to incriminate him? A man that works on the railroad on Sunday?

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

The years and nays were required by Mr. Sowers and Mr. Schwartz.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE RISES

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee of the Whole do now rise and report House Bill No. 817 to the House as amended.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Chairman, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

THE SPEAKER (C. J. GOODNOUGH) IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole, I return House Bill No. 817 in amended form.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the report of the Committee of the Whole?

The report was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four (Three Smith Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An Act for the prevention of vice and immorality and of unlawful gaming and to restrain disorderly sports and dissipation"

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE BILL NO. 817 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 817 be made a special order of business for Monday evening next (May 4, 1931) at 10.00.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PROCEEDINGS IN COMMITTEE OF WHOLE MADE PART OF LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move you, sir, that the proceedings in the Committee of the Whole be incorporated in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. FLEISHER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1366, Printer's No. 527, on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Witkin,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1366, entitled:

An Act regulating and licensing the sale transfer and possession of certain firearms prescribing penalties procedure and rules of evidence conferring powers and imposing duties on courts of quarter sessions sheriffs and heads of police departments and to make uniform the law with reference thereto.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know that you have listened at length to a great number of addresses, and with your permission I shall endeavor to be as brief as I possibly can in connection with this bill, which is commonly known as the firearms bill.

May I first call your attention to the fact that the present firearms bills is not House Bill No. 460, which was, to a great extent, known as the Witkin bill? House Bill No. 460 had so many objections to it and so much opposition against it that I withdrew that bill, known as the Witkin bill. In place thereof is the present bill, which is a compromise bill, known as House Bill No. 1366. This is a bill that was promulgated in cooperation with the Attorney General of the State of Pennsylvania. It has the endorsement of practically every organization of sportsmen or otherwise within the confines of this Commonwealth.

The purpose and aim of this bill is at the criminal, not at the law-abiding citizen. I hope to show you, very briefly, that the purpose of the bill is followed by the contents thereof, and if you will permit me, I will use the reverse order of argument. I wish, first, to tell you what the bill does not do, then to tell you what the bill does do.

This firearms bill does not interfere with the right of any law-abiding citizen to have in his home, to possess in his home or place of abode, or his place of business, a firearm. It does not require you to register your firearm in your home or in your place of business. It does not require you to register firearms that you may purchase in the future. It does not do any such thing. It also provides that hunters and sportsmen need not have a license to carry a firearm. It provides that persons who are going to and from target practice with their firearms need not have a license. It gives the definition of firearms, and that is, that a firearm is a pistol with a barrel less than twelve inches, a shotgun with a barrel less than twenty-four inches, or a rifle with a barrel less than fifteen inches. These instruments are not the instruments that are used by hunters commonly. With very few exceptions, these are the instruments that are used by the gangster, and by the criminal and by the lawless.

Now, let me tell you what the bill does do. The bill says that if you carry a firearm, as described in this act, you need a license only for the purpose of carrying a concealed weapon. It does not require you to have a license for carrying a weapon not concealed, and the weapons therein referred to are simply the weapons that I have described.

The bill does stop the sale of firearms to children; it does stop the sale of firearms to drunkards, habitual in character, and to people of an unsound mind. It does stop the sale of firearms to persons who have been convicted of crime. It does require dealers to keep a record of their firearms. It requires persons who want to sell firearms to obtain a license to sell firearms. It provides for a method of appeal for anyone who is not granted a license, and in this connection may I say to you that there is an amendment, which is not in this bill, and which it is agreed will be offered in the Senate, providing that a person who applies for a license to carry a gun, if he is aggrieved by the decision of the licensing officer, who says that he shall not have a license, may appeal that refusal of that licensing officer to grant his application, and there is an amendment, which we have agreed shall be offered in the Senate, which also says that a license may be revoked, but that if the license is revoked it can be appealed by the person who is aggrieved by that decision. It also provides that there shall be an appeal in the case of dealers whose licenses have not been granted.

This bill also provides that an additional penalty shall be imposed upon any person, who armed with weapons contrary to the provisions of this act, commits a crime of violence, to wit, a felony. It does not refer to misdemeanors.

Now, members of the House, I want to close by saying that in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the last thirty years, the number of murders has increased ninety-five per cent. I want to say to you that in those murders that have been committed—in ninety-five per cent. of those murders, firearms have been used. I want to say to you that in the commission of robberies in almost every instance firearms have been used. This bill is not aimed, it is not directed at the law-abiding citizen, and I use the words of the present Attorney-General, that it is an anti-racketeers' bill; a bill that is aimed and directed at the criminal who wants to go about carrying concealed in his automobile or concealed on his person a deadly weapon. It is aimed at the gangster who rides about our cities with shot guns in his automobile, with revolvers in his automobile, who, when apprehended and arrested by the police officials, can laugh and scoff at the law and say to the police officials and to the citizens, "True, I have a gun in my car; true, I have revolvers in my car. True that is, and you cannot even indict me for any offense and you must let me go." I say, the purpose of this bill is against that class of individuals.

Two years ago this bill was before you. It was a much more drastic bill. You objected to the registration, you objected to the part which provided that the fire arms should be registered and yet you were willing, I dare say, to legislate against the criminal. We have removed those provisions, have taken them out, and we ask your hearty co-operation to help this State join those States having similar legislation.

I would like to say to you that the National Rifle Association has withdrawn its opposition to this bill. I have in my possession a telegram. It says that the bill meets with their approval, subject to the amendments that I have agreed to introduce. Major Wheeler has a similar telegram from the National Rifle Association, and I am going to ask the members of this House to vote aye on this bill.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, two years ago I opposed the firearms bill offered by my colleague from Philadelphia. I wish to say to the members that this bill is very different from the firearms bill of two years ago. It does not infringe the constitutional rights of citizens to keep firearms. It was endorsed some few weeks ago by the National Rifle Association. Subsequent to that event, the National Rifle Association withdrew its endorsement of this bill, which is, as you may know a modification of the so called uniform firearms law, but subsequently I received a telegram, in response to an inquiry as my colleague has said, from C. B. Lister, Secretary of the National Rifle Association, reading as follows:

"If the Witkin bill is amended to allow individuals the same right of appeal for revocation of permit as allowed licensed dealers, the National Rifle Association now withdraws its opposition and approves its passage."

I asked to have the bill postponed yesterday, and the sponsor consented. In the meantime I have conferred with him and with the Attorney General. While I do not, as a rule approve of the practice of agreeing to amendments which are to be made at a later date, and not in this House, I stood by until I saw the amendments actually drawn—I have them here—and I understand that they are satisfactory to the National Rifle Association, and I have the word of the sponsor of the bill that they will be properly presented in the Senate.

Now, we cannot speak for all the sportsmen in the State. No doubt this bill will mean considerable irritation to many of them, particularly in the rural districts. However, I believe that the sportsmen in the State, like the National Rifle Association, are patriotic, and I hope they will consent to a certain amount of personal inconvenience, in order to carry out their patriotic duty of contributing their aid toward curbing the menace of organized crime. Therefore, speaking for myself, I am glad to withdraw my opposition to this bill.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my attraction was first directed to this bill when it appeared on the calendar, by the flood of letters, telegrams, and protests that I received against the bill. I sat down and made as careful a study of it as I could and I answered those letters and telegrams and protests like a dutiful legislator, by saying that I was opposed to the bill, and would do everything I could to accomplish its defeat. I think I told the sponsor that I couldn't go along with him two years ago and I was sorry I couldn't go along with him this year. Since we have had some religion this afternoon, there is an old Methodist hymn to the effect that: "While the lamp holds out to burn, The vilest sinner may return," and I have been having a change of heart. I have gone over this bill very carefully and the sponsor has also submitted to me the amendments which will be properly presented in the Senate—the way they ought to have submitted the amendments last night to the fair rate bill—and I am perfectly satisfied to go along.

The bill works no hardship on any honest sportsman or any decent citizen. It's sole aim is against those high binders and highwaymen who use sawed-off shot guns in automobiles. It is not necessary to discuss the provisions of this bill. The gentleman from Philadelphia has discussed them very fully and very thoroughly. I think that by voting aye on this bill we will contribute our little bit toward curbing organized crime, as we see it in some of our larger cities.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Witkin for a matter of information, on page 4, section 9, "no seller shall deliver a firearm to the purchaser thereof until forty-eight hours shall have elapsed from the time of the application." It that correct?

Mr. WITKIN. Yes; that is correct.

Mr. HEFFNER. That is correct?

Mr. WITKIN. You say, is that correct? It is correct. May I make this explanation? This provision says that where a seller, not a dealer, wishes to sell or deliver to another his firearms, in order that the record may be kept accurately from the date of the passage of this bill, should it pass, that that record must be filed with the proper officers, in order that a record of that gun or firearm as described in this act, shall be kept.

Mr. HEFFNER. Does that apply only to an individual, or to a retail dealer?

Mr. WITKIN. That only applies to an individual. The retail dealer is bound by other provisions more drastic than that.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to object to this bill on general principles. The bill is advocated as a preventative of racketeering. Now, racketeering is not just brought about by the sale of firearms, and if the manufacturer of firearms were entirely stopped, it would not be a hindrance to a criminal so far as the commission of crime is concerned.

As I understand it, a third class mechanic could make a gun that would be sufficient to carry out this work in a day, if he so desired. All the restrictions that this bill may contain I contend are upon law abiding citizens. I think myself, in particular, traveling to and from Harrisburg, every week. I have two or three others in the automobile with me. If there are any criminals along the way, they know that we have enough to carry us over a week, and if we are not allowed to carry a revolver, if we have no means of protecting ourselves, and if they make it so that we cannot carry one it is going to make the picking that much more easy for the criminal. I cannot see where this is going to eliminate any crime. I think it will increase it, and for that reason I am going to oppose this bill.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been rather loath to arise here in defense of this bill, but on account of having done so during the past session, I feel it my duty to say a few words about the bill before you.

If you will look at page 2, section 2, you will see there "If any person shall commit or attempt to commit a crime of violence when armed with a firearm contrary to the provisions of this act, he may in addition to the punishment provided for the crime be punished also as provided by this act."

Section 4: "No person who has been convicted in this Commonwealth or elsewhere of a crime of violence shall own a firearm or have one in his possession or under his control."

Also, section 5—I believe that those sections are the vital sections of this act.

In connection with section 10 on page 7, it provides that a retail dealer must be licensed before he can sell firearms. In Pennsylvania today there is absolutely no check upon that firearm. The gangster and the racketeer may have the identification marks erased or substituted but under the provisions of this act here, that will constitute a separate and distinct crime.

I am ready to believe that this bill is a good bill more forcibly than I did two years ago, for this particular reason, that just about two months ago in our county a man who was commonly known and believed to be a gangster, a man who carried firearms, yet it was always impossible to get something on him by the officers, went up into the State of Connecticut, and in that state he was searched and a revolver was found upon his person, with the identification marks removed. The state of Connecticut held him, and upon investigation found that he was a man long wanted in the state of Connecticut and also in the State of Massachusetts. Now, in Pennsylvania, as long as that man could explain that he had the revolver for the sole purpose of protection, there was no officer that had the temerity to search him or ascertain whether or not he had a revolver. This bill, I believe, will have a far-reaching effect to restrain the dealer who is conscienceless, who will sell a revolver or firearm to every Tom, Dick or Harry, irrespective of who he may be. It will place a license provision upon that dealer. It will require him to do certain things before he can sell a revolver or other firearm. In other words, it will cause him to be more cautious about disposing of firearms in his possession, and in turn, it will cause those people who have absolutely no right to have firearms in their possession to be more guarded about having them, because that provision of the act about the carrying of a firearm, unless certain provisions of the act have been complied with, constitutes a crime.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponser of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia may have explained just what changes have taken place in the bill. Did you not state in your address or in your speech to the House that you were making an amendment to the bill?

Mr. WITKIN. Yes. The amendment, which will be made to the bill, is the amendment which will give a person who has been refused a license by the licensing officer the right of appeal, and it will also give him the right of appeal in cases of licenses revoked without proper cause.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Witkin, you have been very liberal, but tell me how we will solve this problem: Many of us drive many miles to our hunting camp, and we are permitted to take our rifles and our shotguns, if we were to take our revolvers along, may we take our revolvers without a permit?

Mr. WITKIN. Yes; you may. If you are a hunter, you require no permit to carry any firearms, and, furthermore, if you are not a hunter and want to carry it, and do not carry it concealed, you will not be required to have a permit.

Mr. HOLMES. My interpretation of that bill was different from that.

Mr. WITKIN. You are absolutely incorrect in your interpretation. The interpretation that I have given you is the interpretation of the Attorney General.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have had about two or three hundred signatures to petitions and letters relative to this bill. I believe that it has been largely due to a misunderstanding, that may have been one of the principle objections.

We must concede that the sponsor of this bill and the proponents of this bill are absolutely honest in their purpose. We have also another large group of people in the State of Pennsylvania who think any kind of firearms bill will be a mistake.

I believe that this bill is of such importance that it ought to be decided without prejudice or passion, even though it is such a distinct departure from the spirit of the Constitution and the letter of the Constitution of this Commonwealth.

I have taken some pains to investigate the conditions where they already have anti-firearm bills. In the first place, we find that it is necessary for policemen to have a firearm. We know also that in the state of New York and in the state of Illinois where they have anti-firearms bills, if we compare the crimes or homicides in their cities with those in ours, we find that in the principal city of this state, Philadelphia, crime is far less than it is in either New York or Chicago.

Now, here is a group of people who firmly believe and they are honest in their belief that any bill which will interfere with the use of fire arms will not prevent crime, but will increase it.

You know that in New York state they have passed the Sullivan act, and Judge Corrigan was one of the advocates of that bill, and he has recently made the statement that the Sullivan law disarms the reputable citizen to the benefit of the thug. The statistics reveal that homicides have increased in New York and that they increased after the passage of the Sullivan act in 1929 as much as eighteen per cent. I have also a statement from some of the associations in Washington, where this was discussed, and they say that any law which will in any way restrict the possession and use of firearms, will not be the means of preventing crime, but will be an encouragement to the gun men who commit crime. If we cannot control the gunmen under the concealed weapon act in the State of Pennsylvania, I don't see just how we can control them under this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constiution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE.

SENATE BILL No. 641 (HOUSE BILL No. 1972).

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1401, Printer's No. 146 (Senate Bill No. 109), on page 12 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Sterling.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1401 (Senate Bill No. 109), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds association, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing law," by adding thereto section five hundred and eighteen and defining the rights and responsibilities of fire insurance companies in the payment of dividends to stockholders.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. HEFFERON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, House Bill No. 1444 (Senate Bill No. 433), Printer's No. 166, on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Hefferon.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1444 (Senate Bill No. 433), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," by adding thereto section four hundred and forty-eight, authorizing counties to assist boroughs and townships and incorporated towns in the construction and maintenance of sewers and sewage treatment works.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POST. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to oppose this bill. This bill permits county commissioners to appropriate money to help boroughs and townships to build a sewage system. It is unfair to the rural sections and also to the cities as it does not include cities and townships where there would be any chances for their erecting a sewage system. It imposes a burden upon those who already have their sewage system established and constructed and in this manner those boroughs would be helping to pay for a sewage system in some other borough after they had already gone into building their own. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you to vote this bill down as I do not consider it good legislation.

Mr. HEFERON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call attention of the members of the House to the last section of this bill. There is nothing peremptory about it but it is an attempt to assist smaller boroughs to construct sewage system works. However, these provisions are not mandatory. The section says, "The Board of County Commissioners * * * may appropriate moneys." It is not mandatory; it leaves it to the discretion of the county commissioners.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hefferon, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEFFERON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RICHARDS. I would like to ask the gentleman from Washington why the counties of the third class are exempted from this bill?

Mr. HEFFERON. There are only three third class counties in the State.

Mr. RICHARDS. That is true; but I would lke to ask why the counties of the third class are exempt from this bill.

Mr. HEFFERON. The answer is that there are only three in that class.

Mr. RICHARDS. I repeat my request which the gentleman has not answered.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Washington decline to be further interrogated?

Mr. HEFFERON. I thought I had answered the gentleman. There are only three third-class counties in the State and so it was thought not necessary to take them into the bill.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't like to oppose the bill. It seems to me if it is a good thing for the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh class counties, it is a good thing for the third class counties. This bill is a treasury raider. While the bill is not mandatory, yet you can readily imagine that county commissioners running for office will be likely to tie up the money for sewage and sewage disposal plants in the townships, whereas the larger cities and towns pay seventy-five per cent of the taxes and the cities are going to pay for the sewages in boroughs and townships. I think it is a bad bill.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hefferon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hefferon, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEFFERON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. I would like to ask what the purpose is that inspired this bill.

Mr. HEFFERON. Small boroughs and townships that needed these improvements and were unable to build sewage disposal works without assistance of this character.

Mr. SPANGLER. Why should you ask the county commissioners to appropriate county moneys for purposes of that kind?

Mr. HEFFERON. I presume because they know of no other way to get the funds.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1520, entitled:

An Act to provide for two additional law judges of the court of common pleas of the thirty-second judicial district

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would request the sponsor of the bill to explain the need for two additional law judges in Delaware County.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, Delaware County perhaps is unique in its requirement for judges. Our local business and the work of our courts is far beyond our population and that is accounted for by the fact that while Delaware County in the 1930 census had but 281,000 population, we have a great string of industries reaching from Philadelphia to the Delaware state line. Many of the people who work in these industries commute, coming from Philadelphia, from Montgomery County, and from down in the State of Delaware. These industries raise large questions and bring a great amount of business into our courts. In addition to that, we have a third class city, the city of Chester, with some 65,000 to 70,000 population, the township of Upper Darby with something like 35,000 population, a third class city in itself, except that it has a township form of government, Haverford Township with about 35,000 population and a number of boroughs and townships in our county with a large amount of population that brings into our courts a large amount of business.

In 1927 the county of Delaware secured one additional law judge, although at that time we asked for two; we secured one. Our judges have been very much overworked, so much so that during the last three or four months our president judge Fronefield has had a breakdown. Our three judges on the common pleas bench are working fifty-two weeks in the year. I think that is almost unprecedented in any county in the State. They sit continuously during fifty-two weeks of the year in court. They are required to write their opinions before they go on the bench in the mornings and after they come off of the bench in the evenings, and most of the time they sit until five or six o'clock in the evening and recently I tried a case where they sat until eleven o'clock at night in order to clear up the calendar. Our judges work almost every Sunday,—I am glad that my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, is not in the House now,—but they are compelled to do so to keep up with the business of the court. I know of equity cases that are over nine months in arrears in their decisions by the court, and that is not due to any lack of effort on the part of the court, because I think we have three of the most industrious judges that you could find any place in Pennsylvania, men who have capacity and capability for an immense amount of work, and they give their entire time to the bench and in the work of our county.

We have a county that is a rapidly growing county. It has the largest growth of any county in the United States in the last ten years. While Delaware County has 280,000 population now, it is predicted by those who are supposed to know, that in 1940 we will have close to one million population in the county of Delaware. That is largely for the reason that the people of Philadelphia are getting common sense and are moving out into Delaware County where they can find more room and more opportunity to live under our fine conditions. This has occasioned a condition in our courts that requires an increase in our judges. I have talked to the judges in our court, and to the members of our bar, and all of them are of the opinion we should have at least two more judges in our court.

I might say to the gentleman from Tioga that during the last term of court we had in addition to our regular judges two extra judges serving in Delaware County in order that we might clean our list. Every lawyer knows that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the Bar Association and every agency connected with legal operations is endeavoring to get our courts to clean their trial lists and to have the cases tried in every term, and if we are to do that in Delaware County and expedite our business, Mr. Williams, it is absolutely necessary to have this help.

I might state to those members of the House who may have some doubt about this, that one of our judges is a very close friend and a close associate of the gentleman who is at the head of the Executive Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I had a talk with him within the last two or three weeks before I introduced this bill, and he asked me how many judges I was asking for, and when I told him two, he said, "That is absolutely right," so that is a view not absolutely on the part of us who are sitting here but also from another angle and from another viewpoint.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1630, entitled:

An Act abolishing the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and repealing inconsistent legislation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill as you know together with its companion bills is the friend that maintained our interest until the wee hours of this morning. I am hopeful tonight we will not spend a great deal of time on them and for that reason it is not my intention to attempt to analyze this bill, because if I were to do that it would necessarily mean a discussion of the merits and demerits of the companion bills, but I do think it important that this House realize that these bills are the most revolutionary, violent, drastic and extraordinary kind of legislation that this House will be called upon to consider this session. They are entirely destructive and not constructive and it seems to me that they were conceived only in the wild personal ambition of the successful candidate for Governor and are now to be railroaded or steam rollered through this House by means of the mighty power of his office. These bills affect not only so-called capital, but they affect that vast army of average citizens who as stockholders are really the owners of the public utilities of this State. Why the haste to compel a vote on these bills? This bill was introduced in this House just two weeks ago and was immediately referred to the committee of which the sponsor of this bill is the chairman. They were immediately passed out on the floor of the House, and I know I am committing no breach of confidence when I say that a member of that committee this morning told me that when these bills were reported out to this House it was with the understanding that they were to go back to the committee after two readings. These bills received no consideration as to amendments in the committee and as you know last night no amendments were considered. There were no public hearings on these bills. Now, are we to be told that we are simply to pass these bills to the Senate for their consideration? Are we to agree that we are not an equal legislative body having the same deliberative responsibility? To me the continual reiteration last night to put them in the Senate was a personal affront. I felt it to be a slight on our ability as legislators to consider this question, Mr. Speaker, because I consider that this House is entitled to further opportunity to study this bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special for the purpose of a public hearing and further study.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I listened with a great deal of interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia. In the first place I want to clear up an incorrect statement, and that statement was, that when the original bill, House Bill No. 1275, was reported out, that it was with the understanding in the Judiciary Special Committee that it should have two readings and come back into committee. As the chairman of that Judiciary Special Committee, I wish to state emphatically and unequivocally, without fear of successful contradiction, that there was no understanding to that effect whatsoever. The agreement in that committee that night was that the bill go out for the purpose of being printed with the amendments. It was discovered when the bill was out on the floor that before it could be sent back to committee it had to pass first reading, and if you members will remember, the bill was permitted to pass first reading and immediately sent back to the committee. After this was done, upon a study of the title of this original fair rate bill, some members, together with myself, came to the conclusion that if the original Fair Rate Board bill succeeded in passing the House and Senate and was signed by the Governor, if an attack was made upon it in the courts, the court without going to any great extent might have been able to find that the whole bill was unconstitutional on account of a defective title. That is the history of the original Fair Rate Board bill which was introduced in the latter part of the month of March. So there were three bills, to wit: House Bills Nos. 1630, 1631 and 1632, drawn up and presented in the regular form, and submitted to the Judiciary Special Committee, and in due course referred in this House and came out in the proper shape on first reading, and last night passed second reading. The three bills, these three bills, are nothing more nor less than House Bill No. 1275. I merely went into this detailed history so that there would be no doubt in the minds of any of the members of this House that there was any subterfuge practiced, chicanery, or fraud perpetrated upon the members of this House.

As to the fact that this bill is being railroaded, I cannot agree with that. I believe upon a little consideration that the gentleman from Phiiladelphia will agree with me that tnere is no railroading of this bill. You have listened, you have read all of the investigation, of the testimony introduced before the House committee and before the Senate investigation committee, all of which is entirely familiar to you. The original Fair Rate Board and the statement made is that this bill is merely to be railroaded through this House for the particular aggrandizement of the man who is across the Hall; that is absolutely unfair to the people of this Commonwealth. Every report that was made in connection with the Senate investigation without exception either set forth or admitted that there was somehing radically wrong with the Public Service Commission as it is now constituted. The report of your House investigating committee in the first sentence states as follows: "The evidence before us clearly shows that the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania has lost the confidence of the public." I sincerely hope that the day has not arrived in Pennsylvania when a court or a commission shall persist in existing and continue to function when they have lost the confidence of the people. It is immaterial to me what it may mean to the man across the Hall or what it may mean to any man in the House, but it is vital to me to know what it may mean to the people of this Commonwealth.

The people of this Commonwealth have their fingers upon the pulse of each and every member of this House. If that pulse tonight is going to get stagnant or clog up or congeal, then I say, men, that when we have to account for our stewardship we are going to have a difficult task in answering questions of our constituents. But, on the other hand, if that pulse is going to be virulent, full of life, a quick stream through each and every man here, if that pulse is to dictate what his conscience dictates to him, that there is something the matter with all of these dilatory methods, this shilly-shallying and this dilly-dallying; what is it all about? Let us be men; let the women here be women; let us stand on our two feet and either vote aye or vote no so that the people will know who ran the race in this House and who did not. By the way you vote tonight, that is a clear indication of how you shall be judged. I am soliciting the vote of any man in this House. I say to you that public utilities are not all bad. Some of the men, some of the members here, may feel that this legislation is not necessary, but for those members who are sincere in their belief that something should be done, I sincerely hope that they will have the manhood and womanhood to cast an affirmative vote when this bill finally somes up.

As to the issue before us as to the recommitment to the Committee on Judiciary Special, as I have stated before, there is no necessity for that, absolutely none. That motion should be voted down just like any other motion which seeks to delay. I agree with the member from Philadelphia, let us get down to business and let us not have a repetition of what occurred here last night and in the early hours of this morning. I respectfully request each and every member of the House to vote the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia down.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire whether a motion to recommit is permissible under Rule 14.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that a motion to recommit is in order whenever a bill is properly before the House, and the Chair further feels that certain parliamentary information is due the House. This bill has passed third reading. If the bill is recommitted, and the Chair is aware that the motion to recommit was for the purpose of a public hearing and further consideration before the committee, the committee would have no power to amend the bill. The Chair states this for the information of the House. We have a decision here along that line if it is required.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, that is my understanding also. I ask for a roll call on this motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Blumberg and Mr. Witkin.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1631, entitled:

An Act creating an executive agency of the State government to be known as the Fair Rate Board to administer The Public Service Company Law, its amendments, and supplements, as successor to The Public Service Commission; defining in part its powers and duties, transferring to the Fair Rate Board records, employes, property and equipment of, and jurisdiction over proceedings, pending before The Public Service Commission; and providing that all contracts, orders, rules and regulations of The Public Service Commission shall remain effective until modified by the Fair Rate Board.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE L. REED. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the House has passed House Bill No. 1630, abolishing the Public Service Commission. We now have before this House, Bill No. 1631, creating a Fair Rate Board. We have heard a great deal during the last year regarding a Fair Rate Board, but I submit that in this bill the Fair Rate Board has a very humble beginning. By House Bill No. 1630 we have stricken from the Public Service Law, Article four, containing eighteen sections in the article, providing for the constitution of the Public Service Commission, and all we have in the present bill creating the Fair Rate Board is twelve lines, "That an executive agency of the state government is hereby created to be known as the Fair Rate Board. That the Fair Rate Board shall consist of seven members to be appointed by the Governor by and with the consent of two-thirds of the members of the Senate. Its members shall be appointed for such terms, shall have such qualifications, and shall receive such salaries as may be provided by the administrative code. The Fair Rate Board shall be the successor to the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and shall administer the Public Service Law, its amendments and supplements."

I was interested a few moments ago in the statement of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, that this legislation is not being railroaded through this House. It seems to me strange that that conclusion can be reached when the fact is that we do not as yet have the vital legislation before the House, which will appear in the administrative code.

Mr. Speaker, I can only construe the action of this House tonight if they vote in favor of this bill as being an admission on the part of the majority membership of this House that this House is a rubber stamp of the Governor. We are passing legislation tonight which is no more, as declared in this bill, than a declaration of policy. Real legislation is yet to come before this House.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I am not unmindful of the fact that about a year ago and since the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth promised the people that they would have an elected Fair Rate Board, and the provision was contained in the bill as originally presented by the gentleman from Schuylkill, but the ink had scarcely become dry upon it before that provision disappeared. It was an evidence that someone had blundered. Then tonight the gentleman from Schuylkill stated on the floor of the House that the bill was found to be unconstitutional and hence was abandoned. Again someone had blundered.

I say in all seriousness, Mr. Speaker, is it a wise legislative policy for this House to adopt this legislation before we have before us for our consideration the administrative code which will contain the vital provisions of the Fair Rate Board? It is because I believe that this legislation, this bill, at this time is unwise that I shall vote no.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1632, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-sixth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws 1374), entitled "An act defining public Service companies; and providing for their regulation by prescribing and defining their duties and liabilities; prescribing, defining and limiting their powers, and regulating their incorporation, and, to a limited extent, regulating municipal corporations engaged or about to engage in the business of public service companies; creating and establishing a Public Service Commission for the regulation aforesaid; prescribing and defining the powers and duties of such Commission and its officers, including the exclusive power to regulate the construction, alteration, relocation, or abolition of the crossings of railroad corporations, street railway corporations, or other public service companies, and of public highways by the tracks or other facilities of said companies; providing for the ascertainment by the Commission of the expense and damages resulting from such construction, alteration, relocation, or abolition and for the payment of such expense and damages, severally or proportionately, by the public service companies interested, the State, or municipal corporation concerned, and giving persons whose property is thereby taken, injured, or destroyed, authority to sue the Commonwealth for damages in such cases; providing for the terms, salaries, and compensation of the members of the commission, its officers, counsel, and employes; prescribing and regulating the practice of procedure before such commission, and upon appeal and judicial review of its orders and determinations by the courts of common pleas; and giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals in certain cases, and of all injunctions, mandamus, or other appropriate proceedings to enforce the provisions of this act and the orders of the commission, and to restrain such orders, subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the violation of the orders of said commission; making it the duty of the Public Service Commission to enforce the provisions of the act approved the nineteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled 'An act to promote the safety of travelers and employes on railroads, by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains,' by amending section nine thereof; repealing the act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seven, which provided for the appointment of the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission; and sections one and two of the act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, entitled 'An act to enforce the provisions of the seventeenth article of the Constitution, relative to railroads and canals'; and an act, entitled "To provide the maximum car service charges, including car storage charges, that railroad companies and corporations or associations may charge and collect on each car loading, and not unloaded within the free time for unloading cars, and fixing the free time that shall be allowed for unloading cars,' approved the twenty-fourth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven; and the proviso of clause three and the provisos of clause seven of section thirty-four of the act, entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations,' approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and all other legislation inconsistent with or supplied by this act," as amended by further defining restricting enlarging and modifying the rights powers duties and obligations of public service companies and the Fair Rate Board providing for the use of excess earnings further regulating fixed charges rates and classifications providing a more stable basis for computation of fair return restricting the life of certificates of public convenience charters and franchises of public service companies granting further rights to municipalities in reference to public utility operations further regulating utility securities regulating partially corporations affiliated with or affecting the business of public service companies regulating extensions of public service and charges therefor providing the method of publishing notices required in utility procedure and extending rights of consumers in reparation and appealed cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I arise with a great amount of hesitancy at the moment both because I have been on my feet so much that I feel the House may tire of my voice, and because I realize, with the determination of a great many members of this House to vote for this legislation, it is almost futile to say anything to you about this bill, in view of your votes on the other two bills. And yet I feel that I would be shirking my duty if I did not point out to you in this bill those things which have occurred to me and which have appeared to me as I have studied it in the last week or ten days, and also those things that occur to me by reason of the fact that I sat as one of the members of your investigating committee during the past two months every Wednesday afternoon, every Thursday, and every Friday, only missing two sessions in that two month's time on that investigating committee.

This matter is so important, it seems to me,—I believe that the first two bills, 1630 and '31, were extremely important to the people of Pennsylvania, but if we are to adopt some new legislation, if we are to have changes in our public service company law, certainly we should be most careful of the act that we pass here; and I want to say again what was said last night, or this morning, and what has been said again this afternoon, that we should not pass on our responsibility to the Senate, but that we as members of the House, ought to be willing to consider this matter carefully and conscientiously without any question of partisan politics, without any question of our likes and dislikes, but purely on the basis of the legislation that is before us.

Now, I said in the beginning, I realized that perhaps you men are tired of this matter; but I am going to ask your indulgence for just a few moments while I point out some of the things that occur to me in this bill.

In the first place I want to point out to you that this bill has in it what is known as a recapture clause. This bill says that all or part of the earnings between seven and eight per cent, and all of the earnings of the corporation over eight per cent, shall be paid into the state treasury; and then I want to tell you if you examine the testimony before the House Investigating Committee you will find that the experts called before that committee said that a recapture clause is not the proper thing in legislation of this kind. I call your attention to the fact that the Federal Government, in reference to railroads, had a recapture clause, and yet the Interstate Commerce Commission has recommended to Congress that the recapture clause be taken out of the Federal law, but appears here in this act.

It is ultimately unfair to take these gross earnings because they ought to belong to the people. It is another kind of taxation. If you are going to say that they should not earn more than that amount, it ought to go back to the rate payer, rather than into the state treasury. Certainly the employes of these companies who make it possible to earn these greater dividends, by their efficiency, ought to have a benefit in that, if there is going to be any return of these excess earnings.

In the next place, this bill provides that no corporation shall receive a charter, or shall receive a franchise, for a period of more than fifty years. I mentioned that to one of my colleagues, on the Investigating Committee, and he said, "Well, I guess we don't have to bother about that. We won't be here when that time comes around." But we are not legislating for today; we are legislating for the future of Pennsylvania. Then if you will study the clause carefully in this act, you will wonder what is going to become of the companies now in existence. I do not believe that legally and constitutionally you can enact a law that would restrict a charter of the companies now in existence, but this act makes it so that if a corporation desires to extend its charter rights, if it desires to extend its franchises, it must come in and make an agreement with the state to be bound by this act and therefore it would limit its charter to a fifty year period.

Now, suppose a corporation is forty years old, and it is then going to come in and be limited to fifty years. Can you conceive of anybody investing their money in the securities of a corporation when they knew that it only had ten or maybe fifteen years more to go, and you don't know what is going to become of it at the end of that time?

One of the most serious questions before our Investigating Committee has been the question of valuation and I say to you that nine-tenths of the trouble in Pennsylvania arises from the fact that the people of Pennsylvania do not understand the legal principles involved in the regulation of public utilities. Time and time again, before this Investigating Committee, people have talked about the return on the capital, while the law of our state and the law as laid down by the Federal courts maintains that the return is not upon your capital investment, but the return is upon the fair value of the property, used and useful in the operation of the utility. Now, our Federal Courts and our State Courts have laid down rules, by which you may make that valuation. You take into consideration the original cost or the historical cost, the ability of the utilities to earn and the earnings of the utilities, the securities outstanding, and last but not least, the most emphasized has been the question of reproduction cost new.

In other words, the courts have said that before you can determine the valuation of any utility company, you must find what is the reproduction cost new less depreciation of the value of the property used and useful by that utility, and because that has become one of the most dominant factors in the finding of valuation, it has led to a gerat deal of the difficulty that has occurred, not only in this state, but in other states; it has come to the point where the experts, before our Investigating Committee, have said that under reproduction cost new it is impossible for any Commission to effectually regulate utilities under its jurisdiction, and I have been inclined to believe that those men are correct in their statements.

One of the observers on our committee has been Mr. Cooke, who is an engineer, who has studied these questions, and who believes that we should adopt in Pennsylvania the theory of prudent investment; and he has set forth in paragraphs which appear in the reports which have been filed with you a discussion on that question, and the reasons why he thinks we should come to prudent investment. But I submit to this House, that neither in this act nor any place that I know of can you find just what prudent investment is. And therefore it will again come to the best judgment of the Commission what is prudent investment under this act, and it will come to the courts to determine what is prudent investment.

But if you say we are going to determine this upon prudent investment, the Supreme Court of the United States has said, you cannot determine it upon prudent investment; you must determine it upon the fair value of the property used and useful by the utilities; and therefore you are up against a constitutional question that you have passed an act that requires prudent investment and does not define what prudent investment is. That leaves it open to the construction of the courts, and the construction of your Public Service Commission to determine it, while the United States Supreme Court has said that you must find the fair value.

Now, the way they seek to get around it is by that contract agreement which I mentioned before, which says that the utility which desires to extend its charter, desires to extend its charter rights, which desires to extend its lines, must come in and enter into an agreement. But I submit to you again that that is going to open the door for the greatest amount of litigation that you have even seen in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to determine this question.

Do not forget that you have had eighteen years of experience under the present public service company law, and that by what you are doing here tonight, you are sweeping aside the eighteen years of experience under this act, the interpretation of that act by the Public Service Commission, the interpretation of that act by the appellate courts, and you are departing and embarking upon an entirely new field, an entirely new program and an entirely new way of determining those things which are to regulate these utilities.

This act also provides not only that the Public Service Commission shall regulate, but it shall regulate and control. Who knows what control means? Who knows what authority that may give? And I now serve notice upon the men who are interested in labor in this House, and those in this state who are interested in labor, that under this act the power will be within the Public Service Commission to determine almost the rate of wages that will be paid by any public utility in the state of Pennsylvania for its labor. And perhaps that will raise some questions that you will have to fight out in the future.

One of the things that this report which is submitted by your committee said that was imperative was that rates should not go into effect until they had been approved by the Public Service Commission. That has been one of the things that has irritated the people of Pennsylvania. Rates have been put into effect immediately after they have been filed with the Commission. Rate cases have been started. Sometimes the rate cases have gone on for a long period of time, and the people have had to pay a higher rate before the Commission found what rate they should pay. And therefore, in our Investigation Committee, we all believed that the rates should not go into effect until the Commission had approved them, with this reservation in fairness to every utility, that the Commission should be limited in its time in which it was to find approval or not of the rates. There is nothing in this bill that I have been able to find that says that there is any limitation upon the time that the Public Service Commission shall have in finding these rates, although it does say that the rates shall not go into effect until approved by this Commission.

Now, there has been a lot of misunderstanding in the state of Pennsylvania on these questions. The gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Brown, a few minutes ago, said to me, "One of the great troubles here in Pennsylvania is that the holding companies come in here and they inflate the values," and we have had a lot of that before the Committee on which I have sat and we have listened to statistics and figures to show, from the reports of these companies, that there have been inflations in their securities and inflations in their values that have enabled the holding companies to come into Pennsylvania and issue securities upon these inflated values. I do not think there is a man that has sat on that committee and listened to the testimony, and I do not believe that there is a responsible leader in the utilities in the state of Pennsylvania, that does not believe that our Commission should have control over the issuance of securities. But what does this act say? This act says that they shall have control over the person, corporation or co-partnership that owns a substantial interest in a utility, and one per cent shall be determined to be a substantial interest, and then it goes on to define in other clauses what they may do, until I say to you, to make it as brief as possible, that it will be possible under this act for the Public Service Commission, if you are the third cousin of somebody who has a ten per cent interest in a ten per cent interest in a ten per cent interest in a holding company that holds a ten per cent interest in some operating company, that it will be possible for them to come down and not only inquire in reference to that stock, but to investigate every one of your books, and your bank account, and everything else that pertains to your financial condition and your financial operations.

I wonder whether you believe that government ought to get out into your pockets and into your business that far?

I wonder whether when you sit down and think of that yourself, whether you believe that that is the proper kind of a proposition?

One of the great differences of opinion between the people on both sides of this question is this: that there are those that say that the Public Service Commission is too much of a court, that it hasn't any business to be that sort of a thing, that it ought to go out on its own initiative and initiate rate proceedings; it ought to go out on its own initiative and start a complaint of its own volition; and we asked the Commission to tell us how many cases they had ever started of their own volition, and we found that it had only started about eight in five years, up to 1930, when they started some during the years 1930 and 1931.

But my friends, one of the experts called before us was Mr. Attwill, the Chairman of the Public Service Commission of the state of Massachusetts,—and every expert that has been on the stand before this Committee has maintained time and time again that Massachusetts was the great example to hold up before us of efficient regulation. Mr. Attwill—and I have his testimony here before me,—said that the Commission could not of its own volition go out and start rate proceedings, because they could not be both the prosecutor and the judge. And then, on the train going down last Friday night, Mr. Attwill came into the smoking compartment, where I was sitting. We sat and chatted, and chatted through the dinner time on the train until I reached Philadelphia, and I explained this situation to him, and he again repeated to me, "They cannot do it. Any Commission has enough business brought to it to keep it busy. They cannot possibly go out on their own volition and hunt up these rate cases and try to file complaints against companies."

I believe there have been many instances that have come before this Commission that might have been inquired into. But there is another side to that question. One of the things recommended by this Committee, one of the things that got into every session almost that we had was that this Commission needed more appropriation and it needed more money.

With that in view I wrote to the Public Service Commission and asked them how much they estimated it would take to efficiently handle the work as outlined for these investigations by the complaints that come before them, and they sent me back a statement which showed that it would increase the Public Service Commission budget $800,000 for the biennium. Every Commissioner, every expert, that has been before us has said that this Commission is under-manned and that it does not have the help to go out and start rate complaints, and yet, although we recommend more money be given to the Commission, there is noting in this act, there has not been a bill introduced here to give the Commission more money.

And so I say to you tonight, that if you want to pass a bill—and I believe there are amendments needed,—every member of that Investigating Committee believes that there are amendments needed to our Public Service Company law,—we need a law that says that the rates shall not go into effect until the Public Service Commission has determined that the rate is proper but the Public Service Commission shall be limited in time in which it has to find. We believe that there should be more money be given to the Public Service Commission. We believe that it should have control over securities. We believe that some better measure must be found than this reproduction cost new. But you must remember that in almost every state in this land, and you must remember that the theory has been laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States, in decision after decision, and covering almost every year during the time that utilities have been regulated, that the Supreme Court has laid down a theory that contends that reproduction cost new must be taken into account, and here we are in a couple of months time, within the consideration of two weeks of this bill, we are going to wipe them out in Pennsylvania, and say to these utilities, "You have got to come in under a new theory in Pennsylvania." And I predict also to the members of this House that these utilities that have been part of the program of expansion that has added millions of dollars to the amount of money that has helped to keep unemployment down during this depression period,—if this is enacted into law, I will bet any member of this House a dollar to a doughnut, that there won't be a utility in Pennsylvania that will go ahead with a program of expansion, because it will not know what its income is going to be, it will not know what its valuation is going to be, it will not know what it is going to be able to do in the future; and if you men want, under those circumstances, to pass a bill like that,—we offered amendments, last night, and you steam rollered them out of the window,—and without further consideration, that is up to you. But so far as I am concerned, I vote no.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Staudenmeier.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STAUDENMEIR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman answer this question? Would the gentleman really be willing to assume all responsibility for the effects of the enactment of this particular bill, without any further change or amendment?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, would I assume the responsibility? Why, I am surprised at the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Wheeler, I do not say this act is infallible. I do not think there is a piece of legislation passes this House that is infallible. I think that in session after session amendments from practice are necessary to pieces of legislation, and just the same with this fair rate board bill, it will be discovered that during the next two years, if this becomes a law, some amendments are necessary just like the old public service law. Session after session from the time that the original public service act was passed there were amendments to that act. For me to assume that responsibility I don't know, but I am not alarmed about the public service corporations going out of business. This is not going to put them out of business.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, my remarks should be brief. I shall not weary you with objections to the bill, but I think it is obvious to any one who has studied this particular bill, that there are objectionable features contained therein. As I said to you last night, I am not particularly concerned about the Public Service Commission as it is constituted. I am not particularly concerned with the name of whatever body is proposed to succeed it. But I do feel that we should consider carefully a piece of legislation of this sort which presumably is calculated to make sweeping changes in the fundamental law as affecting our government. I think, without going into the details of the objections to this bill, I believe they are obvious to any of you who have read the measure and which I hoped might be removed by amendment in this body, the gist of that objection is simply this: those objectionable features are not in my mind calculated to inspire confidence at a time when revival of confidence is badly needed. For that reason I cannot conscientiously approve this bill in its present form.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 871 (Senate Bill No. 196) Printer's No. 23, on page 11 of to-day's calender, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 871 (Senate Bill No. 196), entitled:

An Act lapsing all unexpended or unencumbered balances of appropriations from the general fund made by the General Assembly at its session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven and prior sessions:

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally,

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would merely like to explain to the House that this is the general bill to clean up all of the unexpended balances. I placed it upon the postponed calender a couple of weeks ago until certain legislation had been passed, and I now ask the House to vote for it.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. DIETRICH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 787, Printer's No. 205, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 787, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred sixty-five) entitled "An act to provide for the safety of persons employed housed or assembled in certain building and structures not in cities of the first class second class and second class A by requiring certain construction and ways of egress equipment and maintenance providing for the licensing of projectionists requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department o Labor and Industry and in certain cases by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and repealing certain acts" by providing for fees for licensing of projectionists

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Deitrich.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dietrich, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIETRICH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the sponsor of this bil, to page 3, line 5:

"Every application for examination of a projectionist shall be accompanied by a fee of two dollars ($2.00). If the applicant is successful a Certificate of Competency and a license shall be issued upon payment of an additional fee of five dollars ($5.00)."

I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny what is done with the fee of five dollars in case the application should be refused?

Mr. DIETRICH. Nothing. It is returned.

Mr. WAY. The bill does not say so.

Mr. DIETRICH. It does not say that anybody else gets it either, does it?

Mr. WAY. It says that, "all fees shall be paid to the Department of Labor and Industry and by the said department paid to the state treasury through the Department of Revenue for the use of the Commonwealth." It does not provide for a return of the fee in case the application is refused.

Mr. DIETRICH. Are you through interrogating, Mr. Way?

Mr. WAY. Have you answered to what becomes of the five dollars?

Mr. DIETRICH. It is returned. If he does not pass the examination successfully, it is returned.

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I desire to object to this bill, because I believe it to be a very poor piece of legislation. I desire to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that there are over three thousand operators in the state of Pennsylvania. This bill does not provide for any provision for first or second class cities, or cities of the third class A—Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, or Scranton. Outside of those three cities, there are about three thousand operators who are required to pay a tax or license of seven dollars the first year, and five dollars for each renewal. Assuming that that revenue would be paid, it would amount to between fifteen thousand and twenty thousand to be paid into the state general fund, by that class of workmen, many of them are in the rural districts, and smaller districts, while the operators in the three large cities are not included in this bill. It provides that this amount shall be paid into the general treasury, but it does not provide for what it shall be used.

I consider the bill very unfair because it does not specify what will become of the fee to accompany the application. I question whether or not the applicant could have, under the provisions of this bill, his money refunded if his application be refused, and even if his money be returned, ladies and gentlemen of this House, why should a bill of this kind impose such a license when no tax, no license of that kind, is imposed upon employes in cities of the first, second and third class?

The salaries of these projectionists, are very good, the salaries of these men in the larger cities running as high as $100 or perhaps more, while the salaries of those in the samller towns—the towns mostly affected by the imposition of this tax or license—run, I dare say, as low as ten dollars a week and from that up to forty or fifty dollars. Many of them are unemployed. Many houses are closed. Then, I wish to call your attention to the fact—I am reading the report of the Department of Labor 1930—that there are seven hundred and forty-nine non-theatrical projectionists. "Non-theatrical projectionists," by the provisions of this bill means that those people, seven hundred and forty-nine, are not regular and are not on a weekly salary. They are employed for the projection of pictures in fire departments, schools, wherever they may have benefits, not commercializing, those men would have to take out a license, before they would be permitted to run a projecting or moving picture machine.

I also wish to call to your attention, Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of this House, to the fact that I hold in my hand a letter from the Department of Labor and Industry, saying that if this bill becomes a law, that a deficiency will be created in the next two years, as there is now no money in the budget more than that necessary to take care of the expenses of that department, and this added expense, will mean an additional office force in the Department of Labor and Industry, and if no money is provided, will result in a deficiency in that department, in case this revenue is not made available for the Department of Labor and Industry.

Ladies and gentlemen, I must oppose this bill, because I think it is an imposition on that particular class of laboring people, many of whom are out of employment or partly out of employment. It will mean the licensing of upwards of three thousand people, outside of the three largest cities, a license imposed upon those who are getting the smaller wage and cannot reasonably afford to pay it.

This bill is bad enough in its present form. If those projectionists in the larger cities were included in this bill, they then would be compelled to pay a fee and go through the same examinations as those outside of these cities.

I am going to ask you, ladies and gentlemen, when voting on this bill to give it your thorough consideration.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Session 1931 129th of the General Assembly

Vol. 12 HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29, 1931 No. 42

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 29, 1931

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou God of the Ages, we believe that Thou didst have a benevolent end in view in the creation of our universe. We believe that this world of nature has a purpose in it and is moving on to higher and better things.

We know it is Thy desire to guide the human race that it may advance to the end that Thou didst have in view for it.

Enable us to be co-laborers with Thee in the working out of Thy purposes.

We ask of Thee that we may keep step with Thee in the realization of these benevolent ends Thou dost have in view; and may we do our part toward making this world a better place in which to live. And Thy name shall have the praise eternally. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. DAIX, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12.09 A. M. until 9 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time) Monday evening, May 4, 1931.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 29, 1931.

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

We bless Thee Lord for the light of another beautiful morning. Thy servant David testified: "I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of His holy hill. I laid me down and slept; I awaked; for the Lord sustained me."

Give us each grace to remember that while we have slept, God has been awake. Thy guardian angels have encamped round about us, protecting us from all harm.

As reassemble here this morning we are faced with many pressing needs of the people of this Commonwealth. But about all mere temporal or physical needs of the people, impress upon us O God the consciousness that our greatest need is to be at peace with Thee and with our fellowmen. We crave for ourselves and the people whom we here represent a reanointing of that faith of our fathers which believed that "One, with God, could chase a thousand; and two, with God," could put ten thousand wrongs to tflight.

Sustained and guided by Thee, we would live wisely and well, throughout this another day. And then await Thy "well done"; in the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mrs. Denman, seconded by Mr. Loucks, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

which was re-reported from the Committee on Law and Order this morning be made a special order of business on third reading and final passage on Tuesday, May 5, 1931, at 12.00 noon.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING PARDON TO TOM MOONEY AND WARREN K. BILLINGS.

Mr. HOOPES offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over for printing under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1931.

Whereas, Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings, labor leaders of San Francisco, were in 1916 sentenced to life imprisonment in the California penitentiary for murder, in connection with the explosion of a bomb during a Preparedness Day parade; and

Whereas, All of the witnesses upon whose testimony these two labor leaders were convicted have since either repudiated their testimony or have been proven perjurors, wholly unworthy of belief; and

Whereas, Judge Griffin, the trial judge, has denounced the methods employed to convict Mooney as "the dirtiest job ever put over" in any court; the Attorney General of California urged a retrial of the case of 1917; a special commission of inquiry appointed by President Wilson in 1918 denounced the trial as a "frame-up"; Duncan Matheson, the head of the Police Department at the time of the Preparedness Day parade, urges a pardon; Matthew Brady, the District Attorney of San Francisco County declares that both Mooney and Billings were convicted on perjured testimony; Charles Goff, captain of police at the time of trial, active in the prosecution, also has called the trial and conviction a "frame-up"; James Brennan, active prosecutor in the trial, urges the release of both men; William V. MacNevin, foreman of the jury which convicted Mooney, has made a special plea to the Governor for release; and every other living juror who voted for conviction has appealed to the Governor to grant an unconditional pardon to Mooney; and

Whereas, In spite of this record, which aligns practically everyone who had anything to do with the trial in favor of an unconditional pardon, both of these men are still in prison; and

Whereas, This case is a reproach to American justice and is regarded by workingmen throughout the country and abroad as a demonstration that powerful corporate interests can manipulate justice to their own ends; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully memorialize the Governor of California to grant a prompt and unconditional pardon to both Mooney and Billings; and be it further

Resolved, That properly attested copies of this resolution be transmitted to Governor Rolph, and to Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1350.

A Supplement to the act approved the fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-one) entitled "An act providing for the preparation of plans and specifications and for the erection of the Eastern State Penitentiary on lands acquired therefor imposing duties in connection therewith upon the Governor the Board of Trustees of Eastern State Penitentiary and the Department of Welfare and making an appropriation" its amendments and supplements making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the further construction of buildings and facilities and the purchase of furnishings and equipment for the new Eastern State Penitentiary at Graterford and the development of the grounds thereof

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "March" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "May".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. POST. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

TIME EXTENDED ON ALL BILLS ON POSTPONED CALENDARS

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I move that all bills on third reading and final passage postponed calendars be extended for a period of five days.

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the terms of a joint resolution adopted May 1st, 1923, a committee of the House and Senate was appointed to conduct suitable services in memory of Senator Boies Penrose. These services were held, and at the conclusion of the same, on motion of Senator Daix, who was a member of the committee, the joint committee was continued. Under the terms of a bill passed by the House and Senate on May 4, 1927, sufficient funds were appropriated to erect a suitable memorial to the late Senator Penrose. Under a commission that was appointed by Governor Fisher, that duty was attended to by the commission so appointed, and under the terms of the act a monument was erected. The committee now begs leave to file their final report signed by the three surviving members of the original committee, the Honorable Augustus F. Daix, Jr., the Honorable Robert S. Spangler and myself. I beg leave to file the following report.

The SPEAKER. The report of the joint committee of the House and Senate of Pennsylvania to honor the memory of the Honorable Boies Penrose, signed by the members of the committee, the Honorable Augustus F. Daix, Jr., the Honorable Edward Haws and the Honorable Robert S. Spangler, will be noted in the Journal and printed in the appendix of the Legislative Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last night just as we were about to adjourn I objected to the introduction of a bill by unanimous consent. When I did that I started what you might call a "tempest in a teapot". I might at that time have gone on and stated my reasons, but half of the members had already left and the other half were on the point of going out. Some of the members, from the remarks that have been made to me, seemed to smell a plot, deep down and mysterious, of some kind. I want to say to the members of the House there was nothing at all like that. I may have acted on the impulse of the moment and yet I did not do that altogether.

I have been here seven terms, and I remember the bad feeling that has been caused in at least two sessions by the rule that permits members to introduce bills by unanimous consent after the hopper has been closed. I think it is one of the most unfair methods of procedure that I have seen in this House. I remember on a number of occasions in past sessions perhaps about ninety per cent or ninety-five per cent of the members accepted the rule as final and if they had any bills after the hopper was closed here in the House, they took them over to the Senate and introduced them over there. But it seems to me every session there are a few members who seek special privileges and seek the opportunity of introducing bills here after the rules of the House have said that no more bills shall be introduced.

Only last week, over the week-end, I was approached by several constituents of mine to introduce a certain bill, and I told them that under the rules of the House the time had passed for the introduction of bills and of course they accepted my explanation. Now, if this bill should come in here—these bills introduced under this special privilege are recorded in the newspapers—the public back home will say, "How is it I could not have my bill introduced when some other members still continue to introduce bills?

I merely want to call the attention of the House to this fact, that ninety per cent to ninety-five per cent are willing to abide by the rule of the House, and when some special privilege is granted to some other members, although the door of the Senate is still open to the introduction of bills at that time, it makes the other five or ten per cent of us look at home as though we were unimportant and as though the other members had much more prestige and pull than we had. I wish to merely call your attention to this. I purposely played last night what you might call "The Tyrant" for a few monents, just for the sake of calling the attention of the House to that particular practice, because if one member is not permitted to introduce bills, none of the other members should be permitted to do so. The Senate is still open to any member who wishes to introduce bills and I don't see why any member of the House should be so improtant personally as to be accorded a special privilege which is denied to the rest of us.

Now, I might have taken the chance of taking that bill that was offered to me and I might have gotten away with it, and again I might not, because I would have been at the mercy of any single member of the House who objected to the introduction of that bill. For that reason I did not take the bill and for the same reason I say that if any other member of this House has any bill that he wants to introduce, the door of the Senate is still wide open, and I don't see why ninety per cent or ninety-five per cent should be written down as not being able to introduce bills and then five per cent or ten per cent in order to be personally important should come in here and introduce bills and ask a personal privilege in introducing them. That was the reason, I remember in 1917 or 1918, that there was a lot of bad feeling in this House, just on account of this very thing. Some members introduced a number of bills by special privilege. Other members got up and wanted to introduce bills and one member got up and objected and they were denied the opportunity.

In order to be fair and to give an equal chance to every member of this House, I wish to say that if this House wants to re-open the hopper I will second the motion. If the gentleman from Northampton wants to re-open the hopper for three or five days or for whatever time he thinks and will make that motion, I will second it and vote for it, but I do not feel that it is fair to the ninety per cent or more members who respect the rules of the House and are willing to abide by them, to sit here and permit bills to be introduced when they themselves have turned down bills or carried them to the Senate and had them introduced there. I wish to call the attention of the House to the unfairness of that procedure. I feel that one member is just as good as another.

Personally I have no complaint. I turned down the last bills as they were offered to me and I have none to introduce, but I feel in fairness to all of the members of the House, that the hopper should be open to all of them, or closed to all of them. This unanimous consent affair is a matter of special privilege. Either open the hopper and let all of the members introduce bills, or close it and stand on your decision.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Berks under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last evening I was one of the number that has been mentioned by my friend, Mr. Sarig. I agree in toto with the remarks of the gentleman from Berks and I want to say to him and to the members of this House, that I am glad he has taken the stand that he takes and I hope the hopper will remain closed.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1519, as follows:

An Act to amend section twenty-six of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred ten) entitled "An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties" as amended exempting from the provisions of said act certain boxing sparring and wrestling exhibitions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twenty-six of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred ten) entitled "An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties" as amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred sixty) entitled "An act to repeal sections one to three and to amend sections four six ten fourteen sixteen seventeen twenty twenty-one twenty-three twenty-five and twenty-six of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred ten) entitled 'An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties'" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 26 The provisions of this act shall not prohibit any duly constituted organization or association organized for a lawful purpose from having boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions in connection with entertainments when such matches or exhibitions are conducted not for profit nor shall this act apply to or be construed to regulate or to impose any tax upon the admissions received from boxing sparring and wrestling matches conducted or sponsored by colleges high schools amateur boxing clubs under the jurisdiction of the Amateur Athletic Union and all posts and camps of the American Legion Veterans of Foreign Wars and United Spanish War Veterans Provided That before such match or exhibition is held a permit is granted by the commission

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1839

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS asked unaimous consent to call up out of order, House Bill No. 1839 (Senate Bill No. 550), on page 13 of today's calendar.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, it is not on file.

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the bill on the file is it in order to make a motion to recommit it?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of opinion that by unanimous consent the bill can be considered for the purpose of recommitting it, even though it is not upon the file. It could only be done, however, by unanimous consent. Therefore are there objections to calling up out of order, Senate Bill No. 550, when the bill is not on the file? The Chair hears none, and consent is granted for that purpose.

The act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand seven hundred sixty-nine) entitled "An act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas in the Forty-seventh judicial district"

Section 14 This act shall be in force immediately upon its passage and approved by the Governor

Nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal or alter the provisions of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expense thereof" or the amendments thereto nor to repeal or alter any of the provisions of an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" or the amendments thereto

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judicial Apportionment for the purpose of further consideration.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is the first time that I have been before you to tlak on any question that has been before this House.

This bill is being recommitted for the purpose of cutting out an amendment which I offered yesterday on second reading, taking care of Cambria County only——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking upon the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House, being a motion to recommit, the merits of the bill are not in order.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, may I arise on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I want to speak on the merits of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the matter of recommitting the bill and discussion of the merits of the bill is not in order.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the House showed the same courtesy to the Speaker at the time a motion to recommit the Blue Law bill was before this House, and I cannot see why that same courtesy should not be extended in connection with the recommitment of this bill at the present time. I made a personal concession to the gentleman from Philadelphia, and to the gentleman from Allegheny, in withdrawing my objection to the unanimous consideration of this commitment at this time, and certainly on a matter that is as important as this, the gentleman should have some latitude in the discussion of the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The impression of the Chair, however, is that the gentleman wanted unanimous consent to recommit, and the gentleman might readily have objected.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, it was the unanimous consent to the agreement, so far as I was concerned, in withdrawing my objection.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is going back for the reason that I offered an amendment yesterday, taking care of Cambria county only. It does not interfere with any other county. My only ambition in serving my people back home is to endeavor to reduce their taxes and get them out of the muddle they are in at the present time.

We have four judges in Cambria county, we have three court rooms; the four judges sit sometimes, but not very often; and the fourth one has to sit in a very small room. They have been plaing to build an additional court house but they cannot afford to do it. The tax payers of Cambria County face over twenty million dollars of indebtedness.

Now, I will read an article from one of our papers giving you the population of the different counties and the judges that they have:

> Cambria has a population of approximately 203,000, and it has four judges.
>
> Blair County has a population of 139,840, and it has one judge.
>
> There was a bill introduced to give them two judges, but the lawyers and the judge held an indignation meeting declaring themselves against it. This one judge does all the work, and says that he doesn't need any help.
>
> Clearfield county has a population of 87,000, approximately, and has one judge.
>
> Indiana County has a population of 75,000, and has one judge, and it must be remembered all the time that Cambria County has only 203,000.
> Bedford, Huntingdon and Mifflin have a combined population of 116,000, and manage to get along with one judge. One judge for 116,000 and four judges for 203,000, somebody was wrong when they gave us this extra judge.
>
> Comparing Philadelphia with Cambria county, Philadelphia with its population 1,950,000, has 21 judges. If the Quaker City had judges on the Cambria ratio, it would have 38 lawyers sitting on the bench, and not 21.
>
> Allegheny County has a population of 1,374,000 and it has 17 judges. If it had a judicial staff on the Cambria basis Allegheny would have 27 judges. The legislature, after surveying the facts, has so far refused to take measures calculated to increase Allegheny's quota of judges.
> The population of Pennsylvania is 9,681,000. There are 139 judges in the state. If the Commonwealth were staffed with judges on the Cambria bases, it would have 139 lawyers on the bench. It is true that our state pays the salaries of judges, but the people pay the state. Moreover the judges of Pennsylvania have too much political power. Whenever they want it, the judges lobby for an increase in salary. They lobby in behalf of a judicial pension system. The judges have it soft, because whenever they want anything all of the corporations between the Atlantic and the Pacific go to bat for them. From the standpoint of the enactments written on the statute books of this state, the judges from the Supreme Court on down have been legislative pets. Nobody dares go out and argue on the basis of the facts, because quite likely if the judges are offended one of them will somewhere find occasion to put you in jail.
>
> Judicial salaries are quite an item in the state budget. We have never forgotten the fact that when the judges wanted an increase in pay, the Supreme Court was able to manufacture an opinion showing that the salary given a judge could be boosted in the midst of his term of office.
>
> In the matter of judges, our doctrine is simple enough. It is this: Give the people all the judges they need, but don't create unnecessary judicial posts at the behest of lawyers, who may find it as easy to make out a case for five judges, here in Cambria County, as they do for four judges.

That is from one of our local papers.

As I said before, we have four judges and three court rooms. They have been planning to build an additional court room at a cost of $50,125, and there is over twenty million of dollars indebtedness facing the people in Cambria County. There were over five hundred and fifty-six properties returned for taxes.

I know that our Senator is lobbying on this bill and has our friends from Philadelphia lined up. I feel that a great many of them want to get away, and they permitted this bill to come up out of order. If they want to vote on the motion, we will give them that privilege; otherwise we might have held them here until late tonight.

I am only interested in cutting our taxes. Our Senator is interested in having one of his relatives as a judge. We have two to be elected this fall, and it would be much easier if there were two running than if there were but one. And he has the ambition to see that man clothed in a judge's robe.

My colleague who opposes this motion, says that he is an attorney. I never knew it until he told me. I have never seen him in any cases in court. He says that eighty-five percent of our lawyers want this bill, but I can assure you that the people of Cambria county do not want this extra judge. When they appointed a judge there a few years ago, that same judge was defeated. He was nominated by the Republican Party and an unknown Democrat defeated him without any effort on his part at all. The people of Cambria do not want this extra judge. We do not need him. We are electing two this fall, and I think the best thing to do would be to elect only one. Therefore, I am working in the interests of the taxpayers of Cambria County.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the recommitment of this bill is to strike down the amendment that was offered by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Williams, to reduce the common pleas of Cambria County from three to two, which would still give Cambria County, with the amendment of Mr. Williams included, three judges; namely, an orphans' court judge and two common pleas judges.

By some inadvertence, two years ago, Cambria County was given an additional law judge. Why? Nobody knows what the reason was. Certainly they never needed him. Notwithstanding the fact that the Legislature does things some times inadvertently, they make corrections later on, and so we should do in this case.

As has been said by the gentleman from Cambria County, Mr. Williams, Cambria County has 203,000 population, and four judges. In 1925 her estimated population was 226,000; so, as a matter of fact, instead of progressing in population, Cambria County is gradually being reduced. Now, on the same ratio, and that is what we have to consider, Cambria County has more judges than other county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Bedford, Huntingdon and Mifflin Counties, with a population of 116,665, have one judge. Clearfield County with a population of 87,000, has one judge. Philadelphia has 21 judges. On the same ratio Philadelphia would have 38 judges. Allegheny has 17 judges. On the same ratio Allegheny County would have 27 judges. Somerset County, with 80,764, has one judge, and so we can go throughout the Commonwealth and find four judges for Cambria County are one too many and even two too many. You will recall about 1921, I think it was, we repealed the full crew law. Why? We repealed the full crew law because we said that it was uneconomical to compel the railroads to have more men on the trains than was necessary. And now, does not the same principle apply in respect to judges in the Commonwealth? Why should we over-man our districts with judges any more than we should over-man our railroad trains with operators? I can see no reason in the world. What is my interest in this matter? My interest is to conserve the money of the Commonwealth. We are all interested in economy and we are doubly interested at the present time to see that economies are effected in every possible way, and everywhere, where they can possibly be effected, so that extra money can be used for necessary purposes. Today our hospitals in every section of the state are asking for twice as much money as they asked for before. Where are we going to get the money to meet these increased expenses? We have got to save, we have got to conserve, we have to be good house keepers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and economy is the watchword of this legislature.

You might say, why doesn't the Bar Association come here to make this protest? Well, we who are lawyers, ladies and gentlemen of the House, know that it is not unusual for members of the bar to ask that the number of judges be increased I would venture to say that for Cambria County, with two hundred and three thousand population, they would say it ought to have six judges. The bar would not protest; it is too intimate. The bar is in too close contact with the judges, and there is a certain amount of fear among the members of the bar to interfere in a matter of this kind.

As I say, my only purpose in opposing the recommitment of this bill, for the purpose of putting back four judges, into Cambria County, is not only to effect economies for the State—and God knows we want economy at the present time—but it is also for the purpose of effecting economy in the county of Cambria. Cambria, as I have been told, has an indebtedness of seven millions of dollars, which is the third largest indebtedness of any county in the State, and Cambria County has a right to come to this Legislature, and ask us to withdraw a judge that they find is unnecessary, who would be a burden on the county as well as a burden on the State.

I trust that this motion to recommit will be voted down emphatically.

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentleman of the House, I do not know what has wrought up our friend from York, Mr. Spangler, so terribly this morning. I cannot understand his interest in this judgeship matter at all. I hope sometime when we have more time he will take me aside and explain to me just how he got interested in this measure.

Members of the House, Cambria County has 203,000 people. We have three common pleas judges and one orphans court judge. Right now it is necessary for the orphans court judge to sit and spend his full time in the common pleas and quarter sessions to expedite the public business. My colleague, Mr. Williams, has some figures here, and I am glad that he has succeeded in putting them in the record, because he has carried them around all during this session. He introduced a bill in this House, which was referred to the Judiciary Local Committee, and he has read those figures to the committee, but he has not succeeded in getting his bill out of the committee. Yesterday on this Senate bill of Senator Ealy, while the bill was on second reading, he surreptitiously inserted this little amendment, changing the word, "three" to "two", and thus depriving Cambria County of a common pleas judge. If this gill goes through with this amendment, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentleman of the House, it would seriously disorganize the work of our courts. Judge Evans, who bears the same name as I do, but who is no relation, told me that two common pleas judges absolutely cannot handle the work that is required in our county. Cambria County is a coal county. Our criminal cases run from one hundred and fifty to three hundred cases every court term, and this next week two judges will be sitting and holding a special session of criminal court for the trial of two murder cases which happened between the interim of the last court term and this term.

Mr. Speaker, there is no sentiment in Cambria County of any responsibility except in favor of this measure.

So far as economy is concerned, it is real economy to have the judges that we have. Our calendars are clean, and I might say to the members of this House that if you have a case up for trial in Cambria County and are notified to come to Ebensburg on Tuesday, June something, be there, because your case will be called. You wont have to stand around for two or three days waiting for your case to be called. There is no time wasted in the selection of jurors, and the economy mentioned by Mr. Williams is after all false economy. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, all I ask you, that you kindly recommit this bill, so that it can be amended properly and put into the form in which it appeared in this House.

Mr. STADLTANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there seems to be a dispute between the Senator of Cambria County and the members of Cambria County. I would suggest that you vote aye on this question and send this bill back to the committee to be reconsidered. Possibly they may strike a happy medium, which will satisfy the wishes of all. Therefore, I request you to vote aye on this motion to recommit.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, How do you want us to vote on this particular motion?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I want this bill recommited to the Committee on Judicial Apportionment so that it can be put in the form in which it appeared in this House. The amendment introduced yesterday changing the word from "three" to "two", robs us of a common pleas judge. I want the bill to go back, so that it can be further reconsidered, and then returned to the House in the form in which it was originally.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, then, you are asking the members of the House to vote on a motion to recomit?

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask this question: were these amendments adopted by the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the amendments were adopted when the bill was on second reading, and agreed to by the House.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I also desire to ask if a committee has the power to take out any amendment that the House puts in any bill?

The SPEAKER. In reply to the question of information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Perry, the Chair desires to read a decision of a former Speaker. In 1885 the point of order was submitted that in line 16 of section 3, the word, "ten" is improperly in the section for the reason that on second reading, the word "ten" was stricken out and the word "five" inserted by the House. The bill was afterward recommited and the committee improperly restored the word "ten" and so reported. An amendment inserted in the House is direct instructions to a committee and should not be disobeyed by such committee. The Chair decided that the point of order was well taken.

A further point or order was raised that when the bill under consideration, was recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture it contained several amendments inserted on the floor of the House which were stricken out afterwards by the committee without authority. The House must insist on the amendments being replaced before proceeding with the further consideration of the bill. That point was decided "well taken". That was the decision in 1893, does this answer the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Perry.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, thank you.

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed second reading be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. There is a motion before the House.

Mr. EVANS. I withdraw the motion to recommit, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria withdraws the motion that Senate Bill No. 550, be recommitted to the Committee on Judicial Apportionment. Does the seconder of the motion agree?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. This request for withdrawal is agreed to by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, who seconded the motion.

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed second reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House ordered the bill to be transcribed for third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the title be reconsidered.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the original motion as made by the gentleman from Cambria and for which he received unanimous consent was to recommit this bill, and there the motion stopped. That, I take it, is as far as they have a right to go at this time in the consideration of this bill. I therefore rise to the point of order that further consideration of this bill, as to amendment, is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to look over the stenographer's notes. As we recall, unanimous consent was asked and received for the purpose of calling up out of order House Bill No. 1839 (Senate Bill No. 550). We do not recall that the purpose for the calling of the bill was stated.

(At this point the Chair examined the notes of the Stenographer.)

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire what business is before the House?

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is a point of order as to whether or not the House has granted unanimous consent for any purpose other than the recommitment of this bill, House Bill No. 1839 (Senate Bill No. 550), which was raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler.

Mr. FLYNN. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that the bill is now before the House?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that the bill is before the House——

Mr. FLYNN. And has been acted upon.

The SPEAKER. ——by unanimous consent for a particular purpose which the Chair was discovering from the stenographer's notes.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if that is material at this time? Is it not a fact that the bill is before the House and the House has acted upon it in a number of instances. The question that brought the bill originally before the House is not material now, the House having taken action on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans, asked unanimous consent to call up a bill out of order, that being House Bill No. 1839 (Senate Bill No. 550).

The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, raised an objection that the bill was not upon the file. Whereupon the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans, asked whether or not he might have unanimous consent to call up the bill for the purpose of recommitting, and the Chair stated that we were of the opinion that by unanimous consent the bill may be called up for the purpose of recommitting it. Whereupon the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes withdrew his objection to that course. It is, therefore, the opinion of the Chair that the bill is now before the House merely for the purpose of recommitment and that unanimous consent has been extended only for that purpose.

Further, the point of order was raised that inasmuch as the amendment was inserted by the House and the bill is recommitted to the committee, that committee would have no authority to remove an amendment that was inserted by the House, and the Chair has in fact, after reading a decision, ruled that the committee could not remove from a bill an amendment that was inserted by the House after the bill has been recommitted to the committee. In making that ruling we followed a precedent established by a former speaker.

The question now comes as to whether or not the House has extended unanimous consent to consider this bill for any purpose other than that of recommitment.

This matter was followed by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans, moving to reconsider the vote by which the House inserted this amendment, and in a measure the House has reconsidered that vote.

The point of order is then raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, that the House has only extended unanimous consent to consider the bill for the purpose of recommitment and it was upon that point of order that the Chair was endeavoring to inform itself as to the purpose, as revealed by the stenographer's notes, at the time unanimous consent was extended. The stenographer's notes revealed that only for the purpose of recommitment was this unanimous consent extended. Therefore, we feel that the point of order as raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, is well taken.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Talbot, will state his point of information.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, is the unanimous consent agreement still in force for the recommitment of the bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would so consider it.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I then make a motion that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judicial Apportionment for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. Before further consideration, the Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Talbot, that we have already ruled that insofar as amendments inserted by the House are concerned the Committee might not remove the amendments.

Mr. TABLOT. Mr. Spaker, but for further amendment it would not affect the ruling of the Chair, and for further study?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, what is the status of the bill at the moment? Has the House not acted upon the bill in reconsidering the vote by which it passed second reading; is that not true, and you so announced that the House had taken that action?

The SPEAKER. In order to reconsider a vote by which a bill passes second reading, the Chair is of opinion that we must go through the same procedure that was gone through when the bill was agreed to on second reading. That is to say, reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the bill to be transcribed for third reading, agreed to the bill on second reading as amended, and the title and the several sections were agreed to. After that was begun the point of order was raised that unanimous consent had not been granted for that purpose.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the action has been taken by the House? The vote has been reconsidered by which the title was agreed to, and the vote by which the bill was passed on second reading?

The SPEAKER. That is true.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, what is the status of the bill at the present moment, that being the action of the House? I raise the point of order at this time, that the point of order raised by the gentleman from York is not in order, for the reason that it was not made at the proper time. The House, having already taken action on the bill, it is now before the House and under consideration; the status of it having been reconsidered on second reading as well as the title. I think that the gentleman was too late in raising his point of order in regard to unanimous consent, after the result of the action of the House was announced.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the Chair having made a ruling that the point of order raised by the gentleman from York was sustained, and no appeal having been taken from that decision, the decision of the Speaker stands, and the point of order stands. The status of the bill, I take it, now is that it is still where it was on the calendar. Now then the gentleman from Delaware, makes a motion to have the bill recommitted for the purpose of amendment. The motion of the gentleman from Delaware is entirely in order in having the bill recommitted for the purpose of amendment, as the Speaker told you, if the amendment that the House has directed be inserted in this bill is not removed. Therefore, I insist that the motion of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Talbot, be put to the House.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to state that it is my impression that the Speaker did not give a formal ruling on the point of order raised by the gentleman from York. You discussed that in answer to an inquiry.

The SPEAKER. On the point of order raised by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, the Chair has already ruled that the point of order raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, was well taken, and in making that ruling we did so for the reason that the matter of reconsidering the vote by which the bill passed second reading was only begun and that there was no waiver at the time the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, raised his point of order.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the rule of the House be suspended and that we now proceed to the consideration of House Bill No. 839, Senate Bill No. 550.

The SPEAKER. There was a motion before the House and that motion was seconded.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, is there a motion before the House?

The SPEAKER. There is a motion before the House made by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Talbot, and seconded by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Nothnagle, that Senate Bill No. 550 be recommitted to the Committee on Judicial Apportionment.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the motion of Mr. Talbot is withdrawn.

The SPEAKER. The question is on that motion.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw that motion.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Delaware, Mr Nothnagle, agree to withdraw his second?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. That motion having been withdrawn there is now no motion before the House except the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, and the Chair is not sure whether that motion was seconded.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion for the suspension of the rule for the consideration of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The situation then is that it has been moved by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, seconded by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, that the rule be suspended for the specific purpose of considering House Bill No. 1839 (Senate Bill No. 550.

For the information of the House, the Chair desires to read Rule 88. It provides that "Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose by a majority vote of the members elect; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before."

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the Speaker,—I am for the motion,—but I would like to know whether or not if this motion is passed, would we then, in the opinion of the Speaker, be in a position to consider this bill inasmuch as it is not on file? I want to see the bill considered and I am for the motion, but I would like to know where we would be if the rule would be suspended.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that this House is more or less in a dilemma. I was going to suggest that having heard the rule read, the gentleman who made the motion would have to follow that rule of the House. The only way he could suspend all the rules would be by unanimous consent. It seems to me the better way out of this situation would be to postpone action on this bill for the present and if the gentleman will withdraw his motion, I will make a motion that further action on this bill be postponed for the present, and not be brought up today.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be glad for an opportunity to reply to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson. There is no question about the right of the House to suspend a rule, but this bill is on third reading, and the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that when a bill is on third reading, it must be printed and on the file of the members. Now the Chair knows of no way to suspend the Constitution.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I never broke the Constitution in my life except in a couple of particulars, and I desire to withdraw my motion.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, agree to the withdrawal of the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I find that now the bill is on the file.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I find that the bill is on file and I will now renew my motion.

The SPEAKER. The seconder not having agreed to the withdrawal, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, now desiring to renew the motion, the question before the House is to supsend the rule since the bill is upon the files of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, now that the bill is on file I desire to know what rule we are suspending.

The SPEAKER. The motion is for the suspension of the rule as provided by Rule 88. This motion if agreed to will suspend the rule of the House which otherwise would prevent the consideration of this bill out of order.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. SPANGLER. Does that rule specify that the rule to be suspended must be specified and to suspend all the rules requires unanimous consent?

The SPEAKER. That rule provides as plainly as it can that any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for any specific purpose. Now the specific purpose for which you are asking to suspend Rule 45, when a bill is on third reading, is that the rule requires that the bills be taken up in their order. The purpose of the motion is to suspend that rule and allow this bill to be taken up out of order. The motion to be agreed to must receive a majority of the votes of the members elect and for that purpose the Chair will direct a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to section one as amended be reconsidered.

Mr. SHORT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 6, line 6, by striking out the word "two" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "three".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Evans, whether it is not a fact that the judges of Cambria County are constantly going into other counties to hold court?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Not constantly, Mr. Spangler; occasionally they do.

Mr. SPANGLER. Is there not one of them in Somerset County at the present time?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. That may be; Judge Reed of the orphans court may be there.

Mr. SPANGLER. Have you found it necessary at all to call in judges from other counties to assist you in your work?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. We would have to at every session of the court were it not for the fact that Judge Reed of the orphans court works voluntarily in the court of Common Pleas.

Mr. SPANGLER. Do you mean to say you call in additional judges?

Mr. THOMAS C. EVANS. Absolutely.

Mr. SPANGLER. Then I have been misinformed.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria County, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Williams, whether it is necessary in his opinion to call in additional judges to assist in holding court n Cambria County.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege, but the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, has the floor.

Mr. SPANGLER. And I insist on keeping the floor.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I think it ill becomes a member of this House to attack the veracity of another member of the House.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I am not attacking the veracity of anybody, I am merely asking for information.

I desire to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Williams, whether it is not a fact that Cambria County judges often have time to go to other counties?

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. Yes, they visit Pittsburgh and Philadelphia quite frequently.

Mr. SPANGLER. How often is it necessary to call in judges to assist in the judicial work of the Cambria County courts from the outside?

Mr. I. B. WILLIAMS. I do not recall any time they have. I presume that they do, and if Mr. Evans says so I will agree with that, but I do not recall any time. I would not say that they have not, but as far as holding civil court next month, Mr. Evans stated they were holding civil court and that they have two murder trials. That is the regular civil court term and they took on these two murder trials so that they would have something to go on.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth sections and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 The nomination of judges which the qualified electors of any county are entitled to elect of themselves, unconnected with any other county or district shall be made held and conducted and the returns of votes cast at primary elections for the nomination of such judges shall be made computed canvassed and certified as now or may be hereafter provided by law

The act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty-one) entitled "An act to provide for a second additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Tenth Judicial District"

The act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty-two) entitled "An act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Thirty-sixth Judicial District"

The act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred sixty-three) entitled "An act to designate the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth as required by the Constitution and to provide for the election and commissioning of judges learned in the law for the said districts"

The act approved the eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred fifteen) entitled "An act to provide for a second additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Fourteenth Judicial District"

The act approved the twenty-fourth day of February one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws three) entitled "An act providing for an additional associate judge of the separate Orphans' court of the County of Philadelphia"

The act approved the ninth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws twenty) entitled "An act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Fifty-third judicial district"

The act approved the seventeenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws thirty-eighth) entitled "An act to provide for a second additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Twenty-third Judicial District"

The act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred sixty) entitled "An act to provide for one additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Thirty-second Judiciary District"

The act approved the twentieth day of February one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws three) entitled "'An act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Seventh judicial district"

The act approved the sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws ten) entitled "An act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Thirty eighth judicial district"

The act approved the twenty-eighth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred one) entitled "An act to provide for a second additional law judge of the court of common pleas of the Twenty-seventh judicial district"

The act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand seven hundred sixty-nine) entitled "An act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas in the Forty-seventh judicial district"

Section 14 This act shall be in force immediately upon its passage and approved by the Governor

Nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal or alter the provisions of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expense thereof" or the amendments thereto nor to repeal or alter any of the provisions of an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" or the amendments thereto

An Act to designate the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth as required by the Constitution and to provide for the election and commissioning of judges learned in the law for the said districts

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1366, Printer's No. 527, entitled:

An Act regulating and licensing the sale transfer and possession of certain firearms prescribing penalties procedure and rules of evidence conferring powers and imposing duties on courts of quarter sessions sheriffs and heads of police departments and to make uniform the law with reference thereto.

was defeated on final passage on April 28, 1931, be reconsidered.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Rice, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I voted no.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes appear to have it,

Whereupon, a division being called for, seventy-eight members voting in the affirmative and sixty-seven members voting in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will take up out of order the first reading calendar. The Chair hears none, and the House will proceed to the consideration of bills on first reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 320, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and four of the act approved the eighth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (P. L. 268), entitled, "An act relative to the purchase of lands by county commissioners at sales thereof for arrearages of taxes," by providing circumstances under which a county shall be deemed to have abandoned title to lands purchased at a county treasurer's sale; and fixing the time within which a county commissioner's sale must be held.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 391, entitled:

An Act to amend sections thirteen and fourteen of the act approved the ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1684), entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the county treasurers of the several counties of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all seated lands upon which taxes assessed on such seated lands by authority of any county, borough, town, township, school district, and poor district are delinquent and remain unpaid, and fixing penalties for such delinquency; authorizing county commissioners to purchase such lands under certain circumstances," by providing circumstances under which a county shall be deemed to have abandoned title to lands purchased at a county treasurer's sale; and fixing the time when a county commissioner's sale must be held.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 535, entitled:

An Act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and fixing penalties for the non-payment thereof, requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1571, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the eleventh day of March, one thousand nine hundred and nine, (Pamphlet Laws, thirteen), entitled "An act for the protection of the public health, by prohibiting the sale, offering for sale, exposing for sale, or having in possession with intent to sell, of eggs unfit for food, as therein defined, and prohibiting the use of such eggs in the preparation of food products; providing penalties for the violation thereof, and providing for the enforcement thereof;" making unlawful the sale, possession and use of incubated and incubator reject eggs unless such eggs or their containers or foods in which used are properly stamped.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1583, entitled:

An act to further amend sections four hundred two and four hundred four, and to amend section four hundred ten of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 359), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," by changing provisions relating to licensing of taxidermists.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO HONORABLE ROBERT G. KLECKNER

Mr. JOSEPH F. M. BALDI offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1931.

Whereas, That brave, fearless and intrepid hero, the Hon. Robert G. Kleckner, a Member of this House and a Lieutenant of Engineers during the late War, has added another feat of heroism to the long list of brilliant achievements that make up his history; and

Whereas, This dauntless dare devil of the War has calmly and fearlessly undertaken a life beset with unknown dangers, and has launched his bark upon the uncharted waters of the sea of matrimony; and

Whereas, With his new wife by his side, he serenely faces the storms that lurk o'er the waters of that sea, and has unblushingly and unabashed brought her here for us to view, therefore be it

Resolved, That this House congratulates the said Hon. Robert G. Kleckner, upon the accomplishment of this latest heroic effort, and invites him to address his fellow members, and explain to them how it feels to be this new kind of a hero, and be it further

Resolved, That to his bride this House extends its best wishes, proudly receives her as its two hundred and tenth member, and extends to her all the privileges of the House, including the right to sit beside her husband during the Sessions of this House.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO ESCORT BRIDE AND GROOM TO THE ROSTRUM

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Joseph F. M. Baldi, and the lady from Westmoreland, Mrs. Denman to escort the bride and groom to the Chair.

Mr. KLECKNER. Mr. Speaker, members of the House and friends, on behalf of Mrs. Kleckner and yours truly, may I express to you my sincere appreciation of your many courtesies in the past, the present and the future. May I also extend to those of you who in the course of your travels over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may pass through or visit the Berks-Lehigh District, a cordial invitation to stop off at Allentown and see your friends in their home at No. 36 South West Street.

Section 32 (b) Sales of Real and Personal Property The secretary may sell at public sale any or all of the real and personal property of such corporation or person without any order of court He may with leave of court after such notice to creditors by advertising or otherwise as the court may direct sell either real or personal property at private sale upon such terms and under such conditions as the court upon petition of the secretary may direct and all sales theretofore made may be approved by the court [At least five days' notice of any petition for leave to sell at private sale shall be given to all stockholders of such corporation or to such person and to all creditors known to the secretary and such notice shall also be advertised at least once in a newspaper in the county where the banking house or other place of business is located and when the land is situated in a different county at least once in a newspaper published in the latter county] Sales under this section may be either all for cash or partly for cash and partly for evidences of indebtedness approved by the court

Section 41 Notice to Depositors and Creditors When the secretary deems advisable [shall have determined to liquidate the affairs of such corporation or person] he shall forthwith give written or printed notice to all depositors to produce to him their deposit or pass books for settlement stating in such notice the amount which the books of the corporation or person show to be due to each depositor subject to outstanding checks and notifying such depositors that unless a settlement of the deposit or pass books shall show a different amount to be due or unless a depositor shall within [four] two months from the date of such notice make proof in the manner hereinafter set forth that the amount due him differs from the amounts as shown by the books of the corporation or person the amount last mentioned will be conclusive as to the amount of the claim of such depositor subject as aforesaid to any outstanding checks

The secretary shall at the same time give written or printed notice to all creditors other than depositors so far as known to him to make proof of their claims in the manner hereinafter set forth within four months from the date of such notice or be debarred from coming in upon the fund

He shall also advertise such notices to depositors and other creditors in a newspaper and in the legal newspaper is any designated by rules of a court for publication of legal notices in said county once a week for four successive weeks

Provided That in the case of a corporation or person having five thousand or more depositors and creditors the secretary may instead of giving the written or printed notice to all depositors and to all creditors as above provided adopt such other plan as he may deem expedient to secure the verification by depositors and creditors of the amount of their claims and provided further that in such case the time within which said depositors and creditors shall make proof of their claims or make objection to the amount of their deposits as stated by the secretary may in the discretion of the secretary be such period as he may prescribe less than four months but not less than thirty days

Section 5 That section forty-two of said act as amended by section eighteen of the said act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-two) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 42 Proof of Claims of Creditors No claim other than the claim of a depositor shall be allowed unless the claimant or some one for him if he cannot do so shall within two months from the date of such notice furnish to the secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto or any note or other writing evidencing the same verified by an affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of corporation or person) that there are no credits or allowances against the same as herein set forth that I have not directly or indirectly made or entered into any bargain arrangement or agreement express or implied to take or receive directly or indirectly any money property or consideration whatever to or for myself or to or for any other person firm or corporation whatever other than my dividend as a creditor and that there is no collatereal security for said indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or anyone else than as above set forth"

In case the claimant shall be a partnership or corporation such affidavit shall be made by a member of the partnership or by the treasurer or assistant treasurer of the corporation claimant and the form thereof shall be modified accordingly Provided that in the case of a corporation or person having five thousand or more depositors and creditors the time within which creditors shall make proof of their claims may be in the discretion of the secretary be such period as he may prescribe less than four months but not less than thirty days

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of cestuis que trust or others to or against trust funds or property in the custody or possession or control of a corporation or person possession of whose business and property is taken by the secretary under the provisions of this act

Section 45 Partial or Final Account Objections At the expiration of the time fixed by the notice and advertisement for the presentation of claims prescribed in section forty-one of this act the secretary may file a partial or final account consisting of a statement of receipts and expenditures together with a list of the claims which have been allowed and separately a list of the claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all claimants the names addresses and amounts

If no account is filed within a year from the time when the secretary takes possession any party interested may petition the court for an order on the secretary requiring the filing of an account

Any account filed by the secretary shall be duly verified by him under oath or affirmation Upon the filing thereof he shall give written or printed notice to all the depositors and other creditors known to him of such filing and that unless objections shall be filed within thirty days from the date thereof the same will be confirmed absolutely He shall also at the same time advertise such notice in two newspapers once a week for four successive weeks

Provided that in the case of a corporation or person having five thousand or more depositors and creditors the secretary instead of mailing written or printed notices to all depositors and other creditors of the filing of his account may adopt such plan for giving such notice as the court upon application of the secretary may direct

During such period of thirty days any depositor other creditor stockholder or anyone having any interest may file in the court objections in writing to said account or to the allowance of any of said claims a copy of which objections shall forthwith be served upon the claimant whose claim is objected to or his counsel and upon the secretary or his counsel or the special deputy appointed by him in such proceeding In the case of the liquidation of buliding and loan associations wherever in this act the word "creditors" is used it shall mean shareholders and/or creditors and in all other cases the word "creditors" wherever used in this act shall mean depositors and/or creditors.

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1552 (Senate Bill No. 334), as follows:

An Act to further amend section twenty-four of an act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended by excepting life insurance companies from the operation of said section twenty-four

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twenty-four of an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twelve) as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws six hundred sixty-five) entitled "An act to further amend section twenty-four of an act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled 'A further supplement to an act entilted "An act to provide revenue by taxation 'approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine' by modifying the procedure for the settlement and payment of the tax and changing the time for making reports" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 24 It shall be the duty of the president secretary or other proper officer of each and every insurance company association or exchange incorporated by or under any law of this Commonwealth except life insurance companies and companies doing business upon the mutual plan without any capital stock and purely mutual beneficial associations whose funds for the benefit of members their families or heirs are made up entirely of the weekly or monthly contributions of their members and the accumulated interest thereon to make report in writing to the Department of Revenue on or before the fifteenth day of March in each year setting forth the entire amount of premiums premium deposits or assessments received by such company association or exchange during the year ending with the thirty-first day of December preceding whether the said premiums premium deposits or assessments were received in money or in the form of notes credits or any other substitutes for money and whether the same were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere and every such company association or exchange shall pay into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue within the time prescribed by law for the payment of State taxes settled by the Department of Revenue in addition to any other taxes to which it may be liable under the first and twenty-first sections of this act a tax of eight mills on the dollar upon the gross amount of said premiums premium deposits and assessments received from business transacted within this Commonwealth

Such company association or exchange in reporting for taxation may deduct from the gross premiums premium deposits and assessments all amounts returned on policies canceled or not taken and all premiums paid for reinsurance where such reinsurances are effected in companies associations and exchanges authorized to transact business in this Commonwealth and mutual companies associations exchanges and stock companies with partiipating features which may for any reason be required to report under this act in addition to the aforesaid deductions may deduct that portion of the advanced premiums premium deposits or assessments returned in cash or credited to members or policy holders whether as dividends earnings savings or return deposits upon the expiration or termination of their contracts Provided That hereafter the annual tax upon premiums of insurance companies of other States or foreign governments shall be at the rate of two per centum upon the gross premiums of every character and description received from business done within this Commonwealth within the entire calendar year preceding The penalties for failure to make report and pay the tax as herein required shall be as provided by law

Section 2 This act shall become effective as of the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one except with respect to the duty of officers of life insurance companies to render reports for periods prior to that date and the obligation of such companies to pay taxes for such earlier periods

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I read this, the effect of it is to exempt domestic life insurance companies from the eight mill tax, and I would like to inquire of the sponsor of the bill in the House, why these life insurance companies should be exempted from this particular tax, particularly at this time of depression when we are so much in need of taxes.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, asks for information. Is there anyone in the House who can explain the bill?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I will attempt to. If this bill is passed, the whole effect on the revenues of the Commonwealth will be approximately $46,000. In 1925 the domestic mutual life insurance companies operating in this Commonwealth amounting to approximately seventy-seven and one-half per cent of the gross premium income from that source were exempt from the payment of the eight mills, on gross premiums, of tax. Immediately upon the passage of that act in 1925 you may readily see that discrimination was effected against six domestic stock life insurance companies the gross premium of which represents approximately twenty-three per cent of the gross premium income from the domestic insurance companies. If this act was adopted, and I believe it should be, there will be a complete equality in Pennsylvania between domestic mutual life insurance companies and the domestic stock life insurance companies.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the facts given by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, shows this is not going to affect our revenues to any very great extent, although $46,000 is something. It seems to me that we are taking a bad step when we start to exempt stock insurance companies from taxation. It so happens that there does not happen to be many domestic stock insurance companies in Pennsylvania, but some of the most wealthy corporations in the United States are stock life insurance companies, and I cannot see any reason at this time, when we are confronted with so great a necessity to collect tax money and looking after the moneys to carry on the business of the nation and the State, why we should extend exemptions to corporations of this kind. It seems to me that it would be far more in order to repeal the exemption of the other life insurance companies to get the equality that we speak of. They are amply able to pay taxes and it would be better to collect from them than to let the poor continue to bear the burden and the small owners of real estate who are the least able to pay it. Why they should not continue to bear their share of the burden I cannot understand.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in reply to what the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, has said about the small owner of real estate paying the taxes, I think it might be well to point out to the gentleman that real estate pays no portion of the State tax and therefore is not affected by this measure.

I would like to say that this policy of exempting life insurance companies from taxation is followed in a great many of the states, and has been followed by the Federal government, and the purpose of this amendment is only to place the domestic companies of the State on an equality with the mutual companies. The benefits that will accrue to the companies will go back to the stockholders in the end and in the long run the policyholder likewise receives the benefit.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I understand that real estate owners do not pay any state tax, but in my statement I included others, and the use of the word "others" means the collecting of such taxes that are paid by the poorer people of the Commonwealth. For my part I do not see why we should exempt the corporations that are well able to pay and put the burden on somebody else that will have to pay it.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. WHEELER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1442 (Senate Bill No. 413), Printer's No. 323, from page 14 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1442 (Senate Bill No. 413), as follows:

An Act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act it shall be the duty of each receiver or collector of any county city borough town township school district or poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such taxes which are assessed and levied on seated lands and which are unpaid and for which no liens have been filed not later than the first Monday of May in the year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes were assessed and levied filing therewith a description of said real estate by adjoiners or otherwise sufficient to identify said land with name of the owner or reputed owner against whom such taxes were assessed and levied and the amounts of taxes unpaid and the year during which the said taxes were assessed or levied In addition to penalties under existing laws interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be added beginning the first day of May of the year following the levy and assessment of such tax until such taxes are paid or the seated lands responsible therefor are sold as hereinafter provided

Section 2 Upon receipt of such returns the county commissioners shall enter upon a docket to be styled Tax Return Docket the returns so made with a description of the said lands which return and entry shall constitute a lien on such lands Such returns shall be alphabetically listed with name of owner and locality and year during which the return was filed

Section 3 After the receipt of such returns and recording thereof upon the said docket the county commissioners shall certify said returns together with all prevous returns for delinquent taxes filed in the office of the said commissioners which may have been filed under law heretofore authorizing the same to the county treasurer who is authorized and empowered to receive and collect the same and who shall sell the seated lands upon which such taxes were assessed and levied to secure the payments of such taxes as are unpaid and the accruing costs and interest as hereinafter provided The treasurer shall keep a record of all taxes received or collected by him and pay over and distribute the same less the costs and charges to which he may be entitled to the proper parties entitled to receive the same for the uses and purposes for which such taxes were assessed or levied and shall certify to the county commissioners within fifteen days following the payment thereof a list of the taxes thus by him collected for entry and satisfaction upon the said Tax Return Docket of Seated Lands to be kept by the county commissioners

Section 4 All taxes unpaid and so returned and docketed as aforesaid shall be a first lien subject as hereinafter stated on said real estate liable for the payment thereof together with all charges interest expenses and fees added thereto for failure to pay promptly and such liens shall have priority to and be fully paid and satisfied out of the proceeds of any judicial sale of said property before any mortgage obligation claim lien or estate with which said property may have or shall become charged or for which it may become liable save and except only the costs of the sale and of the writ upon which it is made and liens in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which shall have priority to such tax liens

Section 5 Such tax so returned and filed and entered upon said docket shall remain a lien upon said property until fully paid and satisfied or until the property shall be sold in accordance with provisions hereof

Section 6 After such return of taxes shall have been made in accordance with the provisions hereof responsibility of the tax collector or receiver of taxes for the collection of the taxes so returned shall cease On making such return the tax collector or receiver of taxes shall be entitled to exoneration from the taxes so returned on the settlement of his accounts On any unpaid taxes returned to the county commissioners the tax collector or receiver of taxes shall be entitled to receive a commission of two per centum (2%) from the taxing district for which such tax is returned when the tax is paid by the county treasurer to the proper taxing district provided that where the tax collector is paid on a salary basis he shall not be entitled to receive this commission of two per centum (2%)

Section 7 The county treasurer shall advertise the fact of holding such sale once a week for the three successive weeks prior to the holding of such sale in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county in which such seated land is located if there be two newspapers so published if there be only one then in such newspaper so published in the county

(a) The purpose of such sale
(b) The time of such sale
(c) The place of such sale
(d) The terms of such sale
(e) A list of the seated lands affected and their location and the owner or reputed owner of each
(f) Amount of taxes and interest

The county treasurer shall if required by the county commissioners mail to each owner whose property has been advertised for sale a copy of such notice of sale at the cost of the county

Section 8 Such sale shall be made on the first Monday of August in the second year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes are assessed and levied or on any day to which such sale may be adjourned except in the case of taxes levied for any year prior to the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty in which case and for such taxes the sale shall be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one or on any day to which such sale is adjourned Provided That if any such sale be adjourned or readjourned by public announcement at such sale or adjournment no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for such adjourned or readjourned sale unless such adjournment or readjournment be for a longer period than thirty days

For each tract of land so disposed of the county treasurer shall be entitled to the following fees which shall be taxes as part of the costs of such proceedings and shall be paid the same as other costs

Advertising each tract including printers charge the actual cost

Selling each tract or part thereof	.25
Writing and signing each deed	1.50
Acknowledging every deed	.50
Writing and filing every bond to acknowledge the purchase money	.25

The county shall in the first instance be liable for the cost of advertising treasurers' sales and the fees collected for such advertising shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county

For receiving and paying over the purchase money or taxes collected by him the county treasurer shall be entitled to a commission of two per centum (2%) thereof such commission to be deducted from the amount to be paid to the taxing district upon any settlement with the taxing district and upon presentation to the taxing district of a transcript of the information required to be compiled by the county treasurer by section eleven hereof

Section 9 No sale shall be valid where the taxes and interest have been paid prior to said advertisement or where the taxes interest and costs have been paid after advertisement and before sale or when such taxes are not legally due and collectible No such sale shall discharge the lien of any mortgage which is or shall be prior to all other liens except other mortgages ground rents municipal claims and/or other taxes and no such sale shall discharge the lien of any ground rent municipal claim or tax remaining unpaid Any real estate sold under this act may be redeemed by the owner his heirs or legal representatives or by any lien creditor or his heirs assigns or legal representatives or by anyone interested in said real estate for the benefit of the owner thereof at any time within two years after such sale by the payment to the county treasurer of the full amount which the purchaser paid to said treasurer for taxes interest and costs and twenty-five per centum of the amount of tax in addition thereto In case the purchaser has paid any taxes of any kind whatsoever assessed and levied against said property the same shall be reimbursed to said purchaser before any redemption shall take effect No sale of seated lands for taxes under the provisions of this act shall be prejudiced or defeated by proof that there was personal property to be found on the premises sufficient to pay the taxes assessed thereon nor shall such sale be prejudiced by reason of the fact that such lands so assessed as seated lands were at the time unseated

When any real estate is so sold no lien whatsoever against such real estate shall be deemed to be discharged during the period for redemption but if such real estate is not redeemed then all liens against the same except such liens as are hereinbefore specifically saved shall be deemed to be discharged from the date that the right of redemption expired

When any real estate is so redeemed by a lien creditor or his heirs assigns or legal representatives or by any person interested for the benefit of the owner the county treasurer shall issue to the person redeeming such real estate a certificate stating the fact of such redemption a brief description of the real estate redeemed and the amount of the redemption money paid which certificate may be entered in the office of the prothonotary of the county as a judgment against the owner of the real estate for the amount stated therein The lien of any judgment shall have priority over all other liens against such real estate except such liens as would not have been discharged had no redemption been made

Section 10 It shall be the duty of the purchaser or purchasers at this treasurer's sale as soon as the property is struck down to pay the amount of the purchase money or such part thereof as may be necessary to pay all taxes interest and costs and also one dollar and fifty cents for the use of the prothonotary for entering the report of the treasurer and acknowledgment of the treasurer's deed as hereinafter mentioned and in case said amount is not forthwith paid after the property is struck down the sale may be avoided and the property immediately put up again by the said treasurer

Any such property for which an amount sufficient to pay taxes interest and the costs is not bid shall be purchased by the county commissioners in which event the requirements of the preceding paragraph of this section shall not apply

Section 11 The county treasurer shall keep in his office a book in which he shall enter all collections of taxes made by him and the sales made by him giving a description of each property sold the name of the owner thereof as the same appears upon the duplicates or has been returned to him the time of sale and the price at which sold together with the amount of the taxes interest and costs

Section 12 It shall be the duty of the county treasurer at the first term of a court of common pleas of the proper county succeeding any such sale to make a report and return wherein he shall set forth a brief description of the land or property sold the name of the person (where known) in which the same is assessed the amount of tax and the year for which the same is assessed the time when and the newspapers in which the advertisement for sale was made with a copy of said advertisement the time of sale and the name of the purchaser and the price for which each respective property was sold Upon the presentation of said report or return if it shall appear to said court that such sale has been regularly conducted under the provisions of this act the said report and the sale so made shall be confirmed nisi

The county treasurer shall at the expense of the county publish a general notice once in a newspaper of general circulation throughout the county stating that the report of the county treasurer with respect to sales for delinquent taxes has been presented to the court giving the date thereof and that exceptions thereto may be filed within sixty days after the date of return otherwise the report will be confirmed absolutely

In case no objections or exceptions are filed to any such sale within sixty days after the date of return a decree of absolute confirmation shall be entered as of course by the prothonotary Any objections or exceptions to such a sale may raise the legality of the taxes for nonpayment of which the real estate was sold or the return thereof or the validity of the sale for the reason that the tax was actually paid or question the regularity or legality of the proceedings of the treasurer in any respect In case any objections or exceptions are filed they shall be disposed of according to the practice of the court When the same are overruled or set aside a decree of absolute confirmation shall be entered by the court If such objections or exceptions are sustained and the court deems the defect not amendable it shall by its order or decree invalidate the sale From the decision of the court of common pleas any party interested may appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases If no objections or exceptions are filed as herein provided or where objections or exceptions are finally overruled and the sale confirmed absolutely the validity of the assessment of the tax and its return for nonpayment and the validity of the proceedings of the treasurer with respect to such sale shall not thereafter be inquired into judicially in equity or by civil proceedings by the person or persons in whose name such property was sold his or her or their heirs or his her or their grantees or assigns subsequent to the date of the assessment of the taxes for which such sale was made and such sale after the period of redemption shall be terminated shall be deemed to pass a good and valid title to the purchaser as against the person or persons in whose name such property was sold provided the purchaser has filed the bond for surplus moneys as hereinafter provided

Section 13 After any sale of property or lands for delinquent taxes has been confirmed by the court as aforesaid it shall be the duty of the purchaser or purchasers where the bid exceeds the taxes interest and costs as aforesaid to make and execute to the said treasurer for the use of the persons entitled a bond for the surplus money that may remain after satisfying and paying all the taxes interest and costs as aforesaid with warrant of attorney to confess judgment annexed thereto and it shall be the duty of said treasurer to forthwith file said bond in the office of the pronthonotary of the proper county at the number and terms where said report and return is filed and the surplus bond filed as aforesaid from the time of the date of the deed for property thus sold shall bind as effectually and in like manner as judgments the land by said treasurer sold into whose hands or possession it may come and the owners of said lands at the time of sale their heirs or assigns or other legal representatives may in not less than two or more than five years after confirmation of such sale cause judgment to be entered in said court upon said bond in the name of said treasurer for the use of said owners their heirs assigns or legal representatives (as the case may be) and in case the moneys mentioned in said bonds with legal interest thereon be not paid within thirty days after judgment thereon execution may issue against the property therein before sold and said property be sold upon writ of fieri facias without condemnation or inquisition or the benefit of any exemption laws

Section 14 When the purchaser has paid the amount of his bid or such portion thereof as he is required to pay under this act and has given the surplus bond as above required it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to make the said purchaser or purchasers his or their heirs or assigns a deed in fee simple for the lands sold as aforesaid and the said deed or deeds to be duly acknowledged in the court of common pleas and such acknowledgment shall be duly entered and recorded by the prothonotary of said court in the treasurer's deed book and for such service and the entry of the report of said treasurer said prothonotary shall receive the sum of one dollar and fifty cents which after being entered and recorded with the prothonotary shall be returned to the treasurer

Section 15 If any owner his heirs or legal representatives or any lien creditor his heirs assigns or legal representatives or other person interested shall within two years after the day such sale was made redeem such real estate for the benefit of the owner by payment of the taxes and interests for which the lands were sold and the costs with an additional sum of twenty-five per centum and any taxes which may have been levied against any such property since the treasurer's sale and which remain unpaid by the owner or redeemer to the county treasurer he shall receive and receipt for the same and pay said taxes interests costs and additional percentage over to the purchaser upon demand and the accrued taxes to the district entitled thereto and the county treasurer shall forthwith acknowledge the receipt of the redemption moneys upon the margin of the acknowledgment of the treasurer's deed as the same is entered and recorded in the prothonotary's office as aforesaid and if said deed has been recorded in the office for recording of deeds cause an entry to be made on the margin of the record of the deed in the office of the recorder of deeds by marking thereon the word "redeemed" which shall be signed by the county treasurer and attested by the recorder of deeds and thereafter said deed shall be void and of no effect If such deed be not recorded then such owner or person interested as aforesaid shall be entitled to have the treasurer's deed delivered to such owner creditor heir assign legal representative or persons interested for cancellation The county treasurer shall certify all such redemptions to the boards of county commissioners who shall enter the same on the Tax Return Docket and who shall certify such redemptions to the county assessors so that the property may thereafter be assessed in the name of the owner

Section 16 When the county commissioners shall purchase any real property at a county treasurer's sale they shall provide a book wherein shall be entered (a) the name of the person as whose land the same was sold (b) a brief description of the property together with any lot and block number (c) the amount of taxes interest and costs for which it was sold Such property shall not so long as it remains the property of the county be charged in the duplicate For the next two years following such sale if the land remains unredeemed the commissioners shall in separate columns in the same book charge every such tract of land with like county city borough town township school and poor taxes as would have been chargeable against the land had the same not been purchased by the county commissioners The right of redemption shall remain in the real owner of such lands or other persons interested for two years after sale of the county commissioners and such redemption may be accomplished by a payment within such period to the county treasurer of all taxes interest and costs due thereon at the time of sale and interest thereon and also the taxes and interest which have been annually levied and charged thereon after the sale and interest thereon beginning on the first day of January in the year succeeding the year when the respective taxes were levied All redemptions of property purchased by the county commissioners shall be noted upon their records and the county treasurer shall forthwith cause an entry of redemption to be made on the records in like manner as if such property were purchased by other than county commissioners

Section 17 If the owner of any real property his heirs or legal representatives or lien creditor his heirs assigns or legal representatives or other person interested in property so purchased by the county commissioners shall not redeem the same within such period the county commissioners shall at any time after such period sell any such lands at public sale and make deed therefor After any such sale or in the case of any redemption the property shall be charged by the assessor in the name of the last purchaser or redeemer and such lands shall again be liable for taxes as other lands

The county commissioners before making sale of real property purchased by them at tax sales shall give at least thirty days' notice once a week for three consecutive weeks of such sales particularly designating the tracts that are to be sold This notice shall be inserted in two newspapers published in the county if so many are published in said county if there be only one then in such newspaper published in the county

(a) The purpose of such sale
(b) The time of such sale
(c) The place of such sale
(d) The terms of such sale
(e) A list of seated lands affected and their location and the owner or reputed owner of each

After such sale the county commissioners shall make and deliver a deed being acknowledged before an officer authorized to acknowledge deeds such deed shall pass such title as the county commissioners have a right to convey

Section 18 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to repeal the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred seven) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the method for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly"

Section 19 The provisions of this act in so far as they are the same as those of any act repealed by this act or of any existing act shall be construed as a continuation of such laws and not as new enactments

The repeal by this act of any provisions of existing laws shall not affect the validity or lien of any taxes heretofore returned by any tax collector or receiver of taxes to the county commissioners or affect abate or prevent any suit or prosecution pending to enforce collection of the same or affect the sale of any lands pursuant to such existing laws and as to taxes heretofore returned to the county commissioners pursuant to existing laws this act shall be so construed only as to affect the remedy for enforcing collection of such taxes so returned on which proceedings for collection have not been heretofore instituted

Section 20 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted by the General Assembly had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 21 No tax collector shall make any return of taxes as provided in this act if the taxing authorities shall notify such tax collector in writing that returns shall not be made but that delinquent taxes are to be collected by the filing of liens in the office of the prothonotary

Section 22 The act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand six hundred eighty-four) entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the county treasurers of the several counties of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all seated lands upon which taxes assessed on such seated lands by authority of any county borough town township school district and poor district are delinquent and remain unpaid and fixing penalties for such delinquency authorizing county commissioners to purchase such lands under certain circumstances" is hereby repealed Except as herein provided all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 23 This act shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. CHAS. C. A. BALDI, JR. asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 813, Printer's No. 725, on page 14 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 813, as follows:

An act regulating the appointment of persons to public positions in counties and cities of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person to hold or to be appointed to any public position or employment in counties of the first class and in cities of the first class or to draw any salary or compensation payable by any such county or city unless he or she is a legal resident within such county or city Provided That nothing contained in this act shall prohibit the temporary employment of professional men or men specialized in certain kinds of municipal or public work if such employment is for a particular object or public work

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I have presented what is known as House Bill No. 878, an amendment to the voting machine law, reducing the number of voters in each division or precinct from approximately 800 to 400 voters in number. The newspapers of Philadelphia have carried articles wondering what has inspired that bill. It has always been my custom to always refer to the experiences of the past and the motive that inspired the bill is that stated in the Constitutional Convention of Pennsylvania, Volume 5, page 177, and so forth, and rather than read this to you, I ask permission that it be spread on the Journal at this point.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

The gentleman has requested leave to have further remarks spread on the Journal. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and the further remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

DEBATES—CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Volume V—1872-1873

SECTION 9. Wards of cities or boroughs and townships shall form or be divided into election districts of compact and contiguous territory in such manner as the court of quarter sessions of the city or county in which the same are located may direct: Provided, All districts in cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be divided by the courts of quarter sessions of said cities, whenever the preceding election shows the polling of more than two hundred and fifty votes, and in other election districts whenever the court of the proper county shall be satisfied that the convenience of the electors and the public interests will be promoted thereby.

Mr. CAMPBELL. I move to strike out the words "two hundred and fifty" in the seventh line, and insert "one hundred." ("No.!" "No.!") I withdraw it.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the amendment of the delegate from Philadelphia (Mr. Campbell.)

Mr. LILLY. I should like to move to strike out "two hundred and fifty," and insert "three hundred." ("No!" "No!") I think if the members of the Convention will consider this matter for a moment in their minds, they will see that the number fixed here is too small. The expense of holding elections will be very considerably increased by making the districts so small, and you will have an immense number of election districts. If you make the number of voters in a district three hundred, I think the whole matter will be fairly under control, and even then you will probably not have more than two hundred or two hundred and fifty votes polled. I think three hundred will be about right.

Mr. DALLAS. I do not think the city of Philadelphia will complain of the expense if it obtains the reform that is hoped for from this section. Two hundred and fifty voters to a precinct is large enough in order to enable election officers and citizens to know those entitled to vote. I am willing, for one, to accept two hundred and fifty as a compromise; but I propose an amendment to the amendment to strike out "three hundred" and insert "two hundred."

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the amendment to the amendment, to insert "two hundred."

The amendment to the amendment was rejected.

Mr. HANNA. I move to amend the amendment by making it "four hundred."

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the amendment to the amendment, to strike out "three' and insert "four".

Mr. HANNA. I should like to say a word upon that amendment. I think that four hundred is about the proper number. In the city of Philadelphia, at the October election last, there were three hundred and fifty-nine election divisions. The votes polled at that election were one hundred and seventeen thousand, four hundred and twenty-three, making an average of three hundred and twenty-one votes to each division. Now Now if we reduce the number of electors to be included within any election division, of course we increase the number of election divisions, and if we adopt the number three hundred or the number two hundred and fifty it will give us a much greater number of election divisions in the city which are to be provided for, and, as the gentleman from Carbon well remarked, it will add an immense expense to the city of Philadelphia. The election places are to be provided; they are to be paid for, because at present as a recent act of Assembly provides that liquor shall not be sold on election day, we cannot obtain public houses in which to hold the election. Consequently we shall be forced to pay for polling places.

Again, sir, the expenses will be greatly increased by reason of the increased number of election officers; and the cost of printing, and all other incidental expenses of the election will also be increased, so that we shall impose an additional burden on the taxpayers probably of from $100,000 to $150,000. Now if we limit the number of votes in a division to four hundred there will be no difficulty whatever; all the votes can be polled, The whole number can be polled for the reason that in many of the election divisions at the present time we have polled from one hundred and eighty-nine to six hundred and seven hundred votes on election; and by the Constitution which I have no doubt will be adopted by the Convention, we shall throw such safeguards around elections as will prevent fraud and corruption. The gentleman from Columbia who offered an amendment for the appointment by the courts of the supervisors or overseers of election has thereby secured officers who will protect the polls, they will see that none but correct ballots and proper votes are received, and everybody will be known in the election division just as well if there are four hundred votes as two hundred and fifty or three hundred.

I submit, Mr. President, that we ought to take the considerations mentioned into view and not hastily pass this section, not increase the number of election divisions in our large cities not increase the expense to the voters, but let us adopt the mean I have just mentioned, of four hundred voters in a division, and everything will be done properly, and all fraud and corruption and improper voting prevented.

The act of Assembly under which we now live, called the consolidation act, provides that in every election division of the city of Philadelphia where there are over four hundred voters the people shall have the right to ask that that division shall be divided, and it can be divided; (page 179) and divisions are divided by the councils of the city almost weekly upon petition of the citizens. What more do we want?

Previous to the passage of the late act of Assembly we were obliged to hold the elections in public houses. We have not a sufficient number of school houses. Although we have a public school house, and more than one, in every ward of the city, yet we cannot have a public school house or other public property in every election division of the city, and consequently we were obliged to hold the elections at public houses, and parties owning public houses were willing and glad to have the election held there because it increased their trade; but now we are driven from those places, they are obliged to close the saloons up, and the city must pay for election places, or else do as I am told they do in the city of New York, build booths or polling places upon the public streets.

Mr. President, I do hope that the Convention will consider this matter, and consider it in a way that I think will meet the approbation of the people of Philadelphia.

Mr. W. H. SMITH. Mr. President: According to all the arguments yet made it would seem that we were legislating for Philadelphia alone, and that only one of the cities of the State. The smaller number would seem to suit the whole State better than four hundred. While we are discussing things here I wish our friends would understand that there is some other territory and some other population than that which is in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. DALLAS. I only desire to say in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Hanna) that where a real reform is to be attained, the question of expense, unless it amounts to extravagance, is but a secondary consideration. He has truly said that we already, in the city of Philadelphia, have by law a provision that when a precinct contains more than four hundred voters it may be divided; but though we have that provision, the cry for reform in this respect comes up to us from this city. That is evidence that the number that he names is not satisfactory. I understand on the other hand that two hundred and fifty, an odd number, was arrived at as a compromise among conflicting views. I hope it will be retained.

Mr. J. W. F. WHITE. Mr. President: My colleague behind me (Mr. W. H. Smith) misapprehends this part of the section. It applies only to Philadelphia and Pittsburg. This section requiring every election district, when the last preceding election shows a vote of two hundred and fifty, to be divided, applies I say but to two cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburg. I hope that we shall have no piece of legislation of that kind in the Constitution. I am utterly opposed to a rule of that kind applicable to all the election precincts in these two cities. I am willing to confer the power upon the courts to divide election precincts, whenever it becomes necessary in their judgment to have a division; and at the proper time I shall move to strike out of the sixth line all after the word "cities" and to strike out the seventh line; so that the section will then read:

"All districts in cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be divided by the courts of quarter sessions of said cities, whenever the court of the proper county shall be satisfied that the convenience of the electors and the public interests will be promoted thereby."

We have heard here often that the courts can be trusted on all these questions. Why not then leave it to the courts to say when an election district shall be divided, taking into consideration the number of electors, where they reside, and all the circumstances of the case, whether it would be judicious or not to divide it, even when there are two hundred voters in it; or if there should be two hundred and sixty in the district if the voters of that district should not want it divided, because this will be an imperative provision. Why, merely because there are over two hundred and fifty voters in a district, put it in the Constitution that it must absolutely be divided? If every voter in the district should be opposed to it, or every voter except one, that can bring the question before the court and then the court will be under an absolute duty to divide that district.

Why, sir, in some districts of the city of Pittsburg we have more than twice that number of votes and I venture to say that not a voter in the district of either party would want the district divided. The courts of our county have now the power to divide our election districts, as they have generally throughout the State. Unfortunately in Philadelphia they have a special law in reference to the division of their election districts, and now to get clear of the special law in Philadelphia they wish us to put a law in the Constitu- (Page 180) tion not only applicable to them but also to involve Pittsburg in it.

I am opposed to fixing in the Constitution any number whatever, whether two hundred, three hundred, four hundred, or any other number, but just say that the court of the proper county may divide or shall divide a division whenever the convenience of the electors and the public interest may require a division. It seems to me exceedingly unreasonable that we should fix a number of that kind which is imperative, no matter what the circumstances of the case may be; and, as one of the delegates from Pittsburg, I protest most earnestly against a principle of that kind being applied to our city.

Mr. BAER. I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to, and (at two o'clock and fifty-eight minutes P. M.) the Convention adjourned to meet again at half past nine o'clock A. M., on Tuesday, June 3.

ONE HUNDRED AND ELEVENTH DAY

Tuesday, June 3, 1873.

The Convention met at half-past nine o'clock A. M., Hon. W. M. Meredith, President, in the chair.

The Journal of the proceedings of Thursday last was read and approved.

Yeas and Nays.

Mr. STANTON. I offer the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That the yeas and nays shall be called on any question only at the request of twenty members rising to second the call of any one member, except on the final passage of any section.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will lie on the table.

Electors and Elections.

The PRESIDENT. The second reading of the article reported by the Committee on Election, Suffrage and Representation is now in order. Will the Convention proceed with it? ("Aye." "Aye.") The article is before the House on second reading. When the House adjourned on Thursday, the ninth section of this article was under consideration. A motion was made by the delegates from Carbon (Mr. Lilly) to amend the same, in the seventh line, by striking out "two hundred" and inserting "three hundred". A motion was made by the delegate from the city (Mr. Hanna) to amend the amendment, by striking out "three", and inserting "four". The question is on the amendment to the amendment.

The amendment to the amendment was rejected.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the amendment.

The amendment was rejected.

The PRESIDENT. The question recurs on the section, which will be read.

The Clerk read as follows:

"Wards of cities or boroughs and townships shall form or be divided into election districts of compact and contigious territory in such manner as the court of quarter sessions of the city or county in which the same are located may direct: Provided, All districts in cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be divided by the courts of quarter sessions of said cities whenever the preceding elections shows the polling of more than two hundred and fifty votes, and in other election districts whenever the court of the proper county shall be satisfied that the convenience of the electors and the public interests will be promoted thereby."

The section was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1541 (Senate Bill No. 476), entitled:

An Act providing for the acquisition of land, and the erection, construction and maintenance of jails and/or workhouses by cities of the first class, providing for their management and control of same by the inspectors of existing jails or prisons and the transfer of prisoners by such inspectors.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. HEFFRAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1718, Printer's No. 712, on page 5 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1718, as follosw:

An Act authorizing the county commissioners with the approval of the court of common pleas in counties of the fourth class to establish a board for the assessment and revision of taxes providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners fixing their salaries payable by the county defining the powers and duties of such board regulating the assessment of persons property and occupations for county borough town township school and poor purposes authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors and clerks providing for their compensation payable by such counties abolishing the office of ward borough and township assessors so far as the making of assessments and valuations for taxation is concerned and providing for the acceptance of this act by cities

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage and approval of this act in any county of the fourth class there may be created by resolution of the board of county commissioners with the approval of the court of common pleas a board to be known as the Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes which shall be composed of three members who shall be appointed by the county commissioners When such board is first established under the provisions of this act in any county the members thereof shall if appointed on or before July fifteenth of any year hold office for four years from the first Monday of January of such year If appointed after July fifteenth they shall hold office for a term of four years from the first Monday of the following January Members thereafter shall be appointed for terms of four years to date from the expiration of the term of the person whom they succeed In case of a vacancy on said board due to death resignation removal or otherwise the county commissioners shall fill said vacancy for the unexpired term Each member of said board shall receive such salary as shall be fixed by the salary board which shall be payable out of the county treasury

Section 2 It shall be the duty of said board in each county to which this act applies to make and have supervision of the making of all assessments of persons property and occupations now or hereafter made subject to assessment for taxation for county borough town township school and poor purposes.

Section 3 The said board shall divide the county into convenient districts which it may change as occasion may require and shall appoint subordinate assessors for said districts The subordinate assessors shall receive such compensation as the salary board shall fix which salaries shall be paid out of the county treasury The said board shall also have the right to appoint such clerks at such salaries as the salary board of the county may allow for the proper discharge of the duties of said board which salaries shall be paid out of the county treasury

Section 4 The said board may prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of said subordinate assessors determine when precepts shall be issued to them and when they shall make returns to said board both in triennial and intermediate years

Section 5 The subordinate assessors shall make the triennial assessment of all property and persons taxable upon occupations subject to assessment for taxation for aforesaid purposes together with a list of all persons subject to a school per capita tax or a poll tax within their respective districts and in so doing shall view all properties in their district taxable for said purposes and shall make a personal house to house canvass for their district in order that the lists of persons taxable upon occupation or subject to a school per capita tax or poll tax may be accurate and correct insofar as it is possible to make them They shall also have and possess except as modified by this act the same powers and perform the same duties and be subject to the same liabilities as are now or shall hereafter be conferred or imposed upon borough ward town and township assessors with respect to making assessments and valuations for taxation purposes All such assessors who shall fail to make assessments and lists in the manner herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and in default of the payment of such fine and costs to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding ninety days

Section 6 The said board shall examine and revise the said triennial assessments and valuations increasing or decreasing the same as in their judgment may seem proper and shall add thereto and assess such property or persons taxable upon occupations as may have been omitted and may also add thereto the names of any persons subject to a school per capita tax or poll tax as may have been omitted After such revision the board shall fix convenient times for the hearing of appeals on said assessments and valuations and after the hearing of said appeals and the making of whatever changes may be considered proper the valuations as so ascertained and revised unless changed in the manner hereinafter provided shall stand as the assessments for taxation for aforesaid purposes until the next triennial assessment

Section 7 It shall be the duty of said board to give notice by advertising in one or more newspapers printed in such county at least three weeks before the day of appeal of the time and place fixed for such appeal It shall also be the duty of the said board to give written or printed notice as hereinafter provided at least five days before the day of appeal to every taxable inhabitant within such county of the amount or sum for which he stands rated and of a time and place of such appeal

Section 8 After action on such assessments by said board any dissatisfied taxable may within thirty days from the final fixing of his assessment and valuation appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the said county in the manner provided by law for appeals from assessments and it shall be the duty of the court at once to hear and determine said appeal and if necessary to make such changes therein as may be right and proper From the decision of the court an appeal may be taken to the Superior or Supreme Court as now provided by law

Section 9 The subordinate assessors shall between the triennial assessments revise any assessment or valuation according to right and equity by correcting error and by adding thereto any property or subject of taxation which may have been omitted or any new property or subject of taxation which may have come into being since the last triennial assessment

They shall also add thereto the names of any persons who have moved into such district and strike therefrom the names of any persons who have removed from such district since the last triennial assessments

The assessors shall also revise assessments and valuations between the triennial assessment by increasing or decreasing the same where the value of the property or subjects of taxation assessed or value has changed by reason of any change of conditions thereon or adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or for the reason that the property assessed or valued has been subdivided or laid out into a plan of lots or other sub-divisions or for the reason that improvements have been placed thereon or added thereto or for the reason that any public or other improvement has been made adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or where for any other reason whatsoever the value of the property has changed and it is equitable to make a change in the valuation thereof The assessors shall also between the triennial assessments in all cases where it is apparent that any assessment is not in accord with the general or uniform standard of assessments revise and correct the same by increasing or decreasing the same where the value of the property or subject of taxation assessed does not conform to the general or uniform standard of assessments Provided however That whenever assessments of property are increased or new assessments of property are added between triennial assessments as aforesaid said board shall fix convenient times for the hearing of appeals therefrom and shall give to each taxable affected by such increase or new assessment written or printed notice thereof and of the time and place of appeal which notice shall be served in the manner hereinafter provided and at least five days before the day of appeal after final action by the board on appeal from such assessments any dissatisfied taxable may appeal to the court of common pleas within the same time and in the same manner as provided in section eight of this act and may also appeal from the decision of the court of common pleas to the Supreme or Superior Court as provided in that section

Section 10 All notices required by this act may be served in manner following anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding upon the taxable personally or upon an adult person residing upon the property assessed or by posting upon the property assessed when it is vacant or unoccupied or by notice mailed to the last known address of the taxable

No defect in service of any such notice shall be sufficient ground for setting any assessment aside but upon proof thereof being made the taxable person shall have the right to a hearing before said board relative to said assessment with the same right of appeal from its decision as provided in section eight of this act

Section 11 After the hearing of any objections thereto and the making of any changes that may be deemed proper the valuations as so ascertained shall unless changed in the manner herein provided stand as the valuations for assessments for aforesaid purposes until the next triennial assessment

Section 12 No appeal taken from any such assessments made under the provisions of this act shall affect the validity of any taxes assessed but if such assessment shall thereafter be reduced an exoneration shall be granted or restitution ordered for the excess of taxes paid by reason of any improper increase in the assessment

Section 13 Upon request of any taxpayer he shall at any time receive from the board a statement of his taxable property and its valuation

Section 14 When the said valuations and assessments have been made all taxation for county borough town township school purposes (except in cities) and poor purposes within the limits of such county shall be based upon such valuations

Section 15 The office of ward borough town and township assessor as now existing in counties coming under the provisions of this act is hereby abolished insofar as respects the assessment and valuation of persons and property for taxation purposes In any county which acts under this act before July fifteenth of the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one no assessors for taxation purposes shall be elected at the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one

Section 16 The county commissioners of any such county shall have authority to prepare at the cost of the county proper maps and plans and surveys as may be deemed necessary to secure a proper and equitable assessment

Section 17 The corporate authorities of any borough town township school and poor district who may feel grieved by any assessment of property or subjects of taxation for its corporate purposes shall have the right to appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas or the Superior or Supreme Court in the same manner subject to the same procedure and with like effect as if such appeal were taken by a taxable with respect to his property

Section 18 Any city in any county wherein such a board is created under this act may become subject to the provisions of this act and the mayor and council of any such city may effect the same by an ordinance duly passed A copy of such ordinance approved by the mayor and duly certified accompanied by a statement of the vote thereon with the names of the members of council voting for and against such ordinance shall be forwarded to and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and when so filed the Governor shall under the great seal of the Commonwealth certify the acceptance of the provisions of this act which certificate shall be recorded among the minutes of the council and in the office for the recording of deeds in the proper county

From the date of the completion of such acceptance the assessment of property in such city for city and school purposes shall be done only in accordance with the provisions of this act and by the officers designated in this act

Whenever any city accepts the provisions of this act all the provisions thereof including the right to appeal from assessments as provided for other municipal districts shall apply to such city

Section 19 This act shall be in effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor

Section 20 All acts and parts of such acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar. I make this motion at the request of a number of members of the House. I want to make an announcement at this time: All members of fourth class counties are requested to meet at 8.30 next Monday evening in Room 323.

Mr. LOCKHART. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 4, 1931, at 8.00 o'clock P. M., (Eastern Standard Time.)

Mr. WISE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to, and at 2.29 o'clock P. M., the House adjourned until Monday, May 4. 1931. at 8.00 o'clock P. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1931 129th of the General Assembly

Vol. 12 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 4, 1931 No. 43

SENATE

MONDAY, May 4, 1931

The Senate met at 9.00 o'clock P. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Augustus F. Daix, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Chritian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou God of Wisdom and of Love, we regard Thy laws as just and benevolent. We believe they were produced by Thy wisdom and were intended for our good. We realize that Thy standards for our human conduct are exceedingly high. We recognize and acknowledge our human weakness and our need of Thy grace and Thy divine help in the things that are well-pleasing unto Thee. Give us Thy guidance in the performance of the tasks in hand at this session, and parden us of all our offenses; and Thy Name shall have the glory, world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. CHAPMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILLS Nos. 5, 328, 338 AND 339

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 4, 1931.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 328, Printer's No. 236, entitled, "An Act ratifying confirming and validating transactions by boards of school directors involving defects and errors of law but where there was no fraud corruption dishonesty or conspiracy to violate the law and exonerating school directors from surcharge in such cases."

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 665, entitled:

An Act to expedite and simplify the collection and payment by banks of checks and other instruments for the payment of money

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General

Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That DEFINITIONS The word "bank" when used in this act shall include any person copartnership or association or corporation engaged in the business of receiving and paying deposits of money within this Commonwealth A branch or office of any such bank shall be deemed a bank for the purpose of this act

The word "item" when used in this act means any check note or other instrument providing for the payment of money

Section 2 BANK IS AGENT FOR COLLECTION Except as otherwise provided by agreement and except as to subsequent holders of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer or indorsed specially or in blank where an item is deposited or received for collection the bank of deposit shall be agent of the depositor for its collection and each subsequent collecting bank shall be sub-agent of the depositor but shall be authorized to follow the instructions of its immediate forwarding bank and any credit given by any such agent or subagent bank therefor shall be revocable until such time as the proceeds are received in actual money or an unconditional credit given on the books of another bank which such agent has requested or accepted Where any such bank allows any revocable credit for an item to be withdrawn such agency relation shall nevertheless continue except the bank shall have all the rights of an owner thereof against prior and subsequent parties to the extent of the amount withdrawn

Section 3 ITEM ON SAME BANK A credit given by a bank for an item drawn on or payable at such bank shall be provisional subject to revocation at or before the end of the day on which the item is deposited in the event the item is found not payable for any reason Whenever a credit is given for an item deposited after banking hours such right of revocation may be exercised during the following business day

Section 4 LEGAL EFFECT OF INDORSEMENTS An indorsement of an item by the payee or other depositor "for deposit" shall be deemed a restrictive indorsement and indicate that the indorsee bank is an agent for collection and not owner of the item

An indorsement "pay any bank or banker" or having equivalent words shall be deemed a restrictive indorsement and shall indicate the creation of an agency relation in any subsequent bank to whom the paper is forwarded unless coupled with words indicating the creation of a trustee relationship and such indorsement or other restrictive indorsement whether creating an agency or trustee relationship shall constitute a guaranty by the indorser to all subsequent holders and to the drawee of payor of the genuineness of and the authority to make prior indorsements and also to save the drawee or payor harmless in the event any prior indorsement appearing thereon is defective or irregular in any respect unless such indorsement is coupled with appropriate words disclaiming such liability as guarantor

When a deposited item is payable to bearer or indorsed by the depositor in blank or by special indorsement the fact that such item is so payable or indorsed shall not change the relation of agent of the bank of deposit to the depositor but subsequent holders shall have the right to rely on the presumption that the bank of deposit is the owner of the item The indorsement of an item by the bank of deposit or by any subsequent holder in blank or by special indorsement or its delivery when payable to bearer shall carry the presumption that the indorsee or transferee is owner provided there is nothing upon the face of the paper or in any prior indorsement to indicate an agency or trustee relation of any prior party But where an item is deposited or is received for collection indorsed specially or in blank the bank may convert such an indorsement into a restrictive indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser the words "for deposit" or "for collection" or other restrictive words to negative the presumption that such bank or deposit or indorsee bank is owner and in the case of an item deposited or received for collection payable to bearer may negative such presumption by indorsing thereon the words "received for deposit" or "received for collection" or words of like import

Section 5 DUTY AND RESPONSIBILITY OF BANK COLLECTING AGENTS It shall be the duty of the initial or any subsequent agent collecting bank to exercise ordinary care in the collection of an item and when such duty is performed such agent bank shall not be responsible if for any cause payment is not received in money or an unconditional credit given on the books of another bank which such agent bank has requested or accepted An initial or subsequent agent collecting bank shall be liable for its own lack of exercise of ordinary care but shall not be liable for the neglect misconduct mistakes or defaults of any other agent bank or of the drawee or payor bank

Section 6 RULES OF ORDINARY CARE IN FORWARDING AND PRESENTMENT (a) Where an item is received on deposit or by a subsequent agent bank for collection payable in another city borough incorporated town or township it shall be deemed the exercise of ordinary care to forward such item by mail not later than the business day next following its receipt either (1) direct to the drawee or payor in the event such drawee or payor is a bank or (2) to another bank collecting agent according to the usual banking custom either located in the city borough incorporated town or township where the item is payable or in another city borough incorporated town or township

(b) Where an item is received on deposit or by a subsequent agent bank for collection payable by or at another bank in the same city borough incorporated town or township in which such agent bank is located it shall be deemed the exercise of ordinary care to present the item for payment at any time not later than the next business day following the day on which the item is received either (1) at the counter of the drawee or payor by agent or messenger or (2) through the local clearing house under the regular established procedure or according to the usual banking custom where the collecting or payor bank is located in an outlying district

(c) The designation of the above methods shall not exclude any other method of forwarding or presentment which under existing rules of law would constitute ordinary care

Section 7 ITEMS RECEIVED THROUGH THE MAIL Where the item is received by mail by a solvent drawee or payor bank it shall be deemed paid when the amount is finally charged to the account of the maker or drawer

Section 8 ITEMS LOST IN TRANSIT Where an agent bank forwards an item for collection it shall not be responsible for its loss or destruction in transit or when in the possession of others for its inability to repossess itself thereof provided there has been no lack of ordinary care on its part

Section 9 MEDIUM OF PAYMENT Where ordinary care is exercised any agent collecting bank may receive in payment of an item without becoming responsible as debtor therefor whether presented by mail through the clearing house or over the counter of the drawee or payor in lieu of money either (1) the check or draft of the drawee or payor upon another bank or (2) the check or draft of any other bank upon any bank other than the drawee or payor of the item or (3) such method of settlement as may be customary in a local clearing house or between clearing banks or otherwise Provided That whenever such agent collecting bank shall request or accept in payment an unconditional credit which has been given to it on the books of the drawee or payor or on the books of any other bank such agent collecting bank shall become debtor for such item and shall be responsible therefor as if the proceeds were actually received by it in money

Section 10 MEDIUM OF REMITTANCE Where ordinary care is exercised any agent collecting bank may receive from any subsequent bank in the chain of collection in remittance for an item which has been paid in lieu of money the check or draft of the remitting bank upon any bank other than itself or the drawee or payor of the item or such other method of settlement as may be customary Provided That whenever such agent collecting bank shall request or accept an unconditional credit which has been given to it on the books of the remitting bank or on the books of any other bank such agent collecting bank shall become debtor for such item and shall be responsible therefor as if the proceeds were actually received by it in money

Section 11 ELECTION TO TREAT AS DISHONORED ITEMS PRESENTED BY MAIL Where an item is duly presented by mail to the drawee or payor whether or not the same has been charged to the account of the maker or drawer thereof or returned to such maker or drawer the agent collecting bank so presenting may at its election exercised with reasonable diligence treat such item as dishonored by non-payment and recourse may be had upon prior parties thereto in any of the following cases

(a) Where the check or draft of the drawee or payor bank upon another bank received in payment therefor shall not be paid in due course

(b) Where the drawee or payor bank shall without request or authority tender as payment its own check or draft upon itself or other instrument upon which it is primarily liable

(c) Where the drawee or payor bank shall give an unrequested or unauthorized credit therefor on its books or the books of another bank or

(d) Where the drawee or payor shall retain such item without remitting therefor on the day of receipt or on the day of maturity if payable otherwise than on demand and received by it prior to or on such day of maturity

Provided however That in any case where the drawee or payor bank shall return any such item unpaid not later than the day of receipt or of maturity as aforesaid in the exercise of its right to make payment only at its own counter such item cannot be treated as dishonored by non-payment and the delay caused thereby shall not relieve prior parties from liability

Provided further That no agent collecting bank shall be liable to the owner of an item where in the exercise of ordinary care in the interest of such owner it makes or does not make the election above provided or takes such steps as it may deem necessary in cases (b) (c) and (d) above

Section 12 NOTICE OF DISHONOR OF ITEMS PRESENTED BY MAIL In case of the dishonor of an item duly presented by mail as provided for in the next preceding section notice of dishonor of such item to prior parties shall be sufficient if given with reasonable diligence after such dishonor and further in the event of failure to obtain the return of any such item notice of dishonor may be given upon a copy or written particulars thereof and delay in giving notice of dishonor caused by an attempt with reasonable diligence to obtain return of such item shall be excused

Section 13 INSOLVENCY AND PREFERENCES (a) When the drawee or payor or any other agent collecting bank shall fail or be closed for business by the Secretary of Banking or by action of the board of directors or by other proper legal action after an item shall be mailed or otherwise entrusted to it for collection or payment but before the actual collection or payment thereof it shall be the duty of the receiver or other official in charge of its assets to return such item if same is in his possession to the forwarding or presenting bank with reasonable diligence

(b) Except in cases where an item or items are treated as dishonored by non-payment as provided in section eleven when a drawee or payor bank has presented to it for payment an item or items drawn upon or payable by or at such bank and at the time has on deposit to the credit of the maker or drawer an amount equal to such item or items and such drawee or payor shall fail or close for business as above after having charged such item or items to the account of the maker or drawer thereof or otherwise discharged his liability thereon but without such item or items having been paid or settled for by the drawee or payor either in money or by an unconditional credit given on its books or on the books of any other bank which has been requested or accepted so as to constitute such drawee or payor or other bank debtor therefor the assets of such drawee or payor shall be impressed with a trust in favor of the owner or owners of such item or items for the amount thereof or for the balance payable upon a number of items which have been exchanged and such owner or owners shall be entitled to a preferred claim upon such assets irrespective of whether the fund representing such item or items can be traced and identified as part of such assets or has been intermingled with or converted into other assets of such failed bank

(c) Where an agent collecting bank other than the drawee or payor shall fail or be closed for business as above after having received in any form the proceeds of an item or items entrusted to it for collection but without such item or items having been paid or remitted for by it either in money or by an unconditonal credit given on its books or on the books of any other bank which has been requested or accepted so as to constitute such failed collecting or other bank debtor therefor the assets of such agent collecting banks which has failed or been closed for business as above shall be impressed with a trust in favor of the owner or owners of such item or items for the amount of such proceeds and such owner or owners shall be entitled to a preferred claim upon such assets irrespective of whether the fund representing such item or items can be traced and identified as part of such assets or has been intermingled with or converted into other assets of such failed bank

Section 14 ACT NOT RETROACTIVE The provisions of this act shall not apply to transactions taking place prior to the time when it takes effect

Section 15 CASES NOT PROVIDED FOR IN ACT In any case not provided for in this act the rules of law and equity including the law merchant and those rules of law and equity relating to trusts agency negotiable instruments and banking shall continue to apply

Section 16 UNIFORMITY OF INTERPRETATION This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 17 SHORT TITLE This act may be cited as the "Bank Collection Act of 1931"

Section 18 REPEAL All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. APPLE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to: Amend section 9, page 6, line 10, by striking out the word "collection" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "collecting."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SCOTT from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1061, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Appropriation Acts, page 181), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expense of the executive, judicial and legislative departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools, for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine."

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 813 on third reading entitled:

An Act prescribing rights and remedies and the procedure in connection with suits and recovery on bonds conditioned for the payment of material and labor furnished, supplied or performed in connection with any public work or improvement.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. MANSFIELD, Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 824 (House Bill No. 1375), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one four and nine of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 138) entitled "An act defining vocational education providing for the establishment and regulation of vocational schools and providing for State aid in the maintenance thereof and for the payment of tuition by certain school districts and reimbursement thereof by the State" as amended by providing for the acceptance of donations for such schools further defining part-time co-operative vocational education providing for payments by the Commonwealth for the maintenance of evening vocational home economics and evening vocational agricultural schools and departments and authorizing the requirement of deposit fees for entrance thereto be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, in view of the fact that there seem to be many bills coming back from the Governor, it might be well to give further study to Senate Bill No. 831, on third reading entitled:

An Act to amend section eight as amended, section ten as amended, section thirteen as amended, section sixteen as amended, section seventeen as amended, section thirty-three as amended, and section eighteen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and state-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways. and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads. and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," by providing for the recording of certain plans in the office of the Department of Highways; regulating the payment of damages for land taken for future construction; making it the duty of the Department of Highways to require an additional bond conditioned for the payment of labor and materials; providing for the restoration of highways opened under permits and providing penalties for opening of highways without permits; providing for the payment of damages for changing of grades or location of connecting roads by the county; authorizing certain charges and restoration fees for permits, authorizing payment for certain materials delivered on site of work; specifying minimum width of surface construction.

Therefore, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.
